MARITIME SYNOD BROUGHT TO A CLOSE

Ministers Warned Against Participating in Liquor Disputes — Synod to Meet in Charlottetown in 1928.

SAINT JOHN, Oct. 7. — All ministers were warned against participating in disputes over liquor control and prohibition in a resolution adopted at the Maritime Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Canada here Thursday.

The Synod, which concluded its sessions in Knox Church, passed a memorial urging all pastors to avoid injury to the Church and its work by becoming entangled in party politics or controversy in respect to this issue in the Maritime Provinces.

The fact that the Act incorporating the Presbyterian Collegiate School at Pictou, makes no mention of any of the Presbyterians in the Presbyterian Church or their jurisdiction over the institution, was disclosed at the afternoon session.

A special committee was authorized to canvass the situation thoroughly and to take action for the amendment of the present legislation if necessary.

The Synod transacted much business expeditiously on the final day and the Moderator, Rev. W. M. Townsend, in closing the meeting to convene in 1928, on the first Tuesday in October, in Charlottetown, P. E. I., said the work accomplished had been very gratifying.

A budget of $65,000 for the Synod, the same amount as that of 1927, was adopted for 1928.

A detailed report of home missions was heard with satisfaction and resolutions were passed urging extension of Sunday school work, the memorization of scriptures and catechism, the holding of conferences and rallies for the young people and urged the church bodies to refrain from becoming involved in the political field, through taking active part in liquor issues.

Reports showed a very marked increase in the Sunday school and organized young people's groups in the last year.

I. L. P. Resolution Is Defeated

(Special to the Guardian)
BLACKPOOL, Eng., Oct. 7. — The British Labor party conference today defeated the Independent Labor party resolution favoring the reopening of negotiations with the red international. The vote was 1,831,000 against the resolution to 1,071,000 for.

The defeat followed a speech by C. T. Cramp in behalf of the Labor party executive committee, in which he opposed the resolution on the grounds that the international is still retaining its extremist attitude. In support of his contention he read extracts from recent addresses of Zinovieff. The conference overwhelmingly adopted a resolution favoring the unification of the independent national parties.

Hopes For Return Of Two Party Government

(Special to the Guardian)
TORONTO, Oct. 7. — Premier Taschereau of Quebec ridicules the political rumor that he is to become an ally of Premier G. Howard Ferguson in the federal political arena. At the home of Lieutenant-Governor W. D. Ross yesterday the Quebec Premier laughed at the yarn as fantastic and one that he could deny in toto.

Mr. Taschereau, however, wished the Conservatives success at Winnipeg in their choice of a leader and he hoped the convention would mean the return to two party government in Canada. The British system, with one party in power and one party to criticize he said, was the most efficient manner of administering the country's affairs.

Communism Stamped Under Foot at Con- vention of American Federation of Labor.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 7. — Communism was stamped under foot and tossed out of the convention hall of the American Federation of Labor here yesterday. William Green, President of the Federation, brought up the subject of communism and disposed of it in this way:

"My friends, the American Federation of Labor, will accept no dictation from Moscow; we will not compromise with communism or communistic philosophy.

"We will not listen to the call of any siren; we will not experiment with the lives of working men and women in something which found birth in class hatred in a country ruled by dictators for centuries."

COSTLY FIRE YESTERDAY

Store Rooms in P. J. Macdonald's Groc- ery Gutted — Dam- age Estimated $3- 000, Partly Covered by Insurance.

Yesterday afternoon, shortly after five o'clock, the firemen were called out to extinguish a fire in the store rooms of Mr. P. J. Macdonald's grocery. The fire originated in a crate of matches in the rooms above the store. When the fire was discovered the crate was thrown through a window, but the blaze had already spread to other parts of the stock and soon the whole room was ablaze, the firemen arrived promptly and soon after some snappy work had the fire under control. It was necessary to cut a hole in the ceiling and the plaster suffered considerably in many places. Smoke and water put the finishing touches to anything that was not burned. The damage is estimated at over $3,000, partly covered by insurance.

This was the second alarm in as many hours. The other being a minor conflagration at a house on King Street, opposite Farquhar's Livery Stable. The house is a double tenement and is owned by Judge Fraser of Souris. This blaze was quickly under control and little damage was done.

