FORMER SLAVE DEAD.

BLENHHELM, Ont., Sept. 20. — One of the "landmarks" of this part of western Ontario passed away Friday in the death of Cornelius Thompson, of Shrewsbury on the edge of Rondeau Bay, "Rev" Mr. Thompson as he long ago designated himself was originally a slave in the southern states and escaped making his way to the waters of Lake Erie, across $800 on the auction block.

which he passed and settled on the northern shores. His family Bible shows that last March, he reached the great age of 100 years. For many years he acted as a local preacher, often to the great entertainment of his audiences who enjoyed his manner and his many oddities of speech. He was always proud to narrate that in the days before he escaped from slavery, he had been put up for sale and brought to the waters of the auction block.

—PROHIBITION NEWS.—There is much discussion at the present time about the Prohibition Law, as to how it has succeeded. The Prohibition Law has been of much benefit to this County, as can be shown by the Police Court records. Railroad Conductors are also good authority on the subject and their report upon disorder in the trains seem to show a pleasing contrast with that of a few years back. The rising generation is also being protected and this itself is something that we should all rejoice at.—H.

SEA MONSTERS ARE ATTACKING BOATS

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., Sept. 20.—Sea monsters which are reported to be from forty to sixty feet long have attacked boats engaged in fishing out of British Harbor, Trinity Bay, and fishermen are afraid to go on the grounds. A large school of these monsters, of which no description has been received, appeared off the coast a few days ago, and are still in the bay. An organized expedition will be sent from the settlements off which the school lies in an effort to capture or disperse this strange menace to the prosecution of the fishery. Several boats which went out recently narrowly escaped being swamped by these huge denizens of the deep. The appearance of the school has been reported to the department of marine and fisheries by the telegraph operator at British Harbor.

MOTHER AND THE STYLES.

Dresses high and dresses low, Fashion bids them come and go; Tresses bobbed and tresses long, Fashion sways the moving throng. What was new becomes the old, Thus this changing life is told. First we view it with a smile, Then adopt the latest style. But with all the passing days Mothers never change their ways. Gay of heart and bright of face, Fashion seems to rule the place. With the swinging of the clock Youth gives age another shock, Flaunting into public view Something age would never do, Laughing at us when we preach Scornful of us when we teach. But with all of fashion's wiles Mothers never change their styles.

Motherhood's no fickle thing

To be changed each fall and spring As it was so it remains. Spite of all its cares and pains, Joy may call and pleasures lure But a mother's love is pure, And the baby sinks to rest, Pillowed on her lovely breast, Closing little drooping eyes To the softest lullabies.

Mothers worry night and day When their children are away; Mothers grieve when they are ill, Always have and always will. They would shield you with their care Every day and everywhere, And they're happy through and through At the slightest smile from you— To the ending of their days Mothers never change their ways. —Edgar A. Guest. (Copyright, 1922, by Edgar A. Guest.)

WHY BABIES CRY

It's often hard to find the trouble —It may be teeth—it may be stomach—but oh! so often it is just a chafed irritated skin on which poor Soap has been used.

The remedy for this is so simple! Hours of suffering—night after night of disturbance—have been avoided by mothers, who have insisted on—Baby's Own Soap. Of course it costs a little more, a very little more, however—than what is often bought and used—but four generations of Canadian Mothers are there to vouch for its purity, for the soothing healing effect on Baby's delicate skin, for the lovely pure flower fragrance it leaves when Baby fresh and clean is taken from his bath.

Don't you think, Madam, it's worth paying the 15c a cake, a little less if you buy a box (6 cakes) which your dealer asks for Baby's Own Soap. Adv.

1000 Eggs In Every Hen

New System of Poultry Keeping—Get Dollar A Dozen Eggs—Famous Poultryman

TELLS HOW

"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short," says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years Editor of Poultry Success.

The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then, she goes to market. Yet, it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care.

How to work to get 1,000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make slacker hens hustle; $5.00 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other money making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Trafford's "1,000 Egg Hen" system of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Eggs should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Trafford tells how, if you keep chickens and want them to make money for you, cut out this ad and send it with your name and address to: Henry Trafford, Suite 628F, Herald Building, Huntington, N. Y., and a free copy of "THE 1,000 EGG HEN" will be sent by return mail.

