Threatens

mers Mian newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, the most authoritative organ of Government policy, declared today Italy is "capable and ready to respond with immediate and adequate measures to any action growing out of blustering word threats."

Of the report that Government [illegible] had threatened aerial reprisals against "those foreign countries" sharing responsibility for air raids on Spanish civilians, Il Popolo d'Italia said:—

"Italy is not impressed and goes on with tranquillity but is on guard and ready for the course of events. To action against her ports or ships, Fascist Italy would espond with the voice of her cannon."

The reported threat and Italian reaction coincided with wide publication of a resume by General Alberto Pariani, war undersecretary, of Italy's war might.

Don't Be Fooled About Constipation!

Many people, when constipation hits them, just reach for the medicine shelf, dose up with a physic, and try to forget it—till the trouble comes back. And come back it usually does—more and more often—till you get at its cause.

If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are just this fact causes your trouble: lack of "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and aids elimination.

If that's the reason for your trouble, what you need is a good dish of crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains the "bulk" you need plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1.

Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and join the "regulars." Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

BAPTISTS HEAR TWO SPEAKERS AT CONVENTION

Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke And Dr. DeWolfe Deliver Addresses At Summerside.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke of London, England, secretary of the Baptist World Alliance, addressed a very large congregation, which taxed the seating capacity of the United Baptist Church at Summerside, on Friday evening. His subject was "Religious Freedom." He was introduced by Rev. Dr. F. W. Patterson, president of Acadia University.

Dr. Rushbrooke has a pleasing personality and is a convincing speaker. In his address he spoke of his visits to European capitals and mentioned particularly his visit to Moscow and his conversation with some of the Bolshevik leaders and remarked that it was a significant fact that although they have rejected Christ's teachings their own ethical views are that of our Lord Jesus Christ. Dr. Rushbrooke said that in conversation with one of the Communistic leaders, the man declared that one's duty was to leave for others, and Dr. Rushbrooke pointed out to him that our Lord taught that very thing, showing that even in Russia they could not escape Christ's influence, although they have rejected his religion.

Dr. Rushbrooke spoke of his visit to Roumania and its capital Bucharest, where in spite of repression, the Baptists have increased greatly in number.

Now, through the influence of British and American public opinion and the influence of King Carol, the churches have been allowed to reopen and religious freedom is once again allowed in Rumania.

Dr. Rushbrooke went on to speak of the great increase in Baptist members in Southern and Northern India, but that efforts must not be allowed to slacken, as the church and religious freedom is being challenged as never before in the world today. Lack of character, lack of public spirit, lack of devotion to Christ's teachings are among the causes of unrest in the world at the present time.

Dr. Rushbrooke made a stirring appeal for the Baptists of Canada to hold fast to their tradition of "Truth, Freedom and Unity", so that Canada would be a shining example to the rest of mankind. The way of peace is to stand fast for justice and freedom, which are the two instincts of the human heart and if these things are not upheld, the world cannot have peace and security.

Dr. DeWolfe of Acadia University

Dr. DeWolfe of Acadia University also spoke on Friday evening and gave a short history of Acadia University and the origin of the educational movement in Nova Scotia.

Dr. DeWolfe went back to the early days of Acadia in 1827. He also spoke of the first Baptist Church at Wolfville which has been in continuous service since 1778.

He spoke of the demand for education by the Baptists who wished an educational institution of their own and in consequence Acadia University was founded in 1827. The University has been steadily going forward until it ranks as one of the leading universities of Canada.

Dr. DeWolfe stressed the importance of Baptists of today holding up the high ideals and traditions of Acadia, which is to give religious instruction as well as the material instruction to fit one for their vocation in life, of the motto of Acadia, which is "to serve". He spoke of the many prominent men that have gone out from Acadia to occupy high places in the church, state and commerce of the Dominion.

IX:17.)

Let us go then to that celestial banquet, to this mystery of divine charity. Let us go there all with piety and the most fervent love. Nourished and confirmed by it we pray Christ our Lord, who rejoices Heaven and preserves the entire universe, and we ask of him not only for us and all the faithful of the entire world, but also for all those who have abandoned the straight road, drawn away by devouring cupidity, the gifts of truth, concord and charity.

