AMSTERDAM, April 22.—In place of the familiar public notice in German newspapers warning people not to talk of military matters because of spies, there now appears a new notice which reads: "Citizen, your duty is not to talk of food conditions, every word thereon helps the enemy and endangers the Fatherland."

REVOLUTION NOW THREATENS GERMANY

Ten Thousand Workers in Munition Factories Engage in Bloody Riots and Make Revolutionary Demands on Government. Soldiers Charge Mobs.

(Special to the Guardian.) NEW YORK, April 22.—Interest in the great French offensive on the Aisne today is second only to the startling news from the interior of Germany. Velled though the situation is in the midst of the rigid censorship, and obscured by the shackled condition of the German press, sufficient has leaked through to indicate that the German Empire is facing a great economic and political crisis. Latest information received is that 10,000 striking munition workers have engaged in a bloody riot in the great Prussian fortress town of Magdeburg, and were only prevented from burning the city hall after a sharp clash with the military. This story comes from the Dutch frontier with sufficient detail to make its claims to authenticity impressive. On a charge of treason. It is significant that they include a requisition for the release of all political prisoners which would include, of course, the noted Socialist leaders. The exact origin of this strike movement in Germany is unknown, but it is certain that a very considerable portion of the munition workers have been affected. There are reports of a new strike at Essen and Magdeburg the location of an important branch of the great Krupp establishment. An indication of the seriousness of the situation is afforded by the fact that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg has considered it necessary to make a personal appeal to the workers, in which he denounces strikes as inexcusable crimes against the fighting forces. In the meantime General Nivelle maintains his relentless pressure against the enemy at the most vital point of his defenses, a sharp angle at which the German line running south from Lens turns east toward Rheims.

HEAVY ELECTRIC STORM PASSES OVER PROVINCE

Barn at Victoria Cross Destroyed with all Contents Including Horses and Cattle. House Struck in Summerside.

One of the fiercest electric storms in years passed over the province Saturday night, accompanied by a heavy gale of wind and a downpour of rain. In Charlottetown there were four distinct storms, each following the other in rapid succession. The first began shortly before 10 and the others followed after brief intervals up to 3 a. m. Sunday. No damage was done in or around the city. At Victoria Cross a large barn owned by Mr. Malcolm Nicholson was struck and completely destroyed, with all its contents including six horses, eleven head of cattle three hundred bushels of oats, hay, carriages, farm implements, etc. A number of outbuildings were also destroyed. The deepest sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. Nicholson in his serious loss. Charles Lafferty was struck and damaged considerably. The lightning entered by the chimney, one branch passing down the sitting room and burning a hole through the floor. The other ran along the roof, ripped off some shingles and the saddleboard, passed down to the sitting room where Mrs. Lafferty and her daughter were. A large framed picture was knocked down, the hanging wire being completely melted. The lightning passed from this room through the partition into the hall, followed an electric bell wire to the front door and took its departure. The damage to the house is considerable, but the family were grateful to escape with their lives.

FRENCH COAL MINES RESCUED FROM HUNS

(Special to the Guardian.) (B Stewart Lyon.) CANADIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, France, April 22.—Success seems to have crowned the efforts of the Canadians on this front not only in military operations but in the secondary object of freeing one of the most important industrial districts in France from the control of the invaders. So long as Germans held Vimy Ridge the only mines producing on a large scale left in French hands were those of Bruaytown to the west of Lens but on our side of the Ridge. This coal had to be taken to Paris and points south. The result was serious, causing loss to industry all over France because of the scarcity and high price of coal. In a few weeks the victory of Vimy Ridge will result in a marked lessening of the prestige of the coal from Wales to France and to that extent will make ineffective the enemy's submarine campaign. The mines were controlled in some cases by German capital and operated in part by German workmen. Now German guns used by Canadian soldiers against their former owners are doing no small part in restoring this rich mining region to French control. Proceeding, Lyons states that our boys have been working to strengthen their new front under most unfavorable conditions but working cheerfully. As their work progressed the men had the satisfaction of seeing guns that had done so much to drive the enemy east once more. German artillery out on the plain had been moved back to avoid capture as well as to operate to greater advantage against our positions. His model artillery was a thorn in the flesh of our men on the eastern slopes. As our own guns have come up the situation of the infantry has improved materially and men have begun to push out our front line to explore the enemy's positions extending in regular lines from Lens south through Mericourt, Acheville and Arleux. Prussian Guards have been sent to this part of the front to take the place of Bavarians whose withdrawal must be gallingly to Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, leader of the army group in this area.

The soldiers fired on the rioters, killing and wounding many, and the town is now in a state of siege. Magdeburg is the capital of the Prussian province of Saxony and one of the strongest fortresses in the German Empire. It is five miles from Berlin and is the seat of immense steel works. Referring to the entrance of the United States into the war he said: "The great kindred nation adjoining the Dominion, from which I come has been impelled by the relentless and overbearing arrogance and aggression of Germany to take up arms in the common cause of liberty and humanity.
