

The Public Forum

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

TANTON AND THE CARDINAL

Your correspondent "Censor" the mountain in labor, has brought forth a mouse. From the nature of these contests it is possible to quote the whole, or in extended parts of any length.

HEALTH COMMITTEE

I am, Sir, etc., HEALTH COMMITTEE, Per. L. P. Tanton.

PROHIBITION AND THE BOOT-LEGGERS

I think that "Anglican" have slightly misconstrued reference in my former letter. I certainly had no intention of stating that those excellent citizens who favor prohibition necessarily have something in common with bootleggers.

CHURCH MEMBER

I am, Sir etc., CHURCH MEMBER

EARLY INDUSTRIAL LIFE

As we are now entering appears to be a new era in industrial life of the Maritime Provinces, it seems particularly that an endeavor should be made to preserve his data on the early industrial life of these provinces.

Question Of The Day

The following correspondence appeared in the Tribune and Geneva, Switzerland, and forwarded by Mrs. Raoul Raymond, Southport, Bernese, Switzerland.

Blizzard In Nova Scotia

ALFAX, N. S., April 8. A heavy gale, heavy snow and a rising temperature last night and this morning brought a return to winter conditions practically throughout the province.

MILBURN SCHOOL

The following is the standing of the Milburn School for the month of March:—

DAILY LESSONS IN ENGLISH

By W. L. Gordon

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Don't say "what did he do that for?" Say "why did he do that?"

BLACKHEADS

Blackheads go quickly by a simple method that just dissolves them. Get two ounces of peroxide from your drugist, rub this with a hot, wet cloth briskly over the blackheads—and you will wonder where they have gone.

That Body of Hours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

VALUE OF THE X RAY MEAL

A patient suffering with "indigestion" called upon a physician one day, and complained of inability to eat solid food.

The Question of The Tuberculosis Discoveries

Improvement of Law Promoting Temperance.

(W. L. Cotton)

Budget Debate Continued by Member from Third Prince Whose Remarks, Particularly in Connection With Agriculture, Were Received with Great Interest by the House.

Speaking on the motion of Supply in the Legislature Tuesday afternoon, April 5th, Mr. Thomas McNutt (3rd District of Prince Edward Island) as a representative of one of the largest and most influential districts in the province, to say a few words regarding the political situation as it stands today.

The Conservative Showing

He has accused the Government of being extravagant, but what do we find? We find that for the four years that they have been administering the affairs of this province they have conducted the business relatively to the public affairs within the walls of this House in such a manner that they have saved to the people of this country the sum of $18,000 when you compare it with the four years under Liberal Rule.

Daily Selections FOR Guardian Readers

April 11, 1927

REDEMPTION

The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate. Psalm 34:22.

BUILDING ON THE SAND

'Tis well to woo, 'tis well to wed, For so the world has done Since myrtles grew and roses blew.

DAILY LESSONS IN ENGLISH

By W. L. Gordon

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Don't say "what did he do that for?" Say "why did he do that?"

BLACKHEADS

Blackheads go quickly by a simple method that just dissolves them. Get two ounces of peroxide from your drugist, rub this with a hot, wet cloth briskly over the blackheads—and you will wonder where they have gone.

Able Address By Mr. Thos. McNutt

Budget Debate Continued by Member from Third Prince Whose Remarks, Particularly in Connection With Agriculture, Were Received with Great Interest by the House.

Speaking on the motion of Supply in the Legislature Tuesday afternoon, April 5th, Mr. Thomas McNutt (3rd District of Prince Edward Island) as a representative of one of the largest and most influential districts in the province, to say a few words regarding the political situation as it stands today.

The Leader of the Opposition says that if he is returned to power he will reduce taxation. This is a "chestnut" with them. I wonder who made it possible for him to make such a promise at this time?

Mr. McNutt said that the increased revenue was not obtained through any effort of the Leader of the Opposition or by his party when in office. We have them on no less authority than his former Leader, Mr. Bell, who said in vinding up his memorable speech on the Budget, after all it is the nice things we say about one another that remain with us the longest, and that are the most cherished by us.

The first bouquet I wish to throw, Mr. Speaker, is at yourself. The efficient and capable manner in which you have filled your position has added fresh laurels to the name of Jenkins. It is an old and respected name throughout the length and breadth of this province and it has been raised to a higher pinnacle by your occupancy of the Speakership of this House.

With regard to the withdrawal of the Government, every member of the Executive has played his part well. The Leader is a gentleman honored and respected by every member of his party, and in the country increasingly, and under whose guiding hand the country is perfectly safe. The "young and inexperienced" Minister of Public Works has made a brilliant showing, considering the short time he has been in the House. A brilliant career is undoubtedly before him.

