DEBATE ON THE ADDRESS

extent that we could place our bacon on the British market, which is the very best, and if we could get a foothold there, we might hold out against the comers when the trade we now have will have declined to a certain extent.

SEED FAIRS.

Reference was made by the member from Summerside (Mr. Saunders) to seed fairs and especially that in Summerside, which he said was not as good as it was in previous years. I thought it was a good fair. There was an excellent show and considerable interest was taken in the fair. I am told the entries in grain were larger by far than in previous years, but there were no meetings. Does the hon. gentleman know why the fair was not what it was in former years? He is aware that for the last two years there has been no satisfactory place in which to hold a fair. If he was there the year before he would have found that the fair was held in a small place, poorly lighted and not nearly large enough. The Agricultural Hall was in the hands of the Militia Department.

Mr. SAUNDERS: What about this year? HON. Mr. MCKINNON: This year it is still in the hands of the Militia Department, but we were able to get one room of it this year. When I was in Summerside some time before the fair they were then in doubt as to whether they would hold it or not. They did not know whether they could get a building or not. But they held the fair. They held a meeting in the same room where they exhibited, which was the only room available, and it speaks volumes for the interest they look in it that they were able to hold even one meeting under such circumstances. The conditions were extremely unfavourable and the fair could not be expected to be as satisfactory for every point of view as it was under more auspicious circumstances. However, everything considered, they did exceedingly well. They held a meeting in that small room. Did the hon. gentleman expect them to hold meetings there morning, noon and night? Mr. SAUNDERS: Why wasn't the fair held in Charlottetown? HON. Mr. MCKINNON: The fair was not held in Charlottetown for the same reason that it was held in Summerside. The Committee decided that it should be so. These fairs, the hon. gentleman must know, are now conducted by committees of farmers. It is the policy of the Department in this, as well as in several other matters, to assist where assistance is required, but as soon as the farmers are able to manage and conduct them for themselves then they are allowed to do so. In the case of Charlottetown the Committee decided that it should not be held. In this they decided wisely, as the day before the exhibition was to have been held there was not a train moving in the province. The morning of the exhibition there were five or six lots of exhibits, owned by as many exhibitors, which if placed on exhibition and called a Provincial Fair would have been a success. At this stage Mr. McKinnon moved the adjournment of the debate, it being six o'clock.

SATURDAY, MARCH 24.

Proceedings on Saturday morning. Mr. McKinnon resumed the subject of seed fairs, reading the following letter from Mr. John Grady, Secretary of the Prince Edward Island Provincial Seed Fair, dated March 23: "Dear Sir: Our provincial seed fair has passed off very successfully, the entries in grain being much larger than other years, our prizes amounting to one hundred dollars more than the last two years, but our expenses are somewhat less. If you will send us a cheque for $500, the same amount that you gave us last year, we will be able to pay all the prizes and other expenses. Trusting to have a favourable reply," etc.

He said that Mr. Grady had always been found reliable in regard to seed fairs. The amount of $500 was fairly large but they must remember that the Dominion government bore a good deal of the expenses of provincial fairs in this province.

In conclusion Mr. McKinnon said that it was regrettable to have hon. members putting themselves out of the way to "kneecap" and injuriously criticize, without reason and without ground, everything the government did in the interests of the province, merely for the sake of having something to complain about and attack the government on. He appealed for a better spirit of co-operation and trust, and that the Opposition would be more moderate in their discussion of public questions and would endeavour to stick to the truth.

THURSDAY 22, 1917.

Mr. BENJAMIN GALLANT who followed Col. the Hon. St. H. Jenkins in the debate on the Draft Address, joined with the previous speakers in their references to the death of the late lamented Hon. John Richards. He paid a fine tribute to the memory of that gentleman, endorsing all that had been said on the subject. He heartily congratulated the mover and second of the Address on their efforts and made fitting reference to the departure of the Duke of Connaught.

