

Baby's bottles safely clean

MOTHERS know the danger of the slightest bit of impurity in baby's food. To cleanse bottles and nipples thoroughly, yet easily, modern mothers use Lux this way:

Just drop a few pure Lux diamonds in each bottle, add warm water, shake— instant rich, cleansing suds fill the bottle. With a long-handled brush press the suds over every bit of the inside surface of the bottle. Rinse and boil the bottles for 10 minutes.

Pure Lux suds cleanse nipples, too, inside and out. And Lux is so absolutely sanitary— used fresh each time.

Keep everything concerned with baby's food safely clean with Lux.

THE STORY

Alice Andover sank weakly into a chair. "I might have known it. That's the thanks I get. That's how folks take to good, honest, conscientious administration. And then the audacity to invite me to the party."

"Oh, please come! She'll be so disappointed if you don't come. She wants you to see how cleverly she has managed."

"Oh, I'll come. And since she's got the unmitigated audacity to have a Christmas party in spite of my orders, I'll send my presents as usual. Oh, I always give little things—people been here for years—all in the family, you know, and I being the administrator. So you can tell the foolish old woman I'll send my present as usual. I've never missed one of Auntalmiry's parties yet, not since the first devil-cursed one fifty years ago, when—"

"Oh, don't. She—she thinks maybe he is the Unknown soldier at Washington; she—"

Alice Andover stared. She opened her mouth, closed it with great firmness and blinked hard at times.

"Unknown Soldier!—Good heavens. What next? Then she added humorously with bright glint in her gray eyes. "Well, whatever he is thank God, it is unknown. That's all I've got to say for Buddy Bridges—Unknown Soldier."

The next day Rand climbed the tall pine and strung it with Christmas lights from topmost point to lowest branches, round and round, a hundred little colored bulbs, and connected them to a switch beside the window where Auntalmiry could turn it on before the party. Auntalmiry was enchanted with the idea of wiring the tall pine; she had not dreamed of such a novel welcome to her Christmas guests. For days before the party she talked of little else.

It was only three days before Christmas, the twenty-second of December, in the thick darkness of the early evening, that Ronald Ingram came again.

He entered hurriedly, his manner for the first time showing something troubled, something furtive. He glanced over his shoulder nervously, and closed the door behind him swiftly.

"I shouldn't have come," he began hastily. "But I had to. I came to Scotland to close up some contracts, and I simply stole the time and made the trip over on the afternoon boat to see you. I must catch the first boat back. Short—but I had to see you. Gay, I have thought of you constantly. Your voice has swum before my eyes, your voice rung in my ears, the light little touch of your fingers."

"You are not going to Boston," she said bitterly. "You are going into these woods, to lie under the pines and watch the clubhouse, and try to catch those murderers. They'll catch you, first, Rand, don't please don't. What business is it of yours if they break the law? What are their affairs to us? Why should you risk your life—"

Goitre Not a Disease

MILWAUKEE DOCTOR MAKES REMARKABLE DISCOVERY

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rook, Dept. 797, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rook is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Write him today.—Adv.

OUR DAIRY BUSINESS

Milk should be protected from freezing during the winter months, but where it has been subjected to freezing temperature its value as a food product, and particularly for use in the manufacture of cheese, has not been materially affected, declared J. C. Marquardt, dairy specialist at the Experiment Station, Geneva, N. Y., in commenting on tests with frozen milk made in the station dairy laboratories. "A good quality cheese has been made from frozen milk in our laboratory with a slight modification of the cheese-making process," he says, adding that in his opinion partially frozen milk should not be discriminated against at the cheese factory.

COMMON PROBLEM

"The utilization of frozen milk is a problem which confronts the dairy industry each year," says Mr. Marquardt. "The sanitary qualities of milk are not changed by freezing, for freezing is a factor in preventing the development of bacteria in milk. This could be considered as improving the sanitary quality of the milk, so that freezing has no detrimental effect upon the healthfulness of the product."

How best to use Vicks VapoRub

- 1. AS A PREVENTIVE
Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils, also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors.
- 2. IF A COLD STARTS
If possible, go home and go to bed. Apply hot wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel.
Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice.
Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body to throw off the cold more quickly.
- 3. AFTER A FLU ATTACK
Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after Influenza. Then, more than ever, colds, attacking the weakened system may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble, or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks.
Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal and treat it promptly without "dosing."

1918-- AND NOW

In the present epidemic as in 1918, Vicks is proving to be the family standby in millions of homes. In spite of increased equipment it is again necessary to run the laboratories night and day.

FEW MODERN AUTHORS LEAVE MANUSCRIPTS

LONDON, Jan. 18.—At a London auction the other day the record sum of $37,500 was paid by Dr. Samuel Rosenbach of Philadelphia for five pages of the original manuscript of "The Pickwick Papers." Although high prices are paid for first editions of modern authors of note, it is unlikely any great value will be attached to the "manuscripts" of their works. Every author nowadays, either at first or second hand, makes use of the typewriter. Hence the disappearance of any auction value in the original work.

"The value in original works in an author's own handwriting lies in the fact that they give an insight into the workings of an author's mind," a member of the well-known firm of Sotheman, book dealers, told the Daily Mail. "In handwriting there is something much more personal than is possible to obtain from type-written script. It affords an index to the character of the author."

George Bernard Shaw, almost alone among modern authors, corrects his typed manuscripts in his own handwriting and therein leaves something of the real Shavian character in his manuscripts.