In fact, actions speak louder than words. When I consider what you have accomplished in the past it is sufficient guarantee as to what they continue to accomplish. As for the members of the Opposition, I would fall in my duty if I overlooked them, for they have qualified to fill the position which they now occupy, and I feel that in voicing the sentiment of every member of this side of the House when I say that their earnest desire is that every one of the opposition members may long be spared to hold the position that they now hold.

The Opposition Leader said in his speech on the Draft Address that there are four things which the people of this province are particularly interested in, namely, Finance, Agriculture, Public Works and Education. We stand in the proud position of having $18,000 added to the subsidy which we receive from Ottawa, $40,000 of that amount was due to us in lieu of railway taxes and was secured by the presentation of the case to the proper authorities by the Premier of this province and finally presented by the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen during the short time in which he held the Premiership at Ottawa last season. The other $125,000 has been granted on the recommendation of the Duncan Commission and I doubt we shall have it in possession in the near future; so that the Government has not increased the revenue of the Province by forcing it from the hard earnings of the people—that has been the work of the Liberals, and we shall leave it with them.

The Leader of the Opposition says that if he is returned to power he will reduce taxation. This is a "chestnut" with them. I wonder who made it possible for him to make such a promise at this time?

Mr. McNutt said that the increased revenue was not obtained through any effort of the Leader of the Opposition or by his party when in office. We have them on no less authority than his former Leader, Mr. Bell, who said in vinding up his memorable speech on the Budget, after all it is the nice things we say about one another that remain with us the longest, and that are the most cherished by us.

The first bouquet I wish to throw, Mr. Speaker, is at yourself. The efficient and capable manner in which you have filled your position has added fresh laurels to the name of Jenkins. It is an old and respected name throughout the length and breadth of this province and it has been raised to a higher pinnacle by your occupancy of the Speakership of this House.

With regard to the withdrawal of the Government, every member of the Executive has played his part well. The Leader is a gentleman honored and respected by every member of his party, and in the country increasingly, and under whose guiding hand the country is perfectly safe. The "young and inexperienced" Minister of Public Works has made a brilliant showing, considering the short time he has been in the House. A brilliant career is undoubtedly before him.

In fact, actions speak louder than words. When I consider what you have accomplished in the past it is sufficient guarantee as to what they continue to accomplish. As for the members of the Opposition, I would fall in my duty if I overlooked them, for they have qualified to fill the position which they now occupy, and I feel that in voicing the sentiment of every member of this side of the House when I say that their earnest desire is that every one of the opposition members may long be spared to hold the position that they now hold.

The Opposition Leader said in his speech on the Draft Address that there are four things which the people of this province are particularly interested in, namely, Finance, Agriculture, Public Works and Education. We stand in the proud position of having $18,000 added to the subsidy which we receive from Ottawa, $40,000 of that amount was due to us in lieu of railway taxes and was secured by the presentation of the case to the proper authorities by the Premier of this province and finally presented by the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen during the short time in which he held the Premiership at Ottawa last season. The other $125,000 has been granted on the recommendation of the Duncan Commission and I doubt we shall have it in possession in the near future; so that the Government has not increased the revenue of the Province by forcing it from the hard earnings of the people—that has been the work of the Liberals, and we shall leave it with them.

The Leader of the Opposition says that if he is returned to power he will reduce taxation. This is a "chestnut" with them. I wonder who made it possible for him to make such a promise at this time?

Mr. McNutt said that the increased revenue was not obtained through any effort of the Leader of the Opposition or by his party when in office. We have them on no less authority than his former Leader, Mr. Bell, who said in vinding up his memorable speech on the Budget, after all it is the nice things we say about one another that remain with us the longest, and that are the most cherished by us.

The first bouquet I wish to throw, Mr. Speaker, is at yourself. The efficient and capable manner in which you have filled your position has added fresh laurels to the name of Jenkins. It is an old and respected name throughout the length and breadth of this province and it has been raised to a higher pinnacle by your occupancy of the Speakership of this House.

With regard to the withdrawal of the Government, every member of the Executive has played his part well. The Leader is a gentleman honored and respected by every member of his party, and in the country increasingly, and under whose guiding hand the country is perfectly safe. The "young and inexperienced" Minister of Public Works has made a brilliant showing, considering the short time he has been in the House. A brilliant career is undoubtedly before him.

In fact, actions speak louder than words. When I consider what you have accomplished in the past it is sufficient guarantee as to what they continue to accomplish. As for the members of the Opposition, I would fall in my duty if I overlooked them, for they have qualified to fill the position which they now occupy, and I feel that in voicing the sentiment of every member of this side of the House when I say that their earnest desire is that every one of the opposition members may long be spared to hold the position that they now hold.

