KEEPING UP APPEARANCE IN FAMILY CIRCLE KEEPS LOVE ALIVE SAYS PSYCHOLOGIST

A shave a day might keep divorce away. Protruding whiskers, like protruding petticoats ,are hazardous to family happiness, says Dr Garry C. Myers, head of the department of parent education, Cleveland college.

Whether a man will kiss his wife daily or not, he cant' afford to be a porcupine. He should remember that she has to look at him occasionally, and if there are children, they should be considered. A certain little girl of two told her father she didn't want to kiss him any more because of the "slivers on his face." That's an awful price to pay for laziness.

One good way for man and wife to keep alive their mutual affection is for each to strive to cultivate the nice amenities of their earlier sweetheart days. All too many married couples, after the glow of the honeymoon has dimmed, will let themselves lower to the level of the commonplace; and in this respect the man is probably worse than the woman. All of us husbands need constantly to discipline ourselves to exercise at home proper personal neatness and the social graces. If only we could hold ourselves strictly to good manner toward our loved ones.

When in any or all these matters we grow slovenly, we bespeak our lack of regard for the other's personality, and this in turn renders us less tolerant of the other and more ready to be disagreeable.

Once I was an unexpected guest in a certain lovely home, arriving before the father did. Soon I heard footsteps in the kitchen, then on the back stairs. The mother explained that it was her husband. "You see, because of his work his hands and clothes are soiled when he comes home, and he never wants me or the children to greet him until he has shaved, bathed and put on fresh clothes." Later he arrived looking tip-top having prepared not for company but for his family, for he did not know a guest was present until I met him. The mother was attractively attired, also.

Soap and water are very cheap. Almost anyone can afford a daily bath, shower, shine, toothbrust exercise and fresh garments.

Now it might be difficult for a wife to reform a husband who has grown slovenly. Her best way, however, is to express warmly affectionate approval when he does "spruce-up"— a good time for her to exercise her feminine charms on him.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE SUFFERERS OFTEN OVEREAT

The medical correspondent of The London Morning Post believes many men are overfed by their wives when they have very high blood pressure.

"A word to the wife about diet is advisable. Certainly, every patient who combines excessive weight with a raised blood pressure is adding an unnecessary load to an already overworked heart,' the correspondent says.

"Too fat, overfed by wife," is, according to the expert writing on this subject, unfortunately too often the explanation. When a patient with abnormal blood pressure has some symptoms of early failure of the circulatory system it is an entirely different matter. It is advised that a period in bed is essential, followed by careful curtailing of all his activities.

BRITAIN'S WOMAN TEA TASTER EARNS $5,000 A YEAR

Miss Margaret Irvng, the only woman tea-taster and wholesale buyer in the British Isles, entered her present London firm's employment as a junior girl clerk at a salary of $7.50 a week. When she was promoted from the accountants' department to the sales room she began out of curiosity to taste the teas after the tasters had finished with them. Impressed by her interest in tasting, her chief one day asked her what she thought of the various samples. She picked the best tea on a day when for once even the tasters had made the wrong choice —and so began her career as a taster. Later her eye for a good tea proved so quck and sure that she was pomoted to buy as well as taste for the firm. She may not even yet have reached the peak of her career, for tea-tasting experts have been known to earn as much as $12,500 a year, or $250 a week

Rev. B. MacLean New Bible Secretary

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—Rev. Brenton Vans MacLean, B.A., minister of Lanark United Church, is the new district secretary of the Ottawa auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society of Canada and Newfoundland He was elected unanimously at last night's meeting of the executive, under the chairmanship of Dr. F. H. Gisborne, K.C., I.S.O., president of the branch. Mr. MacLean was born in Prince Edward Island, graduated with the degree of B.A. from Dalhousie University, and received his theological education in Pine Hill College, Halifax, N. S.

Ordained in 1921, Mr. MacLean has been minister of Tyne Valley Presbyterian Church, P. E. I., Glensanfield Presbyterian church, Ont., Montreal East United church and Lanark United Church since 1928.

The new district secretary will take over his duties on October 1. Rev. H. D. Marr, of Calgary, who has been serving the auxiliary since the sudden death of Rev. W. F. Crawford on May 31, will remain in Ottawa until October 15, to assist Mr. MacLean in taking over his new task.

The new appointment is subject to the approval of the General Board of the society, and permission of Renfrew Presbytery, of which Mr. MacLean is a member. Rev. J. B. M. Armour, of Toronto, general secretary of the society in Canada, was present at last night's meeting, in the Bible House, Lisgar street, and said there had been a number of applicants for the post. He recommended the new appointee with confidence.

Dr. Gisborne welcomed the new secretary, following the vote of the meeting, which was largely attended, and Mr. MacLean responded. He said he was honored by the invitation to accept the office, and promised to help all churches he could in every possible way.

At the request of the president, Rev. Robert Gamble offered prayer for Mr. MacLean in his new undertaking.

RED-HEADED MEN

Astonishing prescriptions are contained in a medical book published in London in 1669, once owned by William Penn, and recently presented to the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science.

