Wedding Bells

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place in St. Maichi's Church, Kinkora, at six o'clock on Wednesday morning, Sept. 26th, when Aeneas Mary Smith, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Smith, Central Bedouque, was united in marriage to Lineus J. Trainor, only son of Mrs. Trainor and the late John Trainor of Grand River.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. M. J. Smith, P. P. The bride looked youthful in a dress of white silk crepe, white hat and white gloves, and shoes. She carried a white beaded purse. She was attended by Miss Margaret Trainor, only sister of the groom. She wore a dress of blue crepe with beaded trimmings, hat and shoes of matching shades. Mr. Hubert McBride, cousin of the bride, supported the groom. After the ceremony the bride party motored to the home of the bride, where breakfast was served to the immediate members of the contracting families. After which the happy young couple motored to Borden in the groom's car, beautifully decorated for the occasion and left on a wedding tour of the Maritime Provinces.

The bride received very beautiful and useful presents from her many well-wishers. The groom is a talented musician, a member of St. Patrick's Choir, Grand River, and his beautiful home in Arlington, he also owns a valuable property in Bayside.

WOMEN IN U. S. MORE INTELLIGENT ABOUT POLITICS

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—Women are taking more, and more intelligent interest in the current political campaign than in any preceding one, largely because the economic issues involved strike so close to home and affect so directly the life of the individual voter in the opinion of Miss Helen Varick Boswell, veteran campaigner and vice-chairman of the New York county Republican committee for seventeen years until her retirement last year.

"Women are naturally conservative in politics, as in most things," Miss Boswell said yesterday. "They are slow to seek office, but if they sought office more, they would hold more offices. It is not the fault of the men. The women are slow to come forward."

"But in the present campaign," she added, "the issues involved affect voters so directly, there are so many economic questions involving taxation, that they want to know what is being done with the money. They are more interested in issues and less in personalities than ever before."

NO TROUBLE WHATSOEVER

An invitation to dinner had been sent to the newly settled practitioner in reply to the hostess received an absolutely illegible letter. "I must know if he accepts or rejects, she declared.

"If I were you, suggested the husband, "I should take it to the chemist. Chemists can always read doctors' letters, however badly they are written."

The chemist looked at the sheet of notepaper which she handed him, and, without waiting for her explanation, went into his dispensary and returned a few minutes later with a bottle which he handed over the counter.

There you are, madam, he said. That will be three and sixpence.

SKATING RINK FOR CHILDREN

Considerable work has been done during the past two months on the pond adjoining the Electric Light station at Summerside. The bed has all been cleaned from alders and the pond reflooded.

It is the intention of the Electric Light management to make this a safe skating rink in the winter for the use of town children. A skating pavilion is being erected and will be heated for the use of the children while putting on and removing their skates.

Flood light will be placed round the pond for evening skating. The grounds round the pond and power plant have been graded and present a very nice appearance. Another improvement is the new silencer which is proving very successful in reducing the noise of the engines, which had become an annoyance to citizens residing near the plant.

All these improvements have given work to a large number of labourers at a season of the year when there was not a great deal of trucking.

This is the first time that the Town of Summerside has attempted anything in the way of an outdoor playground of any kind for the children to keep them off the streets. An outdoor skating rink for poor children who cannot afford to go to the indoor rink is a step in the right direction in the way of providing innocent amusement for a great number of kiddies, who would otherwise be running the streets and probably getting into mischief.

Mr. MacNeill, chairman of the Electric Light Committee is to be commended for this idea, which has also to some extent solved the unemployment situation.—S.

OPTIMISM WILL MAKE YOU MORE BEAUTIFUL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—The women of the United States were reprimanded last night for trying to fool themselves into thinking they can become Norma Shearers by getting a facial and stopping at the drugstore on the way home for a fifty-cent box of soap.

Dr. Belle Wood-Cornstock, beauty expert, said she was "positively tired of beauty salons, beauty operators, beauty treatments, beauty lotions and beauty creams."

