...Captain John Weatherbie of Louisburg, C. B., formerly of Georgetown spent a few days in Georgetown last week.—Mr. Weatherbie left Georgetown about fourteen years ago. He is now engaged in mercantile business in Louisburg.—&

...SYMPATHY EXPRESSED.—Great sympathy goes out to the bereaved family who have lost a loving son and brother, namely, Pte. Stephen Cherry, of Georgetown, who was killed in action in France some days ago. Pte. Cherry was well and favorably known in Georgetown and a host of friends will mourn for him who has made the supreme sacrifice.—G.

...O. G. T.—St. George Lodge, No. 109, I. O. G. T., held a quarterly meeting in the Temperance Hall on May 1st, 1917. The report of the lodge was as usual favorable and showed that the lodge is maintaining its own. Several new members have been added and many pleasant and profitable evenings have been spent during the past winter. After the usual quarter's business had been transacted the following officers were elected:—P. C. T., Bro. L. W. Shaw; J. T., Bro. S. C. Gordon; V. T., Sis. Bella McLeod; R. S., Sis. May Lavers; A. S., Sis. Jane Stewart; F. S., Sis. Lydia Ross; Treas., Sis. Mary Shaw; Marshal, Sis. Laura Yoston; Chaplain, Bro. Geo. Yoston; Organist, Sis. Mrs. Jenkins; D. M., Sis. Cassie Dalziel; Guard, Sis. Elsie Lavers; Sentinel, Bro. Earl Lavers; Miss Margaret McConnell was recommended for Lodge Deputy. Addresses were then given by Brothers Yoston and Henry, after which the meeting closed in the usual way.—G.

...FISHING GOOD.—Reports received from the different lobster factories in the vicinity of Georgetown indicates good prospects for the season. An encouraging feature is the large size of the lobsters caught. All the factories are in operation on the same scale as in former years.—&

...GEORGETOWN WOMENS INSTITUTE.—The Womens Institute of Georgetown held a most enjoyable meeting on Thursday last when Miss McFarlane gave a demonstration on the making of salads. There was a large attendance of members and visitors and when the demonstration was completed tea was served.—&

...NOTED HORSEMAN.—Rt. A.

J. Fraser, dentist, Montague was in Lorne Valley on Tuesday on a business trip. The doctor is an enthusiastic horseman; among the fast ones which he has owned are "Almost S," "Minnie Mac" and "Peter the Great" which latter he sold recently to Mr. John McLeal of Victoria Cross for a handsome sum. He is now the owner of Commodore Leavitt a speedy pacer with a record of 2.20.—&

...TAKES CHARGE OF SCHOONER.—Captain Luke Roach went to Souris on Monday to take charge of his schooner the "Alma L. Gertie" which he intends to load with potatoes at Stanley Bridge for W. T. Weir of that place. The "Alma L. Gertie" was the last vessel to clear from Georgetown harbor last fall. It is pleasant to report that Captain Roach who was seriously indisposed during the greater part of the past winter has almost completely recovered his health.—&

THE SONG OF SONGS

Search the pages of lyric literature from Pindar and Sappho to Swinburne and Shelley. Hasten fleet-foot through the centuries from the building of the Pyramids down to this two thousandth Anno Domini—and where will you find another love-song like unto Solomon's? 'Tis a suite of seven lyric idyls, sung by the beautiful Shulamite maiden and her royal lover, with a haunting chorus by the shadowy Daughters of Jerusalem in the background. 'Tis the rapture of human passion glorified and transfigured in the radiance of celestial love.

Its verses are the very soul of music. They sigh like the woods-wind in the silences of the night. They throb with the rhythm of immemorial seas upon the shores of Time. They sparkle like the gems of far-famed Golconda. They are redolent of Sabean odors from the spicy gardens of Araby the Blest. Our pulses thrill to their compelling cadences. We renew our own youth, with its springtime of love, in their lyric ecstasy, and dwell again in those Elysian fields where music, and moonlight, and feeling are one.

Amidst the jungle of modern verse-making, with its monotonous jingle—how refreshing to turn to the Song of Songs, with its lilting measures, its felicitous frankness of expression, its marvelous imagery. The very breath of the vernal year blows through it with bird-song and ripple of waters; with waving field and verdant vineyard; with fringed woodland and flowery mead.

The Wedding Day; the Bride's Memories; the Day of Betrothal; the King's Meditations; the Bride's longing for her old Home in Lebanon; the Renewal of the Vows in the Vineyard—these make the seven lyrics that contain poetry enough to furnish forth seven times seven volumes of modern verse. Small wonder that the Ages call it the "Song of Songs"!
