PHIL McDONALD, CANADA'S BEST IN THE 1-4 MILE HURDLES IN ROTHESAY, SAYS OLYMPIC COACH

Island Boy the Makings of a Great Timber Topper Says Captain Cornelius, the Man Selected to Coach the Dominion's Athletes.—Ability as Premier Hurdler Proven Beyond Shadow of Doubt.—McDonald will Finish Training in Ont. where He will be Properly Coached in the Hurdles.

(Canadian Press) ST. JOHN, N. B., May 19.—The discovery of the makings of Canada's best quarter-mile hurdler and a possible victor in this event in the Olympic games at Paris is one result of his visit here, Captain J. R. Cornelius, head coach of the Canadian Olympic track and field athletes, believes Phil MacDonald of Charlottetown, is the "final." MacDonald came to Rothesay to work out with the other aspirants from the Maritimes for places on the Canadian Olympic squad. But he did not come as a hurdler but with the hope of getting a place in the broad jumping contingent. Captain Cornelius' appraising eye took one look at the six-foot islander as he tore down the run and leapt from the take-off into the jumping pit. The head coach labelled him right away as a possible world-beating hurdler. He decided to put the watch on him to find whether he could sprint. It is reported that in the 220 he did better time than the men who are trying out for the sprints and in the quarter he made such astonishing time as to remove all doubts from the mind of Captain Cornelius that here, indeed, was a potential hurdler of marked ability.

Eager to Try It. MacDonald was asked if he would work on the hurdles in addition to the jumps, and he replied immediately: "I will do anything the committee wants me to do; I am eager to do all I can to put the Maritimes on top." Captain Cornelius asked A. W. Covey, president of the M. P. B. A. A. U. of C. head of the Maritime Olympic committee, whether he would be willing to allow young MacDonald to go to Ontario to be properly coached in running the hurdles. Mr. Covey said he would only be too glad to see the lad given the best possible chance, so Captain Cornelius will endeavor to make arrangements upon his return to Ontario for the further development of MacDonald. In the meantime the island boy will remain at Rothesay practising his jumps and sprint.

The head coach tried to make arrangements to stay at Rothesay a few days longer but as he was unable to get in touch by telegraph with the proper authorities, he had to adhere to his original schedule and left yesterday afternoon for Montreal where he is booked to look over the Quebec athletes today, tomorrow and Wednesday. Captain Cornelius was delighted with the calibre of the material assembled at Rothesay where the Maritime athletes are working out at the Rothesay Collegiate School track and field. He said that if he had three weeks to spend on these youngsters he thought that he could take them up to Hamilton with him and trim the track and field team which he had been coaching for a long time and which was noted for his ability and all-around excellence. Young MacDonald is 19 years of age and stands 6 feet 1 1/2 inches in height. Mr. Covey said last night that the Maritime committee would need about $800 to cover all the expenses incidental to training the boys and sending them to Montreal. He expected to realize some of this from the coming boxing matches in St. John and if this was insufficient he hoped friends of amateur sport would come to the rescue and prevent the possible deficit.

During the next three weeks Captain Cornelius will visit many of the places where Olympic aspirants are training to give them the benefit of his experience and will then conduct their training in Montreal during the last week before the trials. Others at Rothesay "Phil" MacDonald of Charlottetown, and "Zan" Miller, of Sussex, joined the Maritime Olympic squad in training at Rothesay on Saturday, and worked out under the eye of Captain Cornelius. MacDonald made a fine showing at the Dominion meet at Halifax last fall by taking second in the broad jump, with a mark of 21 feet 7 inches; third in the discus throw, which was won by Don Cable, second in the standing broad jump, and first in the hop, step and jump, with a mark of 42 feet 8 1/2 inches. MacDonald is also a great hop, step and jump man and it is believed that with sufficient training he will also become a world-beater at this event.

NOTE—Phil MacDonald is a protégé of William Halpenny, former Canadian pole vault champion and a member of Canada's Olympic team at Antwerp, Belgium in 1921. Halpenny by the way is one of Canada's premier gymnasts and former athletic coach for the Montreal A. A. C. He was secured by the Abegweits a few years ago to coach the local talent of his home town (Charlottetown); it was then that he discovered in MacDonald such great possibilities and the making of a wonderful athlete. Although being employed the past seven or eight months as physical instructor at the League of the Cross Gym, he has always kept a watchful eye and never failed to impart to Phil his wise judgment and advice.—Sport Ed.

EVERY PROVINCE ENTERED

From the land of the Evangeline, through the Maritimes into Quebec, all over Ontario, and thence clear across to the Pacific, the amazing demand for Strollers has been shown for nearly two years. A high-quality Virginia product, it caught the attention and public favor of the same time. The latest contest simply shows how popularity spreads. Strollers are sold everywhere by leading tobacconists. And the demand has continued to grow until the monthly production runs into many millions. Small packets of ten are sold at 15 cents, packets of 25 for 35 cents, and fifty for 75 cents, and fifty for $1.00. This broad range of prices and sizes has been necessary in meeting the public demands. ONLY CLUES PRINTED The latest contest was simply a "clues" contest. Only the outline of the Movie Star faces were published, yet thousands recognized them and were awarded for the first complete sheets received, the date of mailing being considered in the judging. It was the greatest race through the mails in Canadian history. More than 300 completed sheets were received the first mail. It pays to say "Gimme" and smoke Strollers in terms of time, flavor, mildness and real satisfaction—it also pays to save the inserts, as the fortunate winners know, who are being congratulated by friends to-day.

TIPS FROM AN OLD-TIMER

Never make up your mind that a play is impossible as the ball leaves the bat. There is always a chance until the ball has passed you and is on its way to the outfield. The question of an infielder's speed doesn't enter into the scheme. The thought is, first no player should ever give up on a ball until the possibility for a play has been eliminated. I always work on that theory, and have this and am satisfied myself by getting a full run in the field. Of course, my speed helps, but every infielder has certain possibilities, and he should always make the most of them by giving every ball a battle. Don't quit on a ball, no matter how impossible the play may seem.
