Victorias Defeat Abegweits 5-4

Blue and White Show Class and Head Hockey To Beat Old Rivals

Showing better team-play in the first two periods, skating just as fast throughout the game, Victorias triumphed over the Abegweits at the arena last night in an exhibition game by a score of 5 to 4.

The blue and white team, determined to back the almost impossible odds that has dogged their success all winter, went out last night on a greater surface to demonstrate to the hundreds of fans that they are still in the picture, so far as turning a heads-up and good looking exhibition of the national pastime.

The first period had gone five minutes when the Abegweits had a hard night for the Victorias as they threw up a wall of defence behind the red line that their forwards were unable to break through. This added to the fact that their team play was such as a whole, makes last night's a well earned and full victory.

Ensigne has its shining light, and the night set to was no exception to the rule—the brilliant star being Ed McEwen in the Vic offense. He was in a most creditable position in a most creditable position in the Vic offense. When a goal is mentioned, one naturally is inclined to think of his pads and other gear, rebounds, etc. McEwen had some "tricks" last night and there were no rebounds—he caught his team passed twenty-four of them. When a goal is mentioned, one naturally is inclined to think of his pads and other gear, rebounds, etc. McEwen had some "tricks" last night and there were no rebounds—he caught his team passed twenty-four of them.

Bathurst counted for the Abbots on a pass from Squarebriggs. Vics 2; Abbots 1.

SECOND PERIOD

Nine minutes from the opening whistle Prowse going great guns carries the puck to the mouth of the net and returns the favor to Squarebriggs who has the score, Bill Power, elongated sub defense star, playing his first senior game, came through from two-thirds ice to go it alone, making the count read 3 to 2. It was a clever piece of stickhandling.

The first penalty of the game was handed out in this period, Squarebriggs being chased for two minutes.

THIRD PERIOD

Nine minutes from the whistle Saunders raised the red and black hopes in a solo to skate close in on "Vickey" Williams, playing a great game centered to the net mouth, Lawlor following close on his heels grabbed the pass to again put the Vics in the lead and one minute later added another to his credit from a mix-up on the Abbots ten foot line.

Abbots playing four up and handsome gave their opponents a very busy eight minutes of final play, Bathurst getting the Abegweit fourth and last goal two minutes from the end.

There were four penalties in this period, Cox, Lawlor and Nicholson drawing two—all Victorias.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS

Carrying Puck Against Time—1st, Cronin, Vics, 15-5 secs.; 2nd, Nicholson, Vics, 15-3 secs.; 3rd, Acorn, Abbots, 15-5 secs.

"Cash And Carry" Again!

BY QUIN HALLS

Once again it is announced that "Cash and Carry" Pyle will make another attempt to convert suffering bums into coin of the realm.

Following the cross country crawl which Pyle staged last year, it was thought that one such event would be sufficient punishment for even a Pyle who seems to take punishment like a punching bag and bounce back for more. After the bunions that he finished the long trek pounded the pavements of New York City and wound up at Madison Square Garden with their whiskers flying in the breeze and their feet wrapped up in burp socks, and Pyle had slipped the winners their share of the prize money, it was rumored about that the promoter was in the red something like a hundred thousand on the event.

It wasn't a financial success. That's a certainty. But Good Old Charley didn't seem to suffer from the setback. Naturally Charley had ridden across the country in a well movable bungalow with a kitchen attached and while he must have known that the venture wasn't going to be a money-maker long before the strange parade ambled across the Middle West, Pyle must be given credit for holding the troupe together and bringing the show into New York under its own power. After the pay-off "Cash and Carry" was game enough to put a pink carnation in his buttonhole, and smile it off. Charley is like that. And now we find that Pyle has kicked the wolves away from his front door—if there were wolves at his front door—and is about ready to try it again. Apparently he still believes in that old adage about the constant drip of water because he isn't promoting these cross country anking contests just for the pleasure of giving the bunions their exercise. Charley is too smart for that.

The second saunter is billed to get under way sometime around April. This year Pyle has decided to let the entries shoulder part of the financial load. Last year, after the start he discovered that a lot of his hoofers were really bums at heart. As they were accustomed to pounding the concrete across the country, they tackled on with the Pyle caravan merely to have a place to eat and a doctor to look after the privilege of being allowed to hoof across the country. But Pyle can find 'em, if they're to be found.

