Western Strikers Boast "Even More Tricks to Turn"

THIEF RIVER FALLS, Minn., May 28.—"Military law is coming," thus briefly did Mayor Charles Gray in a statement at noon describe the increased gravity of the industrial upheaval in Winnipeg. A little later he said that he probably should withdraw the remark since he had not consulted the Federal authorities in making the statement. Probably the Chief Executive of Winnipeg had in view the development of the day, which included refusal of the postal clerks, operators and other employees to accept the ultimatum and return to work, coupled with the order delivered this afternoon to the Mounted Police to tender the mails to the railway mail clerks and to take from the cars those clerks who while on duty refused to receive the mails. But there was nothing on the surface of the local situation forecasting military action. Volunteers were distributing and delivering mails. The phones are working normally and the volume of telegraph business handler suggests that some of the strikers must be returning to work though the union voted as a body to ignore the ultimatum. Aside from the story of stagnation and the presence on the streets of large crowds, everything indicates a normal tone.

The Strikers' Boast.

But the news of strikes at Calgary and Edmonton was received with much elation at Trades Hall with boasts that they had even more tricks to turn if their demands were not speedily met. At the headquarters of the Citizens' Committee the atmosphere was more grave over the reports of the strike spreading west and the report was confirmed tonight by the closing of wires on press matter relating to the Winnipeg strike by Calgary. The company reported that the men at Calgary simply refused to handle reports tendered the company. It is realized that firmness in dealing with the railway postal clerks may spread the strike, but the authorities reiterate their determination to move the railway mails at all costs and the citizens approve the action even though other sections are involved. As one citizen expressed it "We might as well know now just what is to happen if the government functions are restored. The time has come for action, and this is the spirit of the city." It is said that a railway mail clerk violates his oath in refusing to receive mail tendered to him while on duty. The next move of the Government in that event may provoke graver consequences if the Trade Hall threats are to mean anything, as the strikers claim this means a challenge to the great running unions, since the Government is determined to move the mail, and if not with members of the railway unions, then with volunteers. The strikers maintain that the unionism of the engineers and firemen will not permit them to operate trains on which volunteers have been substituted for the union mail clerks, but railway men scout the idea that this point can be used to draw the engineers into the contest.

A Ray of Sunshine.

A ray of sunshine was injected into the otherwise drab situation this afternoon when the 27th Battalion arrived home from the war. Thousands surrounded the depot and lined the streets. Bands played and the crowds cheered the heroes as they climbed into volunteer autos and were driven to their barracks, where they are held for the present, as they will not be demobilized in the present stress. The Fort Garry Horse and Strathcona Horse will reach the city Thursday, and those forces will be held in reserve for the present. Of the three hundred vacancies in the P. O., about fifty were filled by returning strikers today, though the union voted not to return as an organization. Tonight an animated session of the city council is under way, the members discussing Mayor Gray's message that the time has come to reorganize the municipality's forces so that it will be impossible for the city to be without regular fire-fighting forces and a police force, subject to a stroke committee's orders. The mayor's attitude is very emphatic. Tonight the railway mail clerks are holding a meeting ,though they passed a strike vote some time ago no action has been taken. As it is, C. N. R. and Dominion Express Company employees are also in secret session tonight, and much excitement and action is marked at Trades Hall, while at the citizens' headquarters a large force of volunteers are busy and the streets are lined with autos, but elsewhere the theatres are crowded and stores are open with the masses apparently in ignorance of the crisis through which the city is passing.

Senator Robertson sounded the serious but determined note today in a statement to the press, that, "The postal workers have chosen to respond to the call of the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council. They must now choose between allegiance Council and the Crown. Let them now choose between allegiance to that Council and the Crown. Let them make no mistake. The decision is final."

Addressing six thousand people at the Labor Church in Victoria Park, Rev. William Ivens said that he desired to deny publicly that the strikers had ever attempted or intended to establish a Soviet government in Winnipeg. It is the opinion very generally expressed that, in spite of the strike spreading to other cities, the conditions in Winnipeg must steadily improve, barring the possibility of the running unions being involved, which would close the city to all railway trains and present an intolerable conditions. Railway officials do not expect such a contingency.

A ROYAL WELCOME EXTENDED

On the evening of May 19th the residents of Hills River repaired en masse to the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. David Hodgson to do honor to their returned hero, Mr. Ralph MacRae.

The rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion. The stately pillars, on either side of the entrance leading from the spacious hall into the handsomely furnished parlor, were draped with the national flags, as was also the widely extended doorway between the parlor and dining room, while masses of gayly colored spring flowers with their soft green foliage enhanced the charm.

The chairman Rev. George Millar opened the entertainment by delivering a well merited eulogy to Mr. MacRae. The assembled guests then joined Mr. Millar in singing "Home Sweet Home."

Mr. MacRae enlisted at Saskatoon, and joined the Black Watch regiment formed at that place. Valiantly did Canada's men uphold the traditions of the old time regiment of that name. Aye, and added many a glorious record to it.

Ralph, like the big majority of our Island lads, is modest about his deeds performed nevertheless we know he took part in some of the severest engagements of the war, was wounded twice, returned again and yet again to his post, was in the thick of it to the end, crossed the Rhine, returned to Canada, where his people and friends are overjoyed at having him again among them, looking the picture of physical well-being despite hardships undergone.

An address of welcome was read by Leigh Hodgson, after which Mr. MacRae was presented with a "Club Bag."

The presentation was made by little Sybil Hodgson.

Mr. MacRae in fitting terms thanked his friends for their gift.

A short programme followed:

Solo, Rev. George Millar; Duet, Mrs. John Wells and Mr. Lyman Leard; Reading, Chester Hodgson; Solo, Mr. Lyman Leard; Reading, Mrs. David Hodgson; Duet, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Leard; Solo and chorus, Mr. Millar and others; Duet, Mrs. John Wells and Mr. Lyan Leard. Miss Annie Leard acceptably filled the position of pianist.

Some amusing games were then indulged in and during a lull in the fun, the hostess, assisted by some of the ladies, served ice cream and cake. A few more games interspersed with instrumental selections.

Mr. Millar voiced the sentiments of all present when he thanked Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson for their kindness and hospitality.

The proceedings were brought to a close by all joining hands and singing Auld Lang Syne followed by the National Anthem.

The happy crowd were preparing to leave when a whisper went around —Where's Dave? We're going to bounce him. The victim was found, and bounced too, good and high.

The following is the address of welcome.

To Mr. Ralph MacRae recent returned from overseas.

It is with feelings of great pride and gratitude, that we your friends and neighbors assemble here this evening to extend you a royal welcome home, and in a small way to express our appreciation of the services you have rendered your King and Country, during three years on the battle scarred fields of France and Flanders.

We say with pride, because you nobly offered yourself as a sacrifice in defense of the great ideals and principles upon which the whole fabric of civilization is based, and for us, that we might enjoy our homes in comfort and security.

With gratitude, because, having been wounded on two different occasions, which necessitated your spending some time in hospital, you were spared to return to your home and friends.

We congratulate your parents on having so heroic a son.

You have expressed your intention of going to the West, and though we dislike to see you leave us, yet we know there are wider fields of activity in that part of our grand country and we hope your chosen career will come up to all your expectations. Be sure of this, that there shall always be a warm spot, for your sunny personality, in the hearts of your friends in Hills River. As you have thus far, worn the whote flower of a blameless life, we feel confident that you will always be a credit to your native province.

And now Ralph we ask you to accept this memento, not as a reward, but as an expression of our appreciation of your heroic sacrifices.

Again we bid you welcome.

On behalf of your friends and well wishers in Hills River.