The Opposition Leader said in his speech on the Draft Address that there are four things which the people of this province are particularly interested in, namely, Finance, Agriculture, Public Works and Education. We stand in the proud position of having $18,000 added to the subsidy which we receive from Ottawa, $40,000 of that amount was due to us in lieu of railway taxes and was secured by the presentation of the case to the proper authorities by the Premier of this province and finally presented by the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen during the short time in which he held the Premiership at Ottawa last season. The other $125,000 has been granted on the recommendation of the Duncan Commission and I doubt we shall have it in possession in the near future; so that the Government has not increased the revenue of the Province by forcing it from the hard earnings of the people—that has been the work of the Liberals, and we shall leave it with them.

The Leader of the Opposition says that if he is returned to power he will reduce taxation. This is a "chestnut" with them. I wonder who made it possible for him to make such a promise at this time?

Mr. McNutt said that the increased revenue was not obtained through any effort of the Leader of the Opposition or by his party when in office. We have them on no less authority than his former Leader, Mr. Bell, who said in vinding up his memorable speech on the Budget, after all it is the nice things we say about one another that remain with us the longest, and that are the most cherished by us.

The first bouquet I wish to throw, Mr. Speaker, is at yourself. The efficient and capable manner in which you have filled your position has added fresh laurels to the name of Jenkins. It is an old and respected name throughout the length and breadth of this province and it has been raised to a higher pinnacle by your occupancy of the Speakership of this House.

With regard to the withdrawal of the Government, every member of the Executive has played his part well. The Leader is a gentleman honored and respected by every member of his party, and in the country increasingly, and under whose guiding hand the country is perfectly safe. The "young and inexperienced" Minister of Public Works has made a brilliant showing, considering the short time he has been in the House. A brilliant career is undoubtedly before him.

In fact, actions speak louder than words. When I consider what you have accomplished in the past it is sufficient guarantee as to what they continue to accomplish. As for the members of the Opposition, I would fall in my duty if I overlooked them, for they have qualified to fill the position which they now occupy, and I feel that in voicing the sentiment of every member of this side of the House when I say that their earnest desire is that every one of the opposition members may long be spared to hold the position that they now hold.

The Opposition Leader said in his speech on the Draft Address that there are four things which the people of this province are particularly interested in, namely, Finance, Agriculture, Public Works and Education. We stand in the proud position of having $18,000 added to the subsidy which we receive from Ottawa, $40,000 of that amount was due to us in lieu of railway taxes and was secured by the presentation of the case to the proper authorities by the Premier of this province and finally presented by the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen during the short time in which he held the Premiership at Ottawa last season. The other $125,000 has been granted on the recommendation of the Duncan Commission and I doubt we shall have it in possession in the near future; so that the Government has

William IV. 1830-1837

The negative reign of William IV. inspired the great Political, Moral and Artistic renaissance which made the Victorian era such a glorious chapter in British history.

One of the glorious chapters in the history of smoking unfolded its pages with the introduction of REX Cigarettes. Made of the finest Virginia straight cut tobacco, they are an inspiration for every smoker—a royal pleasure of royal quality.

REX KING OF CIGARETTES

he expected. It was far too expensive to be inspected or allowed to ex-citation. Judging from the rapid sale for the results obtained. For a bit at the Seed Fair, and they grow in this industry a bright the sake of comparison I may say are not allowed to draw their future is in store for those who are for your information, that in the own exhibits from the bin, but this fortunate one is to be connected year 1922 there were 166 pupils entered is taken by a Seed Inspector with it.

rolled according to the report. During the season of 1926 and he is not allowed to compete the number of pupils taking the seed course was 531, and in bushel, and for seed wheat ten bushel, basic industry; it is up to the Government to lead the way or assist technical courses was 531, and in bushel, and for seed wheat ten bushel, basic industry; it is up to the Government to lead the way or assist the total cost of all this was $13,000 of the in every way possible. This proposed. The fact that the number at Agricultural Report you will see which has made a name for itself, and it stands high in the new movement in regard to the standard of our potatoes, seed grain, seeds, and instruction given. Nova Scotia We might just turn to these, poultry, but we must not stop here, we must go forward along which they had established, having My hon. friend the Leader of the Opposition cannot but see the advantage which they pursue to pay the cost of their boys to and from the fair, and must forget those early Seed to learn that a considerable increase is to be made in the Agriculture estimates over last year, and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

and that the present system is a and that the present system is a and that the present system is a

Advertisement for The National City Company, Limited, featuring a circular logo with 'NATIONAL CITY COMPANY' and 'CANADA' text. The ad promotes investment bonds and lists various services and branches across Canada.