An interesting game of hockey was played in the Montague rink on Friday February 22nd, when the Queen Square School boys crossed sticks with the Montague School team. Ice conditions were ideal and the large number of fans present were treated to a brand of hockey that would have done credit to senior teams.

From the opening bell it was evident that the Montague boys were determined to offset their defeat of the previous season, while it was equally evident that the Queen Square boys meant to maintain their former record. The game throughout was marked by excellent competition and splendid goal-keeping on the part of both sides.

In the first period the Montague boys scored one goal while the city boys were unable to get by Fraser.

In the second period the Montague boys had three more goals to their credit, the city boys one.

In the third session the Montague boys, playing a stiff defensive game did not score, while the visitors secured one count.

At the conclusion of the game the visiting team was banquetted at the Ives House and the guests expressed their appreciation of the good time accorded them.

The lineup:
 Queen Square—Goal, J. Reardon; defense, J. Duffy, W. MacIntyre, A. Reardon; forwards, R. McCabe, J. Gilmour, R. Arsenault, P. Maher, A. Blanchard.

Montague—Goal, G. Fraser; defense, A. McDonald, E. McCarron, P. McCarron; forwards, K. Beer, H. Landry, L. Poole, N. Grant, I. Stirling.

Referee—Earl Grant.

ATLANTICS WILL MEET WOLVERINES

The Teams Will Clash In Moncton Tonight—Great Game Expected.

MONCTON, March 8—The Halifax Wolverines, that much talked of hockey machine and dubbed the "pride of Nova," will be seen in action here tomorrow night, according to an announcement by officials of the Atlantic Hockey Club following negotiations with the management of the Wolverines last evening.

The announcement that the Atlantics and the Wolverines will clash on the frozen surface will doubtless be well received by hockey fans in Moncton. Previous to Moncton's elimination from the M. A. H. A. play-downs, the Atlantics and the Wolverines were about the only teams that the majority of fans could see for the Maritime championship, and speculation was rife as to which city, Halifax or Moncton, had the better team. Now that these teams are actually going to try conclusions, the fans should attract a large crowd of fans.

The Wolverines will use their full team here and have been granted permission to use a couple of Halifax players in addition, while the regular Atlantic lineup will form the opposition. Ed Herwin, who is at present in Moncton, is expected home in time for the game and all other members of the team are on hand.

Five Classes of Racing Today

Being Staged by Speedway Club Under Auspices of Firemen—Big Crowd Expected.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the Victoria Speedway Club will stage five classes of horse racing, ranging from free-for-all to class B Trot. These are staged under the auspices of the Charlottetown Fire Brigade, and the firemen will have collectors down to make collections in aid of their tournament this summer. The track committee are having the track cleared this morning and say they will have a perfect sheet of ice for the races this afternoon.

The free-for-all is expected to be a thrilling contest between Mr. Atterby, York Ota and Colorado. Mr. Blinger Aubrey, Bonnie Brook and Johnny Walker will hook up in last trot. This race will be worth following to see and will be without doubt unusually close.

The officials are asking for a big crowd on time so that the race can be pulled off at 2 o'clock.

Wolverines Lose To Bathurst In Total Goal Score

BATHURST, N. B., March 8—Bathurst won the amateur hockey championship of the Maritime Provinces here tonight, holding the Halifax Wolverines to a two-all draw in the deciding game of a home and home series and capturing the title by a total score of three to two, having scored the Wolverines one-nothing last night.

The first period was so close that the game was called off at 10:30. The Wolverines to a two-all draw in the deciding game of a home and home series and capturing the title by a total score of three to two, having scored the Wolverines one-nothing last night.

Corey Williams Will Appear At Montreal Meet

MONTRÉAL, March 8—Corey Williams, the world's premier sprinter, will show his wares to Montrealers on April 16, when he will take part in an indoor athletic meet at the Forum. The meet is under the auspices of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association and it is expected that Jack Elder, the Notre Dame man, who handed Williams his only defeat of the present indoor season, will also compete.