Miss Holman Reviews Social Service Work For Past Year

Following is the report read by Miss Carrie Holman, the Social Service Secretary of P. E. Island for the year ending September 19th, 1922, at yesterday's meeting of the Council in P. W. C. Hall:— I did not enter on my duties until about the middle of January on my return home. I then met with Dr. Ayres and other officers and we arranged an executive meeting for Feb. 9th. Owing to bad weather conditions the meeting was delayed and was small. After this meeting I spoke before or wrote to the different Women's organizations on the Island, the Women's Institutes, the I. O. E. in Summerville, Charlottetown, and Alberton and the W. C. T. U. Summerville, arguing the circulation of petitions to the Government asking for the suffrage for women in provincial matters in the interest of the social legislation so badly needed here. I had already moved at the convention of the Women's Institutes that they, as the most representative body of women on the Island, should ask that the suffrage be extended to them and that had been done. At my suggestion a petition was circulated in Summerville by the W. C. T. U. and the I. O. E. and sent to the Government. Our effort's combined with those of other organizations, such as the Women's Liberal Club of Charlottetown, were successful. I went with a deputation from the Red Cross Society and other voluntary members of the government asking for legislation on Public Health but this met with no success for the present. We got information re the laws for the censorship of moving pictures and had a bill presented to the government asking for this but were unsuccessful again. When the C. A. S. was organized in Summerville for Prince County I was asked as S. S. Secretary to write to the different districts asking that representatives be appointed to act for the society. Through lack of assistance from the government the society has been unable to carry on as yet. The secretaries of the Women's Institutes fifty-nine in all sending them copies of Social Welfare and suggesting that they subscribe to the periodical. I met with only one response probably some of the institutes are already subscribers. I was unable to speak before the convention of the Women's Institutes when asked to do so as S. S. Secretary in July but I wrote a letter which was read at the meeting urging that the individual institutes study earnestly the problems involved in the new responsibilities which have come to women in the granting of the franchise to them and the opportunities it opens to them in legislation for the betterment of the home and the child. I called to the attention of Miss Carruthers a little book on rural community problems which she ordered.

The local papers have been most courteous and generous in giving me space for reports on Social Service work or for any items and letters dealing with social welfare I have taxed their interest and generosity to the utmost for it seemed to me that publicity and propaganda—if I may use that much abused term—is what is most needed at this stage of our work. I may mention as an example that though the resume I made of the report of the Annual Meeting of the S. S. C. of Canada was over three columns in length the whole thing was published in the Island papers. The subjects which I was thus able to bring before the public at various opportunities were,—Child Welfare, the necessity for juvenile courts and detention homes, public health work, race track gambling and prohibition. I have concentrated more on the latter during the summer on account of the possibility of our holding the plebiscite on the question of bonded warehouses. In one case I brought to the attention of Dr. Shearer the statement appearing in the press that thirteen points on the Island, in Manitoba was spending more on a few places saying a few words, intoxicating liquor than Quebec, myself on local conditions. Dr. Shearer was able, after some thought at the time of Miss Whitton's visit two church conferences were being held which necessitated the absence of a large number of clergymen the meetings as a whole were most successful. Miss Whitton's undoubted ability and earnestness in this meeting with a ready response everywhere. Perhaps there has been more work—and in consequence I hope greater results to be gained—in making arrangements for the present meeting the program for which is a direct outcome of Miss Whitton's talks to us. I have spent a good deal of your money in advertising the meetings and bringing it to the notice of individuals, hoping that the money will be spent in giving an increased number of people the opportunities of hearing our capable speakers and profiting by their advice to us in our problems.

DROPS WORD "OBEY" FROM CEREMONY

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 20.—The House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States late yesterday accepted a change in the divorce canon of the church proposed by Bishop G.H. Brent, of Western New York, which makes the church law explicit in forbidding members marrying any divorced person, except as has been the rule, where a divorce has been granted on grounds of infidelity. The present canon merely forbids clergymen performing the ceremony for divorced persons. If the amendment enacted by the bishops yesterday is approved by the House of Bishops it will go into effect next May. The House of Deputies concurred in the action of the House of Bishops celebrating from the marriage ceremony of the Episcopal Church, the word "Obey," said by the bride, and the words "With All My Wordly Goods I Thee Endow," said by the bridegroom. There was a debate over the elimination of the word "Obey" but no discussion by the deputies on the bridegroom's clause as to property.
