

Here's good news

Lessens shaving irritation

Men with tender skin discovered this luxury shave. They found that after their faces felt cool and smooth, and that their razors never pulled. They passed the idea on to their friends, and now there's quite a group of "Vaseline" shavers. They are not all men with tender skins and, tough beards, either. ANY man's face, normal or sensitive, shows its gratitude for this simple, soothing treatment.

Wouldn't you like to join this comfort club? Membership is open. All you have to do is spread a thin film of "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly over the beard before you shave. Lather as usual. Your razor strokes quicker and closer and your face looks and feels better. The "Vaseline" Jelly heals any little nicks or scratches, too, and softens dry or chapped skin.

Try it once and you'll never shave without "Vaseline" Jelly. You can buy it in jars or tubes at all good drug stores. Chesbrough Manufacturing Company, Consolidated, 5520 Chabot Avenue, Montreal, Canada.

Printer Frets As Shaw Delays Proof On Books

By HENRY T. RUSSELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, April 17.—A card from George Bernard Shaw on which GBS described him as "my collaborator," is prized among the numerous valuable souvenirs of William Maxwell, printer of the works of Thomas Hardy, Shaw, Kipling, Walpole and other distinguished writers.

Maxwell, who last year was president of the Federation of Master Printers, told the United Press how he happened to receive the unique Shavian compliment.

Shaw had rejected as unsatisfactory several models embodying his own ideas as to how his Intelligent Women's Guide to Socialism and Capitalism should be printed. Maxwell then produced his own design for the book and sent it to the famous author. It was accepted with the following comment: "You've solved all my difficulties and are going to make me a perfect book."

Autograph Copy

"And when the book was presented," explained Maxwell, "GBS was good enough to send me a copy autograph and inscribed: 'To William Maxwell, my collaborator in the making of this book.'"

Discussing the amount of work entailed in the printing that 20 men were at present employed exclusively on Shaw assignments: "His books are always being reprinted," he added. Then, smiling:

But you never, know what comes next with Shaw," he continued. "For instance, there is the case of his collected edition. It was begun more than ten years ago! One thing after another interposed. First his St. Joan interrupted the progress. My compositors had been occupied with the setting up of the collected edition for months, but GBS would not look at any proofs while he was writing, then rehearsing and producing St. Joan. When this was all over we breathed a sigh of relief, for work on the collected edition would now be resumed—but not for long.

Let'er Became Book

"One day, Shaw sat down to reply to a letter from his sister-in-law. 'After I had written the first few lines,' he told me, 'I knew I would write a volume. It was the Intelligent Woman's Guide. Again the collected edition had to be shelved: after which work was once more resumed. But it was too good to be true. One morning I received a card from GBS: 'Last night I slept well,' he wrote, 'When I woke up this morning everything was bright and sunny—so I started a new play. What price your collected edition now?' That was 'The Apple Cart.' Only after this production did GBS consent to resume work on the edition of which about two-thirds of the volumes have now been published."

Maxwell tells many good stories about famous authors and he has a collection of authors' proofs, manuscripts, autograph letters and books which is believed to be unique. Among these are two charming letters from Thomas Hardy about Mary Queen of Scots and Bonnie Annie Laurie, written not long before his death, following Maxwell's last visit to the great English novelist.

Although the largest companies in Trinidad have been curtailing output, oil production there last year was four times that of 10 years ago.

WILMOT VALLEY

Most of the car owners in this vicinity are getting their cars in shape for the coming season, and as soon as the roads are in good travelling condition, will be ready to start the summer's driving.

Excelsion Division, Sons of Temperance, Wilmot Valley, is getting up a play.

We regret to learn that Mr. Dorris Hogg, Wilmot, is confined to his bed with a sore knee, but we hope he will soon be around again.

The roads in a great many sections have still large quantities of snow, which will likely have to be shovelled before making wheeling possible. However, the sun is rapidly accomplishing what would take human agencies a much longer time to perform.

Wood-sawing is in progress around this district, as most of citizens were not fortunate enough in getting same done before the large quantities of snow made this impossible. Mr. W. Hogg is going to be kept busy for a while.

Mr. Henry Crozier has all his lumber hauled for his new house and hopes to start re-building in the near future.

The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Durant, who has been ill at her grandmother's in Summerside for the past several weeks with whooping cough and double pneumonia, is, we are glad to report, doing nicely and will be alright shortly. Incidentally, the other three children are also only recovering from whooping cough.

Miss Mayne, teacher of Wilmot school, spent the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mayne, Emerald.

The last hockey match between the North Bedeque Pirates and the Central Bedeque Beavers, on March 27th, was very skillfully refereed by Mr. Clayton Green, of Central Bedeque, and resulted in a score of 4-2 in favor of the Beavers.

House cleaning is now the order of the day in this vicinity. It is a very good time to do this work, as the roads are too bad to visit or travel.

Rev. Mr. Ashdown, of the Presbyterian Church, Kensington, was a visitor to Wilmot Valley and Kelvin on the 9th instant, making a few pastoral calls among the members of his congregation. Rev. Dr. Ashdown is becoming quite popular in the work at Kensington.—W.