One prescription requires as an ingredient "the carcus of a red-haired man (whose blood is thinned and fresh therefore better), whole and sound twenty-four years old, not dying of disease, but killed." The precise use of this "drug" is not mentioned.

"This remedy probably originated hundreds of years before the book was written," says Dr. Julius W. Sturmer, dean of science in the Philadelphia College.

"Red heads were scarce in southern Europe, particularly among the Romans. Any light-haired men were therefore very noticeable, and being usually from the north were considered barbarians or else were slaves or captives in war.

"Those who devised the prescription were doubtless careful that neither they nor their family should be called on to fill it."

The most drastic prescription apparently was the "blood of a young man taken in May," which was "distilled in a small glass still," but in case the young man could not be taken in May goat's blood was offered as aremedy.

"The goat is a cheerful creature, swift, proud, quick of hearing, and ravenous," adds the book, but nothing is said about the young man in the case being cheerful.

A cure which might prove expensive was made of rubies, "either drunk or hung around the neck." Among the virtues of this cure were those of preserving against the plague, evil dreams, and "frightful thoughs." It also "kept the baby safe."

HERE FROM CALIFORNIA—Mr. J. D. MacGowan from Eureka, California, is visiting his relatives and friends at Kilmuir. Mr. MacGowan first went to the States in 1898 and has not been here since 1930 when he paid a visit. Coming into the city by auto yesterday, he was amazed at the evident prosperity of the Island, especially with the fine buildings on the farms along the Old Town Road. California is a dairying country, but nowhere there could he say were the evident signs of general prosperity among the farmers, or ranchers as they are called, compared with what is to be seen here. Mr. MacGowan was in the lumber industry, and states that there has been a steady improvement in employment there during the past two or three years. California is the State the population of which increases most rapidly, it being a convenient centre for both Europeans and Asiatics.

BAPTIST CHURCH CENTENNIAL — Tomorrow and following days through the week the Baptist Church commemorates the centennial of its founding by a little band of faithful people as a great adventure of faith one hundred years ago. Dr. F. W. Patterson, President of Acadia University, one of the most outstanding speakers in Eastern Canada, will preach morning and evening. Miss Vera H. Malcolm Campbell, Mus. Mac., of Campbellton, N.B., who is assisting in the music of the day will sing in the morning, "Come unto me" from Handel's Messiah, and in the evening "These Are They" from Gaul's Holy City. Mr. V. B. I. S. MEETING—The regular monthly meeting of the Benevolent Irish Society was held Thursday evening, with President James H. McKenna in the chair. There was a large attendance. Several new members were initiated and a large number of applications received, which shows that the Society is still making rapid progress. The report of the social activities of the society, given by the President, showed that it was very successful and is improving more satisfactorily than ever, financially. The report of the chairman Mr. H. W. Dalton, showed a decrease over the previous months, due to the work supplied by the government and city, which is a wonderful help to the people who are in need of it. After several short items were settled the meeting came to a close.

ELECTRIC STRUCTURAL ENGINEER VISITS HERE—Mr. J. Preston Tuplin, B.Sc., of Reading, Penn., is at present visiting Charlottetown renewing old friendships. Mr. Tuplin is a native of New Annan, and was educated at Prince of Wales College and McGill University, entering the latter in 1884, graduating in Civil Engineering (B.Sc.) in 1889. Since then Mr. Tuplin has taken up his residence in the United States, following the profession of structural engineering, being connected with the Associated Gas and Electric Co. which controls the local electric light plant. His last visit here was in 1930. On the present occasion he travelled by boat from New York to Boston and from Boston to Saint John, arriving at the Canadian National Hotel here on Wednesday. He left on a visit to Summerside today. Mr. Tuplin was not aware that there was a proposal for the city to take over the electric plant. He thought it would be a mistake. If anything went wrong with the machine, the city would be greatly handicapped, whereas in the case of the Associated Gas and Electric, they have spare machines which they can ship at the least possible notice to replace the damaged one. The Company is noted for its economy in production and efficiency in service. They take the greatest percentage of electricity from a load of coal that is possible and insist upon giving an efficient service to their customers. It would be a serious matter, say, for Charlottetown to have to replace a $75,000 machine at a moment's notice, whereas with the Company, with so many spares, it would be nothing to speak of.

W. M. S. MEETING—The Womens Missionary Society of Zion Church met in regular session on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 9th. The President, Mrs. F. A. A. Mutch presided. After devotional exercises and the regular routine of business were disposed of, plans were made for the activities of the Society during the Fall months. A letter from Miss Gladys Murphy a foreign missionary in Kobe, Japan, was read by Miss Janie Patterson and greatly appreciated. Cards of thanks were read by the Secretary from members who had been ill, to whom the Society had sent flowers and fruit. Mrs. A. A. MacDonald, Mrs. C. W. Patterson and Miss Marion MacLennan were appointed delegates to attend the annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Society (E.D.) which will be held in Halifax, Sept. 23rd and 24th.
