To Clean Needlework

If the needlework becomes soiled through handling, try greasing it with a little pure, clean lard. Allow this to remain for several hours, then rinse well, starch and iron while wet.

Book Mold

To avoid book mold, which often occurs during damp weather, scatter a few drops of oil of lavender in the book cases. Or wipe over the shelves with oil of cedar.

The Frying Pan

Frying pans can be kept bright and clean by rubbing them with a crust of hard bread. Then wash in a solution of hot water and washing soda.

Ear-rims For Women

(By British United Press.) PARIS, Aug. 8.—"Ear-rims, that is, tiny strips of jewels outlining the lower rim of the ear, are now replacing ear-rings among the fashionable women of Paris. It is claimed for the new device that it greatly enhances the outline of a pretty ear, and that with the present shingled heads a flash of diamonds or other precious stone just at the right spot gives a smart effect to the whole head.

It Pays To Get The Facts

A large proportion of all the nerve energy generated in a normal body is expended in the act of seeing.

Eyes are often found to be defective so that although vision is still good, they are consuming twice or three times their allotted portion of nerve force, thus robbing other vital organs of their motive power.

The result is serious physical disorders—often in remote parts of the body—of every ten people are in this fix, yet the real cause of their trouble is often not even suspected until a thorough examination discloses the facts.

If there is any reason whatever to suspect eye strain, the common sense thing to do is to have a thorough examination and

TWO HUNDRED SWIMMERS FROM ALL PARTS OF WORLD IN RICH TORONTO MARATHON

Total Of $50,000 In Prize Money Has Made Event The Greatest Competitive Swim The World Has Ever Known.

WORLD'S BEST TAKE PART

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 7.—About 200 swimmers, among them the world's greatest, will slowly move forward at nine o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, August 31, to plunge into the waters of Lake Ontario in the greatest competitive swim the world has ever known.

About midnight, or perhaps sooner, weather conditions being favorable, the winner should emerge from the water after covering 21 miles, to be crowned monarch of all, with the golden bait of $30,000 safely in his grasp; if the winner be a woman, of $25,000.

The remainder of the total prize money of $50,000—the great sum which like a magnet has drawn swimmers from the ends of the earth—will be divided up between half a dozen men and half a dozen women, providing that many finish.

In the field of scintillating swimming stars one stocky figure will be magnetic as the multitude, waiting tensely for the starting gun, eagerly watches the struggling line of starters. It will be that of George Young, the native son, winner of the $25,000 Catalina Channel swim because he was the only one to finish that grueling test; on whose account the present huge event has been staged.

HIGH-CLASS ENTRANTS

The race, however, is no "ginch" for the redoubtable George. Ernest Vierkotter, of Berlin, Germany, is considered probably Young's chief opponent. Vierkotter is a veteran professional with an imposing record; he has more experience than Young and with him swimming is an art. He carries his own chef as well as trainer and manager; when he swims, it will be to the music of a respectable sized orchestra.

THE WOMEN

And if it is at all possible for a woman champion to beat a male champion in swimming, it should be accomplished in the Lake Ontario marathon. When the start is made, probably only one great woman swimmer will be missing—Gertrude Ederle.

Incidentally, Mrs. Schemm will wear a bathing suit this time, at least, at the start. No swimmer will be allowed to start sans suit; although he or she may have as much grease as their taste or experience dictate. The more experienced swimmers will use no grease, for its aid in preventing "water-logging" and keeping the cold out. Probably also bathing suits will be discarded by quite a number when the race is really under way.

THE COURSE

What do they have to do? They will have to cover 21 miles in water which will probably be of chilling coldness. There are alleviating factors, though. The treacherous currents and cross-shop of the English channel will be missing; there will be no kelp-beds such as threatened George Young in the Catalina channel. The course will be a broad passage between rows of buoys topped with flags.

All the winner has to do is get around faster than anybody else. To do that he—or she—will need to have developed high resistance to cold; to have cultivated a steady stroke which can be kept up hour after hour and above all to have built up bodily endurance.

Great Public Spectacle

It will be a great public spectacle—the greatest of its kind the world has ever seen. Always, although at times hinculars may be needed, the swimmers will be in sight of the thousands on shore. The one-mile side of the triangle is between shore and the breakwaters; the other two sides stretch three miles out to the official yacht, where the turn is made.

57 Varieties

The race, offering not merely great monetary reward but also fame and rewards from moving pictures, advertising agencies and the like, has naturally attracted many swimmers who have very little chance of victory. One "long shot" in particular however, will have the good wishes of the crowd, and that is Michael Hambourg, of Toronto, who is blind. In order to guide him in the race, his boat will be equipped with an electric bell which will ring continuously. He has a tremendous inducement. It is Hambourg's intention, should he win the large prize to at once leave for Vienna, where his sight may be restored. George Cummings, of Sudbury, Ont., who lost both legs in an accident years ago, has also entered the marathon. In his training he has found that his physical handicap is not so great as at first thought, since he has less weight to drag, although he has to pull the whole distance with his arms.

The youngest swimmer entered is Arthur Compton, of Long Beach, Calif., who has just passed his 14th birthday. Rosaire Delorme of Montreal, who has turned in some phenomenal performances recently, comes next. He was 15 in June.

Honolulu has Duke Mello and Nawahin, both native Hawaiians, as its representatives. Joseph Akiwenzie, Cape Crocker, Ont., is an Indian; F. Kalm, registered from Detroit, Mich., is a native of Greenland, and is the only Eskimo in the race. A. May, an Englishman, is coming from Hong-Kong, China, to participate, while Howard Masterson, Bermuda, England, Germany, Denmark, France, Belgium, China, Greenland, Canada, Holland, the United States, and Hawaii are the home countries of some of the competitors.