STRATHCONA WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.—On March 11th the monthly meeting of the Strathcona Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Burdett with nine members and one visitor present. Meeting opened with singing the Institute Ode followed with repeating the Creed. Roll call was answered with "Ways of Removing Stains." Minutes were read and approved. Sick committee reported making one sick call. School committee reported that the stove was not safe and the porch doorstep needed repairs, also suggested getting a new dust pan. The Secretary was ordered to get a dust pan and the stove and doorstep was left to the School Trustees to repair. Sick and School committees, also Programme and Lunch committees were appointed for next month. Programme for the evening was a reading by Mrs. Alex. MacKay and singing by Mrs. Henry Burdett and Miss Elsie Brown. Next meeting to be at the home of Mrs. Malcolm McLeod. Roll call to be house-cleaning hints. Meeting closed with singing the National Anthem.

FRENCH TOWNS WITH SAME NAMES CONFUSE POST OFFICE

PARIS, April 18.—Nervous and overworked with the confusion resulting from too many French villages of the same name, the French Postal Department has started a movement to simplify French postal addresses.

France is divided into 88 departments which in turn are divided into thousands of communes and villages. In these 88 departments the name Saint Maurice is the most popular, while Saint Remy comes second with 18. Other popular saints are Saint Michel and Sainte Colombe with 15 each, Saint Martin and Saint Sauveur with 14.

Since none of these villages wish to give up the name of their protecting saint, the post office officials are suggesting that they add some sort of prefix or suffix to distinguish them.

MISSOURI'S HISTORIC COLUMNS THREATENED

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 18.—(U.P.)—The historic columns of the University of Missouri, scarred by five and a half years of destruction by water, if something is not done to protect them.

An examination is being made to see just how much damage already has been done. It is feared that cracks in the top are extending downward through the stone, admitting water which is slowly splitting the pillars.

75-Year-Old Sufferer Relieved of Rheumatism

Fort Lorne, N. B., April 20.—Mr. Lewis, a well-known local resident, makes his statement in order that other rheumatic sufferers may find the way to health. "I fell and hurt my shoulder badly in 1923. Neuritis set in, and the pain was intense. I used different liniments, but without avail. Then I used Nerviline. What a wonderful liniment it must be. It restored me, and I have never had neuritis since. I am 75 years of age, and may say that my wife uses Nerviline for cramps and pains; in fact, Nerviline is our family medicine. We would not think of being without it in our home."—Handley Lewis. Nerviline is composed of seven of the most powerful pain-subduing substances known. For all rheumatic conditions, neuralgia, sore muscles, stiff joints, it will bring ease and comfort in a short time. Fifty years in use.

APRIL MEETING—The regular monthly meeting of the Orwell Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. McInnis on April 16th, with six members and five visitors present. The president being absent, Mrs. Hughes was appointed to act as president for the meeting. The meeting opened by repeating the Creed. Roll call was answered by "House-cleaning Hints." The minutes of the last meeting were read and signed. The sick committee reported having visited the sick and brought fruit. It was moved and seconded that all bills be paid. It was decided to dispose of the quilt by lottery. Miss Goldie McInnis kindly printed books for same. Three humorous readings by Misses May Darrah, Goldie McInnis and Mary Morrissey. Plans were made for the holding of a dance in the near future. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mary Morrissey, roll call to be answered by "My Favorite Flower and How to Grow it." The meeting then closed by singing "God Save the King." Lunch was then served by the hostess.

offer economical hauling for every business

WHEREVER hauling equipment is used or needed, Ford commercial units offer long, reliable service at low cost. Because of their low price, they keep the original investment in hauling equipment at a minimum. After many thousands of miles of faithful service, the operating economy of Ford units becomes strikingly apparent, serving to emphasize their value for every hauling purpose.

carrying any of the weight of truck or load. A straddle-mounted pinion insures constant alignment of pinion and ring-gear, prolonging the life of these parts. Torque-tube drive is used, to relieve rear springs of all but their normal function of absorbing shocks. The steel-disc wheels permit free circulation of air around brake-drums.

How well Ford units meet the different requirements of various businesses is shown by their records of excellent service in almost every industry, in all parts of Canada.

The light-commercial chassis For delivery purposes, and for all light hauling where speed, reliability and economy are of importance, the Ford light-commercial chassis has proved its value equally with the Ford truck. It is built to strictest standards of excellence, in design, materials and workmanship, and will give long service under difficult conditions of road and load. Four factory-built bodies are available for this chassis, and others, for special purposes, are readily obtainable. A factory-built closed cab, equipped with shatterless glass windshield for safety, can be supplied with all Ford chassis.

The 1 1/2-ton truck For heavy hauling, the Ford truck offers rugged strength, alert and capable performance, safety, reliability, and long life. Bodies for every hauling need are available through Ford dealers everywhere. With the 1 1/2-ton chassis, there is a choice of 131 1/2-inch or 157-inch wheelbase, single or dual rear wheels, 6.6 or 5.14 rear-axle gear-ratios.

Among the prominent users of large numbers of Ford units are the Canadian Pacific Express Company, Bell Telephone Company of Canada, Standard Brands, Ltd., Canadian National Railways, and many others.