Miss Ethel Oatherwood, the woman high jump champion of the world, will also be present. It is stated.

CONCERT DINNER

The Young People's Guild of Brookside has a very successful concert and box social in the hall, Feb. 15th. It being a fine night and good roads, the hall was filled to capacity, so therefore a goodly sum was realized.

Clarence Demar Plans Maritime Lecture Tour

BOSTON, March 8—Clarence Demar, of Mérose, American marines running champion, plans to read the spiked shoes for the lecture platform and his literary on a speaking tour includes a trip through the Maritime Provinces in May. Mr. Demar, who is now past the mark, has not decided as to whether he will enter the Boston A. A. meet on April 19, in an attempt to chalk up his seventh victory in the historic classic.

TRURO, March 8—The annual meeting of the Maritime Hockey Association will be held here on Friday, March 15, starting at 10 a. m. The sessions will be held in the hall. Frank Wilson, of Truro, is president, and I. Logan Barnhill, Jr., of Truro is secretary.

'Y's' Men In Weekly Meeting

The regular weekly meeting of the Charlottetown "Y's" Men's Club was held in the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening at 6 p. m., D. W. R. Carson occupying the chair. A report of the ladies night committee was given by E. C. Clawson. The date for this function fixed at March 21st.

Two beautiful solos were rendered by Mr. Roy Oudmore and Mr. Jack McNair, accompanied by Miss Sterns. The speaker of the evening, Hon. W. M. Lea, Minister of Agriculture, gave a short address of the Canadian Farmers trip to the Old Country. The party of over seventy representatives of the farmers from all over the Dominion left Halifax in January and after an unexpected stop...

ROSS WILL GO IF BRUINS CHANGE HANDS

BOSTON, March 8—Should the contemplated sale of the Boston Bruins, the Hub's entry in the National Hockey League, take place, as now appears as a likelihood, there are strong rumors that Art Ross will be supplanted as manager.

Ross is known to be in the favor of Charles F. Adams, the present owner, but there has been dissatisfaction with his control of the team ever since Sprague Cleghorn, who piloted the secret during Ross' sickness, last season, was released. Charges of jealousy were made at that time, and it is intimated that the best of feeling does not exist among members of the squad.

Should Ross be replaced, rumor has it that either Cleghorn or George Owen will be his successor. Cleghorn is popular in Boston, and has done a good job with the Newark team of the Canadian-American League, considering the material with which he has had to work.

Owen, a local resident, enjoys unusual popularity with the fans, and it is hinted that he was induced to join the Bruins mid-season on the promise that he will be given the managerial reins. He knows the game thoroughly, has proved his executive ability in the business world, and has gained valuable experience in professional hockey this season.

Frank Patrick has a 60 day option on the Bruins, and will probably exercise it, as the Bruins are a money-making team, and Adams is anxious to dispose of his club because of other business interests.

Plymouth in this most historic old place, the spot where the Pilgrim Fathers left England, the home of famous Admirals.

The party was welcomed by the Lord Mayor of Liverpool.

The speaker eulogized the beauty of the Old Country, where the field and lawns were green even in January and a much more luxuriant growth of pasture evident, than we have in this country in June. Here, remarked the speaker, the fur coats worn by many of the party were the cause of many amusing incidents.

The speaker told of the beauty and grandeur of the Cathedrals and Castles visited by the party, and of the wonderful stained glass, carvings and architecture to be admired in these ancient edifices.

The party travelled mostly in character...

Clanke Bros. And Bankers Again Tonight

At the Arena Bank between 6 and 7 p. m. and 7 p. m. Monday, March 8th, Ota, Mack, and the Bank of Nova Scotia for the annual fixture of the season. Clarence Demar is now somewhat overmatched by the addition of Mr. F. B. Ota, who for the past few weeks has been somewhat indisposed.

We hear that the Bankers are bringing forth a "Bank Holiday" to show there is very little that this as "Bank Holiday" is still going strong with the "Bankers".

This game will be somewhat more exciting than the previous one, as Mr. Ota has been largely concerned present an iron cup to the winners of this league.

Much interest is being taken these games, and we firmly believe that the spectators will not be disappointed tonight between the hours of six and seven.
