POWERS TO DEMAND SATISFACTION FOR NAN KING OUTRAGES

Joint Ultimatum for Presentation to Nationalist Authorities, is Under Consideration—Chinese Commander-in-Chief Declares Incident Exaggerated Abroad

(Special to The Guardian)

LONDON, March 31.—Draft demands, prepared for presentation to the Chinese nationalist authorities in connection with the anti-foreign outrages in Nanking, are being considered by the powers. Official quarters say the question of the action to be taken in the event the nationalists refuse to comply with the demands is also under consideration.

A Daily Mail despatch says that Eugene Chen, the Chinese foreign minister, is expected to arrive in Shanghai in a day or so to demand the surrender of the international and French settlements.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—America Minister MacMurray, acting with the British and Japanese ministers at Peking, is drawing up joint demands on the nationalist government, relating to the Nanking riots, and the anti-foreign situation in national territory. The United Press learned today.

Secretary Kellogg declined to confirm this information, or comment upon it. The United Press understands that separate proposals were submitted by three ministers and that a tentative joint draft has been worked out and submitted to the respective home governments.

The final document is expected to provide for statement of foreign claims to be submitted later for destruction of foreign lives and

PROCEEDINGS IN THE FEDERAL PARLIAMENT

Cahan Scores Premier For Failure to Submit Conference Report for Approval—Garland Advocates New Title for Dominion.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

OTTAWA, Ont., March 31.—The debate on the Imperial Conference report has gone through the third day in the House of Commons and is likely to occupy tomorrow also. Some apprehension is felt by members of this discussion might preclude the possibility of prorogation before Easter, but the Prime Minister and the leader of the opposition still believe the session can be wound up by April 14.

C. H. Cahan of Montreal, who last night arraigned Mr. Mackenzie King on the score of his lack of courage in failing to put his undertakings of December to referendum to parliament, today continued the attack and accused the Prime Minister of dishonestly misleading the house and the country last year in connection with his negotiations with Lord Byng regarding his attempt to secure dissolution in order to escape a vote of censure.

Mr. Cahan recalled that Mr. King had assured the Commons that he had conveyed to Lord Byng an expression of willingness to carry on the government after he had tendered his resignation until such time as the governor general could make other arrangements. Lord Byng was represented as declining to accept that offer, accepting the resignation forthwith, and calling Mr. Meighen to office. Subsequently, the electorate was led to believe that Lord Byng had acted unconstitutionally in the circumstances, and Mr. King's credit for defending the democracy of Canada.

The fact, however, as revealed in the correspondence which was only forthcoming this session, was that Mr. King had not consented to arrangements for the conduct of government, as it had always been the practice for Prime Ministers to do, but had only offered to withhold his resignation in order that Lord Byng might consult Downing Street and secure advice as to whether or not he should grant dissolution.

The Montreal member suspected that disagreement in Mr. King's cabinet was the reason for Lord Byng's failure to carry out his promise of December to submit the Conference report to parliament for approval. He called upon him to admit that he had no authority for carrying out the constitutional changes proposed in the promise until it was conveyed to him by parliament.

A new proposal was offered by E. J. Garland, Progressive of Bow River, Alberta. It was that Canada should adopt the title "to which we are entitled," that of the "Kingdom of Canada." Mr. Garland quoted copious utterances of Sir John A. Macdonald made at the time of Confederation and subsequently in which the great Conservative leader made it clear that it had been his idea that Canada should have that title and all the sovereignty under the British crown that it implied. He quoted from one of Sir John's letters to the effect that the title "Dominion" had been suggested for that of "Kingdom" at the suggestion of Lord Derby then foreign minister, who feared that the setting up of a nation styled a kingdom on this continent would "offend the sensibilities of the Yanks."

Mr. Garland maintained that the style "Dominion" conveyed an impression of subordination, and that the word "Kingdom" was in support of his contention. He advocated that the title favored by the fathers of confederation should be adopted now.

EPIDEMIC IS UNDER CONTROL

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Que., Mar. 31.—The epidemic of typhoid fever which has been prevalent in Montreal for the past three weeks appears to be on the downward trend. It reached its peak so far, last Tuesday when the number of cases reported for that day reached 167, the highest daily average since the epidemic began March 4th.