Mr. Gallant criticized the "Guardian," stating that this newspaper was antagonistic to Acadians. With regard to the Oyster Industry Mr. Gallant said that he expected the Government to submit a Report of all Companies who had leased areas. He declared that there was indignation throughout the country in regard to the fox tax. He considered that the Government were taxing the Companies too high. He had every confidence in the success of the fox industry, on a far basis. Mr. A. P. PROWSE then followed with a splendid speech. He said: "On the motion before the House I beg to offer a few remarks. I wish as other speakers who preceded me have done to congratulate the mover and second of the motion before the House on the very creditable manner in which they performed their duties. Since we last met in Parliamentary Session His Royal Highness The Duke of Connaught retired from the office of Governor-General of Canada and was succeeded in that high office by The Duke of Devonshire. I am sure we may all most heartily unite in offering our tribute of praise to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, who, highly appreciate the kind interest he displayed in every line of thought or action pertaining to the welfare of Canada and we are free to express that his sojourn with us has strengthened to a very marked degree the tie of devotion and patriotism which we all bear towards our gracious Majesty King George. On referring to His Royal Highness The Duke of Connaught it is I consider fitting that we express our sincerest sympathy with him in the recent bereavement he has been called upon to bear in the loss of his life partner, the Duchess of Connaught, the news of whose death was made known to us on Thursday the 15th inst. We cherish kindly remembrances that during her term of residence in Canada she truly won the high esteem and love of every true Canadian. To the new incumbent of the office of Governor-General of Canada, the Duke of Devonshire we extend our hearty welcome feeling assured that the interest of Canada an important part of our great Empire will receive careful and due consideration. With reference to the war it is very much to be regretted that this gigantic struggle is still raging, when we realize that it is now drawing near to three years since the outbreak. How little we thought in August, 1914 that the conflict would still at this time be raging—when we remember the unpreparedness of the British Empire at the outbreak—why the leading statesmen in England shortly before the outbreak were debating whether, in case of necessity they could send abroad an expeditionary force of from 80 to 160 thousand troops the latter figure being the highest that it was considered possible to send. This small expeditionary force was sent and though small comparatively speaking they nobly did their part in holding the enemy at bay until reinforcements could be gathered to support their efforts. What has transpired since then? The call to arms has been magnificently responded to from all parts of the realm to such an extent that we have now under arms from five to six millions of men, the greatest volunteer force the world has ever seen. Munitions that the nation was so sorely in need of at the outbreak have been and are now being manufactured and shipped at an unprecedented rate, our forces now in the field are well supplied, and from the financial point of view we may be said to be just pride. The government grants by the home governments and from the overseas governments in every part of the Empire and also the success that has attended all the calls for money by war loans, have all most grandly contributed to our feeling of optimism and security. That we can unitefully ful prosecution of the war and also to the necessary patriotic and charitable funds. "I beg also to join in the tribute to the late Mr. John Richards, who was a gentleman in every sense of the word, courteous to his opponents, and one that was held in high esteem by all. Mr. PROWSE then referred to the Draft Statute and strongly condemned the attitude of the Opposition in regard to this subject. He pointed out the glaring inconsistency of the Leader of the Opposition who, with one breath lavished praise on Sir Charles Dalton for his generosity in donating the Sanatorium, and in the same time condemning the Government for accepting the institution. He showed the utter impracticability of Mr. Bell's alternative scheme of having nurses throughout the province and pointed out the enormous and impossible expenditure which such a scheme would involve. There were 1,000 cases (estimated) of consumption in the province, and to cope with these cases there would require to be an army of 250 nurses, allowing one nurse to five cases. Each nurse would have to receive at least $50 a month, so that it would require $10,000 a month in salaries alone, or over $100,000 a year. Members could see how impracticable Mr. Bell's proposition was. Mr. Prowse then proceeded to pay an excellent tribute to the Sanatorium, stating that the Institution would prove its worth in the future, as it had already done, and that future generations would honour and bless the name of Sir Charles Dalton as a great benefactor to the people of this province. Mr. WALTER M. LEA then followed with an excellent speech which dealt almost exclusively with agriculture. He read extracts from various agricultural journals in support of his contention that dairy farming was one of the most profitable industries of the province. In the course of his remarks he stated that dairy farming had declined in this province, and also charged the Government with having undertaken to buy feed for the farmers and failed to keep their promise. He criticized the Seed Fairs and said that in his district there had been nothing done in regard to home projects.

Mr. J. A. DEWAR then spoke on the Debate, a report of his speech will appear in a subsequent issue.

Table with 4 columns: Imports, Exports, Excess Imports, Excess Exports. Data for 1912-1913, 1913-1914, 1914-1915, 1915-1916, and last nos. end. Sept. last.