Dr. Wood-Cornstock is against beauty. She says she is for it but it happens that her idea of beauty doesn't coincide with Earl Carroll's. Those who have seen some of Mr. Carroll's show girls parade across the stage are inclined to agree with him pending the time Dr. Wood-Cornstock turns up with her exhibit.

The doctor's theory is that if a girl is healthy, she is bound to be beautiful no matter how many pounds she puts on.

Dr. Wood-Cornstock denounced "laborious" inane exercises as a means of reducing and intimidated that women who went in for them were fat in the head as well as in the hips. She also says that if the ladies take an optimistic view of things, they will turn out to be beautiful, although no one has apparently ever known of a girl who turned into a Miss America just by repeating every morning, "I am optimistic that the League of Nations will arrive at a happy compromise on the question of a mandate for Iraq."

MAN $2,728 RICHER BY HIS FORGETFULNESS

MONROE CITY, Mo., Oct. 24—By forgetting that he had $1,000, I. N. Wright, of Los Angeles, Calif., made $2,728.

Thirty-four years ago he deposited the $1,000 in a bank at Galesburg, Ill. Wright forgot about the account until recently when a statement of account reached him after being forwarded through several of his old addresses. The statement showed that he had a balance of $3,728.

"Why do you want your letters returned?" asked the girl who had broken the engagement. "Are you afraid I'll take them to court?"

"No," sighed the young man, "but I paid to have those letters written by an expert, and I may use them again some day."

P. E. I. FIRE RECORD SHOWS REDUCTION

(Financial Post, Toronto) Barly of fire of suspicious origin in Prince Edward Island is stressed in a recent letter received by The Financial Post from Charles A. Beer, fire marshal of the province. This, Mr. Beer states, has allowed the staff of the fire marshals' office in the province to concentrate their work on inspection and prevention.

There were 252 fires recorded in 1933, showing a total property loss of $281,000, of which $154,000 was covered by insurance. Twenty-three causes of fires are listed in the official report of the provincial fire marshal, showing that sparks accounted for 60 of the fires, the greatest number; defective chimneys, flues, etc., for 31 fires; smoking and matches for 23; and automobiles for 17.

Small Per Capita Loss

The loss of $3.19 per capita in 1933 compared very favorably with the two previous years when loss of $7.52 and $9.33 were recorded. That this small loss was an excellent one may be judged from the fact that Prince Edward Island has but two waterworks towns—Charlottetown, the capital city, with population of 12,380 and Summerside, the county seat for Prince County in the western end of the province, with a population of 3,500. Outside of this there are only four other towns and villages with organized fire departments.

Bearing in mind that this province with its population of 85,000 is about 95 per cent agricultural in occupation, it can be seen that fire protection measures are fairly well looked after.

Chief Causes of Fire

Chief causes of fires in 1933 along with property loss are shown in the following table:

Table with 3 columns: No. of Property Insurance Fires, Loss, and Total. Rows include Sparks, Chimneys, Smoking, Automobiles, Stove pipes, Lightning, and Other.

Place of Origin

Of the 252 fires, 131 originated in farm properties, 65 in dwellings other than farm, and 21 were mercantile losses. Place of origin of fires is shown in the following table:

DAIRY SITUATION IN CANADA

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics issued on September 10 in conjunction with the Report on Cold Storage Holdings as summary of conditions in the dairying districts as they relate to butter production. The previous report pointed out that cold storage stocks of creamery butter were approximately 46 million pounds, showing an increase of 6 million pounds over the same month in the previous year. Feed and pasture conditions were found to be quite unfavorable, particularly in the Maritime Provinces, southern and western Ontario, south-western Manitoba and in extensive sections of southern and west-central Saskatchewan. Pastures were bare or rated as considerably below normal in all parts of the Dominion except in a few specially favoured regions where moisture was plentiful.

In the past month, late fall rains have been responsible for a very considerable improvement in pastures. In addition, a good second