On Wednesday 102 cases were declared while for the 24 hour period ending at noon today, 88 cases were reported or half the number of Tuesday. The total now stands at 1,628.

The health authorities regard the situation as reassuring and declare that the outbreak is under control.

C. N. R. Estimates Approved by House Committee

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Ont., Mar. 31.—The report of the Canadian National Railways for 1926 and main estimates totalling $22,500,000 for the system covering the fiscal year 1927-28 were approved by the special committee on National railways and shipping of the House of Commons this afternoon. Estimates of the committee that the wage settlement for the ensuing fiscal year represented a decrease of $5,500,000 as compared with the fiscal year 1926-27.

Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways, under examination informed the committee that the wage settlement of December last with conductors and trainmen would cost the system between five and a half million and six million dollars in 1927. This calculation included increases to various other trades within the railways arising as a consequence of the wage agreement.

'SOME LEGAL PROBLEMS'

Was the Subject of an Interesting and Informative Lecture Last Night by Hon. C. Gavin Duffy, at the Caledonian Club

There was a goodly audience at the Caledonian Club Hall last night to hear Hon. C. Gavin Duffy deliver a most interesting and educational lecture on "Some Legal Problems." The lecturer treated the subject in a masterly manner and delivered it with the effect of Mr. D. J. Macdonald occupied the chair.

At the conclusion of the lecture a most hearty vote of thanks was moved by Mr. John Anderson, seconded by Mr. G. N. Tricoche and supported by Hon. Fred J. Nash and ex-Mayor McKenna.

The following was the address of the lecturer:

SOME LEGAL PROBLEMS

The law is one of the most ancient of the professions and, in spite of the amount of abuse often heaped upon its members, one of the most honourable. The law and the prophets have always been mentioned together. The Clergy-men are, therefore, the only class that can be compared with the legal profession. The Medical Profession, although now of great importance and benefit, is really only in its infancy when compared with the law. The prosperous gentlemen who now make up the medical profession are merely the scientific successors of the ancient "blood-letters." Formerly this job was done by the barbers, hence the red and white stripes that make up the barber's sign. But now the barber—like poor Shylock—must take not one drop of blood.

The practice of the law requires the utmost exactness. If a lawyer makes a mistake there is always a Court of Appeal and his error is exposed. If a doctor makes a mistake, the patient dies, and "dead men tell no tales." The undertaker covers up the doctor's mistakes while the Court of Appeal exposes the lawyer's mistakes.

Many stories are told at the expense of the lawyers and the lawyers themselves enjoy them as much as anybody else. Lawyers are supposed to develop a faculty for asking questions and are sometimes credited with doing so when they should simply obey orders. They have even been accused of carrying this habit into their military training. A story is told about a company of lawyers who were being drilled. They seemed to be getting along very well when suddenly the drill-sergeant gave the command "Right about face"; every man in the company stood still and asked "Why?"

Another story is told about the Devil's invincibles, a volunteer corps, most of the members of which were attorneys. Lt.-Col. Cox, Master in Chancery, was in command. On one occasion he gave the order to "Charge." Every lawyer in the ranks took out his note-book and marked down 6s. 8d. Somebody has parodied these stories into rhyme as follows:

"There's was to make reply,
There's but to reason why,
There's not to do, nor die.

When can their glory fade
O, the huge charge they made!
All the world wondered,
Pay them the charge they made!
Pay them the bill they made!
Noble Attorneys.

LEGISLATURE SUMMARY

The Leader of the Opposition Continues But Does Not Conclude His Debate on the Budget.

Thursday, March 31st.

House opened at 3.45, and after the usual routine, Mr. Saunders asked the Premier if he had an itemized statement of the amount of $701.65 contained in the Provincial Auditors' Report on the Public Accounts. He was told that an answer was not yet prepared. He then asked for a statement with items of the item of expenditure in the Auditor's Report re Miscellaneous—Trade Commissioner Hon. H. D. McEwen's expenses. Premier Stewart answered that he has had no opportunity of looking at the statement.

In reply to questions by Mr. Saunders, concerning the Department of Public Works, Hon. Mr. MacPhee stated that answers were in the course of preparation.

On the Honorable the Premier moving that the House resolve itself into a committee on supply, Mr. Saunders arose and continued his debate on the budget.