It will readily be seen that the trade and commerce of Canada has had a wonderful expansion during the past few years. Whereas the excess of imports over our exports has been coming down from year to year, until in 1915-1916 the exports exceeded the imports by the handsome sum of $249,088,274, the expansion since then in the same line is strongly in evidence. The figures for the first six months of the present year show an increase over the same period a year ago of $100,000,000. And we are quite sure that in this province are enjoying a good proportionate share of the trade improvement. High prices for all the products of the farm and fisheries have been prevailing during the past few years, and a general feeling of contentment and comfort is manifest on all sides, and while we are enjoying such a bountiful measure of prosperity, it is well that we heed the warning and good advice given to us by legislators, bankers, and other public speakers, that we practice thrift and economy, so that we may all be the better able to contribute our means when needed for the success that you can soon get rid of the agony of chapped hands by using Zam-Buk. Mrs. William Elstone of Halliburton, Ont., writes: "Last winter my hands were very badly chapped. I used a lot of different so-called remedies, but my hands only seemed to get worse. Finally I tried the great herbal healer, Zam-Buk—which completely healed them."

Mrs. M. A. Bateson, of Souris, Man., writes: "I have used Zam-Buk for chapped hands, and know of nothing to equal its wonderful soothing and healing powers." Zam-Buk is also unequalled for chilblains, frost bites, cold cracks, and cold sores; as well as eczema, scalp sores, old wounds, ulcers, blood-poisoning, piles, burns and scalds, cuts and all skin injuries. 50c. a box. Providing for soldiers returning from the war. This is a question that demands united action, and I trust we may all pull together in support of measures that may be proposed with this worthy object in view. The Development Commission organized one year ago, was pleased to know has been at work and we wait with interest their report which is promised to us in the Speech from the Throne.

In the matter of education it is gratifying to know that the government is ever alive to the need of improving this important branch of the public service. A continual pressure in the direction of improvement by the government, together with the mutual co-operation by the people of this province will certainly produce the desired results.

Agriculture, one of the most if not the most important industries of this province, is being prosecuted vigorously, and those engaged therein, we are pleased to know, are receiving splendid prices for all their products. The encouragement of the industry by our governments, both Federal and local, is very highly appreciated. The Fisheries, another of our very important industries, is also deserving of like encouragement. The proposals promised for providing opportunities for technical education in this calling, will be awaited with interest. Any assistance that can be given to both of these great industries will meet with general approval. It is indeed gratifying to know that notwithstanding the depletion of our population, owing to recruiting, that the trade and commerce and revenues of Canada have surpassed all previous records.

TAKE "CASCARETS" IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

Best for liver and bowels, bad breath, bad colic, sour stomach. Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache. Cascarets immediately cleanses the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels. A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

Mr. J. A. DEWAR then spoke on the Debate, a report of his speech will appear in a subsequent issue.

AUTO QUESTION.

Sir,—Will you kindly print the enclosed clipping from the "Family Herald and Weekly Star of March 14th to show that this is not the only "Island" that want have the Auto to run over it. I am Sir, etc. SAFETY FIRST.

ENCLOSURE.

"THE AUTOMOBILE question has just been up again in Nantucket; and again it has been decided in favor of those who desire to exclude automobiles from the island. Under a permissive statute of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts passed some years ago the islanders adopted a resolution of exclusion which is still in force in spite of repeated attempts to abrogate it. The latest effort in that direction was made a few weeks ago, in a proposition to introduce the question of repeal into the warrant for the annual town meeting on the 12th of February; but the opposition was so great at the special meeting called to consider the matter that the motion was declared lost on a viva voce vote. (Nantucket is an island 15 miles long with an average of 4 miles wide and an average of 51 square miles on the south east coast of Massachusetts. It was bought from the Indians by Thomas Macy in 1659 for $150 and two beaver hats. There is one town and several villages frequented in summer on account of the mild stimulating climate. It has been steadily on the downgrade for years. It was once the seat of the fisheries and as many as 150 whaling vessels fished from its commodious harbours. Today this fishing industry is extinct and the population which was 4,123 in 1870 fell to 2,962 in 1910. It is not a progressive community.—Ed. G.) (Examiner and Patriot please copy.)
