THE extension of the rails along the water front to Dominion wharf promises, if indications are correct, soon to be a reality. It is understood that Minister of Railways Emmerson has promised that the work will at once be proceeded with.

EASTERN NOTES.—The Dominion election is over, the victors exulting, the vanquished dejected. The day passed quietly here. A small quantity of whiskey used very judiciously and the usual election tactics, brought nearly the whole voting population to the polls, some for the first time, some far past the allotted span, who years ago had lost interest in nearly all earthly matters.