He stated that for the windfall of $1,000,000 the Government would have had a disgrace on their hands had they not had a huge deficit of $4,000. They can only honestly claim a surplus of $5,000. The insurance of $5,000 of Falconwood had never been put into capital account, in the case of the $80,000, he said, he would not go into as he had already thrashed it out, and showed that the grant was completed even before Hon. Stewart became Premier, and provided to account the steps leading up to the grant. He repeated that the Province does not owe one thing in that regard to the Premier or to Federal Government, recognizing the rights of the people of Prince Edward Island.

He had shown that the Government has gone behind the time of $170,000. Had this government in 1926 had done properly they could have had a reasonable surplus. He criticized at some length the method of keeping the Public Accounts, by the Government.

He took issue on the statement by the Premier that he (the Premier) had kept the Public Accounts and quoted figures to the contrary for the four years, 1920, 21, 22 and 26 in the different Departments worth considering. Each year the Conservatives spend an average of $43,000 more than the Liberals had, he claimed.

The government lacks initiation. It is simply standing still and drifting. It is quite true that the Premier said he have received $80,000 increased revenue. If the Conservative government had been returned to power in Ottawa, this province would not receive the $125,000 grant of the Commission nor even would a Duncan Commission be appointed.

Since he has been a member of the House, he said, the claims of the Province were each year considered in the House. From 1914-18, during the war was no time to look for such claim, again the Conservatives were in power, and he could not do anything; yet he always, he stated, did everything in his power to press the claims of the province. The Honorable the Premier, was an opportunist only in regard to the obtaining of the claims of Prince Edward Island and is worthy of no credit in this regard.

He again as he did in his speech in the report to the address from the throne, scored the government for their dismissal of returned men, worthy officials, when they assumed the reins of government and filling their places by civilians; he further criticized the payment of bills, which should never have been paid and which they, the Liberal Administration, had returned down. It was said Mr. Saunders, continued that the Government House Bill was not presented but he was ready to produce stationary declarations from Hon. Mr. Lea and Hon. ex Premier Bell, that the bill was presented and turned down.

He criticized the sending of the Honorable member of Morell to the South, for no purpose, for no good, for no about $1,000,000.

Funeral Services for Archbishop Emard

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Mar. 31.—The stately and historic basilica was not large enough to shelter all the sorrowing people who sought to participate in the funeral services today of Archbishop Joseph Medard Emard, metropolitan of the Ottawa Roman Catholic archdiocese.

The service began at ten o'clock but hours before that while the skies were alternating between brilliant sunshine and threatening clouds the faithful were wending their way to secure places in the church. The nave of the Cathedral was reserved for clergy and other prominent citizens, the remainder of the great edifice was open to the general public.

The funeral Mass was sung by His Grace Archbishop R. M. Roulston of Quebec who was assisted by Mr. Joseph Lebeau, chancellor of the Ottawa Archdiocese.

Legion Officers Disappointed

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Mar. 31.—Surprise and disappointment is expressed by officers of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League at national headquarters because of the announcement of Hon. Dr. King that no pension or returned soldiers insurance legislation would be introduced this session.

T. C. Lapp, acting superintendent of the Legion service bureau, declared last night that in view of the great thought and effort given by the Legion to legislative needs, the veterans organization would not be disposed to accept the minister's decision without strong protests.

Ten dollars Price of Assassination in Shanghai

SHANGHAI, March 31.—Ten dollars is the price of assassination in Shanghai. Evidence to this effect was given in a case dealt with by the provincial court, in which a Chinese was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of a loyal forewoman in a British cotton mill.

The prisoner confessed he shot the woman at the instructions of a prominent member of the general union, who gave him ten dollars to do so. He said the forewoman had been paid for her labor

Every Window in Mining Town Shattered

(Special to The Guardian)

EHRENFIELD, Pa., Mar. 31.—Cambria county's miners were rejoicing today over the escape of some 300 of their number from the ill-fated Number Three Mine of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Corporation, visited yesterday by a tremendous explosion. Sorrow tinged that celebration, however, as preparations went forward for burial of the four men killed by the blast, that the very force and speed of the blast, coupled with the fact that most of the miners were at work in digging rooms of the main headings, had contrived to avert what had been feared would be a much greater loss of life.

The explosion it is believed was borne by a heavy air current past the closed rooms, and spent itself