Tar Sands as Paving Material

(Canadian Press)
EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 7. — Tar sands from Fort McMurray will probably be used to demonstrate the value of this product for paving purposes on one of the city's main streets, it is suggested that S. C. Ellis, of the federal mines department, has made to the commission. Ellis says excellent results have been obtained at Jasper from the use of northern tar sands.

As a result of his suggestion, the federal government will probably be asked to give its consent to a demonstration being given on some street in Edmonton. It has been estimated that the cost of laying down this form of paving is about $1 per square yard.

Child Marriage Bill Goes Into Effect

(Special to the Guardian)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 7. — The Jenks child marriage bill, requiring that persons under 21 years old must be married in churches or by justices of courts of record has gone into effect, the result of a state wide campaign by women's organizations to decrease the number of child marriages.

Under the new law youths under the age of 21 and girls under 18 must submit documentary proof of their age and the written consent of parents or guardians to the marriage, while it is forbidden to issue licenses at all to youths under the age of 16 and girls under 14 years old.

The orchestra, directed by Raymond E. Doin performed in a masterly style. Ardell on the silver rings offered a pleasing diversion. This acrobat exhibited a remarkable endurance and skill in going through his ring stunts.

A quartet "The University Four" gave some delightful novelty selections, while "The Palace Trio", portraying three bell boys in a hotel, made the house sit up and take notice.

Tonight's performance should be of equal merit and if so will be worth seeing.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE P. E. ISLAND MEDICAL ASSN.

Committee Waited Upon Government. In View Of Proposed Changes In Prohibition Act At Next Session Of Legislature, Doctors Consented To Act For The Present In Handling Prescriptions. The Association Committee Expressed Opinion That Increase Of Certificates Not Necessary.

A special meeting of the Prince Edward Island Medical Association was held in the Charlottetown Hospital on Thursday, Oct. 6th to receive the report of the Committee appointed to wait upon the government regarding Medical Certificates for Alcoholic liquors. The report showed that the Committee was very cordially received by the Premier who stated that at the next meeting of the Legislature the Prohibition Act would be under review and any changes asked for by the Medical Association would receive due consideration.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Association:—

No. 1.—Resolved that the Prince Edward Island Medical Association instruct its committee to urge upon the government that the Prohibition Act be so amended that the burden of prescribing alcoholic liquors be taken out of the hands of the medical profession.

No. 2.—Whereas, in view of the fact that the committee of this Association on meeting the Premier learned that no change in the Prohibition Act could be made until the meeting of the Legislature, therefore resolved that the medical profession continue to carry on under the provisions of the Prohibition Act until Parliament assembled.

No. 3.—Resolved that a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the Prohibition Commissioners and advise them that the consensus of opinion of this Association is that the recent increase in the number of certificates issued to medical men is unnecessary.

VAN ARNAM'S MINSTRELS DELIGHT LARGE AUDIENCE

Opening Performance Last Night At Prince Edward. "Minstrel Days" Meets Enthusiastic Reception.

John Van Arnams Minstrels are in the city again and made themselves evident yesterday at noon in a flashy street parade. This, however, was a mere small sample of the "stunt" that they handed out in the Prince Edward in the evening.

The songsters, Lloyd Gilbert, Robert Cliffe, Franklin Gilmore, Carl Babcock, Orlo Shepard and Joseph Porphy all possessed remarkable voices and held the house spellbound during their presentations.

The comedians, Micky Arnold, Lew Van, Al "Weeds" Penard and Billy Henderson, certainly knew the art of extracting laughs from the crowd, while the dancers kept the audience busy following the movements of their feet. Among the latter is a young man of seventeen years who has won Charleston contests from coast to coast—Jimmy Leamy. His performance was "par excellence".

The orchestra, directed by Raymond E. Doin performed in a masterly style. Ardell on the silver rings offered a pleasing diversion. This acrobat exhibited a remarkable endurance and skill in going through his ring stunts.

A quartet "The University Four" gave some delightful novelty selections, while "The Palace Trio", portraying three bell boys in a hotel, made the house sit up and take notice.

Tonight's performance should be of equal merit and if so will be worth seeing.

RHODES NOT CANDIDATE FOR LEADERSHIP

Nova Scotia Premier Says People of Mar- itimes Are Looking Forward to Better Times.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 7. — "No, I am not a candidate for the leadership of the Conservative party," declared Premier Edgar N. Rhodes of Nova Scotia, on his arrival here tonight.

Premier Rhodes is prominently mentioned as English-chairman of the Conservative convention.

