Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills CURED.

Read what Miss L. L. Hanson, Water-side, N. B., says: "I feel it my duty to express the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. A year ago last spring I began to have heart failure. At first I would have to stop working and lie down for a while. Then I got so bad I had to give up altogether and go to bed. I had several doctors attend me but they did me no good. I could get no relief until urged by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Before I had used three quarters of a box I began to feel the benefit and by the time I had taken three boxes I was completely cured."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure nervousness, sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart, skip beats, and all troubles arising from the heart or nerves.

ALL NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST

The Booklovers' of which a branch is being established in Charlottetown, is a circulating library of absolutely new books. After a book has been listed six months it is withdrawn and transferred to some other library department. There are never more than three hundred books in its catalogue, and a new edition of this catalogue, or bulletin, as it is called, is issued on the first day of each month and delivered free to members. If fifty new books have been added since the last issue, fifty new books which have appeared in the catalogue six times are withdrawn. This policy makes it possible to give Booklovers members a service "no" from the press" of the very newest publications. Members order their books from this monthly catalogue, and are entitled to receive the very books ordered. Cultured people love to look into books, browse through them, find out for themselves what they are all about. The Booklovers Library makes twelve million book exchanges a year. It is not only the largest circulating library in the world, but as a popular literary and educational factor in American life, it is conceded to stand next in importance to the public press. There are some features which specially commend the Booklovers to those who appreciate a comfortable and inviting service. It carries all of the best books, and has them immediately upon publication; there is no waiting until some one returns a book; the Library buys to meet the demand, no matter how many copies may be needed. It delivers its books in attractive cloth cases made specially for the service; when copies become soiled or damaged, they are immediately withdrawn and new copies substituted. It delivers and exchanges books at the homes of its members—in weekly districts by its own library coaches and in monthly districts by the library messengers. It keeps its members informed promptly regarding all new books of special value or of unusual interest. It issues special catalogues of (1) French books, (2) German books. The Booklovers gives its members the very books they ask for if ordered according to the simple conditions of the order card, and it permits its members to keep the books as long as they choose. The library rules are very simple. The agents in this city are Hazard & Moore and they are now soliciting subscribers for the library.