Most particularly we implore in favor of the Canadian people whose country is today the meeting place of so many men belonging to such different nations and races the gifts of peace, of unity and of charity, which derive from the divine Eucharist and this to obtain for us "unity in faith and piety in actions."

May the blessings of God all-powerful, the Father, Son and Holy Ghost descend on you all and remain with you for evermore.

Loosens Banking Regulations In U.S.

WASHINGTON, June 26(—A.P.)—President Roosevelt loosened United States banking regulations tonight to encourage the flow of $3,000,000,000 of private money into business.

He ratified and ordered into immediate effect an agreement of federal banking agencies on revised examining procedure. It will affect the lending and investing policy of every bank in the country. The National Association of Supervisors of State Banks already has assured its acceptance of the plan.

These are the principal changes the new regulations make:—

1. Bankers may make long term (over nine months) loans without criticism of examiners, as long as the loans otherwise are sound.

2. Bankers may invest in the bonds of small local corporations even though the securities are not quoted on stock exchanges, provided the bank can demonstrate the worth of the bonds.

This is an inovation primarily for the national banks and the state banks belonging to the federal reserve system.

But for some trouble and sorrow, we must never know half the good there is about us.

Golden Wedding At Park Corner

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cousins were pleasantly surprised on the evening of June 20th when a large number of their friends assembled at their home to offer them congratulations and best wishes on the attainment of the 50th anniversary of their wedding. When all the guests had assembled, Mr. Alex Hiltz, acting as chairman, briefly explained the reason for the friendly invasion and called on C. S. McKay to read an address. The presentation of a beautiful davenport accompanied by an envelope containing cash was made by Messrs. Arthur Stewart and Keir Duggan.

Mr. Cousins, on behalf of himself and Mrs. Cousins, heartily thanked all those who had so kindly remembered them. A pleasant feature of the occasion was the fact that all their family were present to celebrate the event with them. Their son William, with his wife and daughter Winnifred, who live in North Carolina, U.S., were present at the time.

Congratulatory speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Detlor, Mrs. Detlor and Mr. Andrew McLeod. In the ccurse of his remarks, Mr. McLeod made a striking reference to the fact that Mr. Cousins, as a result of his enterprise and forethought through the medium of the cheese and butter factories which he owned and operated for a number of years, had in all probability done more for the benefit of the farmers as a class, in the section of the Island than any other individual. At this stage all joined heartily in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in social chat enlivened by spirited music on the piano furnished by the "veteran entertainer" Mr. Garnet Profitt accompanied on the violin by Mr. McAusland of Summerside. Mrs. Ella Campbell also contributed several well rendered solos.

A bountiful lunch was served by the ladies.

Following is the address:—

To Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cousins.

Respected Friends:—The purpose for which we, your friends and neighbors meet here this evening in your hospitable home, is to bring to you our best wishes and hearty congratulations, and rejoice in the fact that you have been spared to each other by a kind Providence to celebrate the 50th anniversary of your marriage.

You have now reached the half-century of wedded life, a place which, in the natural order of things, comparatively few married couples ever attain.

As we look back over that long period of time on your journey of life, we realize that it is but natural that you should have your problems to solve, your trials to bear, and your responsibilities to carry, but in and through them all you have shown a courageous spirit. In your social life, you were ever mindful and sympathetic to the needy and suffering, ready and willing to help in any movement for the welfare of the community, kind and genial in your friendships, thus proving yourselves to be worthy and influential citizens.

In your home life most truly do you shine. Your sincere and unstinted hospitality always made us sure of a warm welcome. We wish to assure you, dear friends, these are no empty words but the sincere feelings of our hearts.

As you journey further along life's pathway together, we trust that Heaven's richest blessings, health and happiness may accompany you, and may more opportunities be presented to you to celebrate this happy occasion.

In conclusion we ask you to accept this sincere token of our esteem and good will.

On behalf of your friends.