Premier Rhodes stated that Nova Scotia had been placed in an improved position as a result of the recent decision of the Board of Railway Commissioners, but not in as good a position as she would have been had the Duncan report been implemented in full.

He did not know how the people in the west regarded the Duncan report but he hoped they realized it was not in any sense some special consideration shown to the Maritime Provinces.

The findings of the Duncan Commission merely were the granting of long-deferred justice," declared Premier Rhodes. "Especially insofar as freight rates were concerned it only meant, that the Maritime Provinces were put on a parity with the rest of Canada.

"For imperial and strategic reasons, the railway was constructed round the shores of Chaleur Bay. It involves a distance of 250 miles farther than would have been the case had the railway been constructed as an economic proposition. Prior to recent years, regard was had to that fact in the freight rates, but for some time it was overlooked, and until the report of the Duncan Commission the freight rates were charged on a mileage basis, which meant that the people of the Maritime Provinces, in addition to the long distance goods had to go in any case to reach the central Canadian markets, had to bear the whole burden of traffic upon the 250 miles. That of course meant an absolute barrier to a large number of the industries of the Maritime Provinces.

"Now the finding of the Duncan Commission meant that 250 miles of railway which was constructed for the benefit of all Canada is carried by all Canada."

Premier Rhodes said that with the changed situation, the people of the Maritime Provinces were looking forward to better times, and he was hopeful of a steady improvement.

"The people of the Maritime Provinces have nothing but the friendliest feelings for the people in the west, he said. "In approaching their problems, they have not done so from the viewpoint of selfish insularity, but from a feeling that if we are to have prosperity in Canada we must make for prosperity in each individual section."

Illustration Of Prince's Thoughtfulness

(Special to the Guardian)
TORONTO, Oct. 7. — The Prince of Wales does not forget his Canadian friends. The same sincerity and thoughtfulness which marked his association with the people whom he met in Canada is brought out when he renews acquaintance with them in any part of the world. The passengers who were on the Empress of Scotland on which His Royal Highness and Prince George returned to England tell of his charming attention to his Canadian friends Mr. and Mrs. Turner Skalkh of Toronto, who were on their wedding tour.

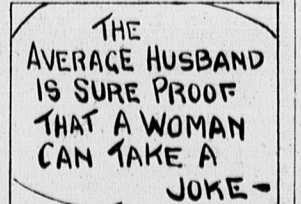

It will be remembered that Mrs. Skalkh was formerly Miss Elena (Jimmy) Murdock, daughter of the Hon. James Murdock and Mrs. Murdock of Ottawa and she entertained a party in Toronto for the Prince at his request, during the voyage. As the Empress of Scotland was in the harbor and the Prince came on board the passengers gathered on deck to see the farewell with which the Prince left the "land of come again". It was then that they noticed that the Prince of Wales and his brother had smiles for the bride and Mr. Skalkh, who were almost lost among the other passengers. Several times during the voyage there were dinners or informal entertainments for the Canadian people who had been honored by the Prince's presence at a Toronto party.

NO EARLY ELECTION SEEN BY BALDWIN

Premier, At Party Conference, Men- tions Visit to Cana- da, and Speaks of Two More Years of Conservative Rule.

CARDIFF, Oct. 7. — In a speech at the Conservative party conference tonight, Premier Baldwin entered into a general defence of his government's policy and welcomed the new note struck in the recent Trades Union campaigns, proclaiming faith in the policy in joint consultation in settling or avoiding labor disputes, but he gave no hope for an early general election.

On the contrary, he spoke calmly of "the next two years of Conservative government."

The prime minister said that he personally would not hesitate to accept the opposition's challenge of an appeal to the country, but he thought that the country's interests required a period of repose after three general elections in as many years.

Premier Baldwin said with regard to his recent trip to Canada: "I went to Canada with but one object, namely, to explode once for all that insidious propaganda emanating from the foreigner and also the native-born, that this country is decadent and played out, I have laid that ghost."

"The delegates cheered the premier's words.

Regarding trade prospects, Premier Baldwin said the country's trade had a sheet anchor in the gold standard, and there was no cause for pessimism.

"I refuse to hang my harp on a weeping willow," he exclaimed.

Concerning the reform of the House of Lords, the premier promised that the government would consider its policy in the autumn and announce its decision later in the year.

A motion endorsing votes for women at the age of 21 instead of 30 years was adopted by a big majority at the afternoon meeting.
