ZION CHURCH SERVICE

The sermon yesterday morning was based on the Tenth Chapter of Isaiah. Mr. Fulton dealt upon 'God's use of the Enemy' and 'The Atheism of Force.' He made use of a very fitting illustration, especially for the children, in the sinking of the 'Titanic' April 14th, 1912. 'Their enlarged view of God' was the closing thought of a strong sermon.

In the afternoon, in addition to a baptismal service in the Sabbath School, the Minister called upon a number of the sick in the congregation, preparatory to his leaving for Regina, Sask., in the morning.

Last evening there was a splendid congregation present to hear the choir and sermon. 'Life on an inclined plane' was the subject of the sermon. Texts were Ps. VIII & Rom. VII, 15-25.

The belief that man is a 'worm' was compared with the thought that man is a 'God.' Science and religion agree in this that we get our safest and most comprehensive view of life when we come to see that we are all living upon a slope. Here the religion of Jesus Christ meet us, for faith in Him is such a rope let down from above to sleeping men and women on the slope, and at the other end of the rope is God.

Reference was made to the King's birthday, the service closing with the singing of the National Anthem.

At an important meeting of the Sabbath Teachers' Sabbath afternoon, it was agreed that beginning June 10th, the Sabbath School would meet at 10 a. m. Parents are requested to take note of the change and cooperate in this important part of the Church's work.

On Thursday a recital by the pupils of Prof. Thompson will be held in Zion Hall. An interesting programme is promised.

Spring cleaning will be the 'order of the day' in Zion this week.

The Minister announced that a union service of St. James and Zion Presbyterian Churches would be held next Sabbath, St. James in the morning and Zion in the evening.

Rev. W. Bruce Muir will officiate at both diets of worship.

In the morning the choir rendered Martin's fine setting of the hymn-anthem O God our Help in Ages Past, Mrs. Lafferty taking the soprano solo.

In the evening the anthem "But the Lord is mindful of His own" by Mendelssohn. Mrs. Malcolm MacKinnon sang Liddle's "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings."

ELECTRIC LIGHT RATES

Sir,—Wouldn't it be well for the City Council to reconsider the question of minimum rates, in-as-far as they apply to the small consumer? Under the rate system, as published, the benefits are all conferred upon the users of large quantities of electricity, while the increase in the minimum and service charge is increased by a figure ($9, to $12 per year, plus current charges) which, in some cases may involve a higher total cost than at present—and in many other cases giving no actual advantage over present cost to small consumers.

CAUTION

BAD ROADS

Sir,—Permit me to commend your article of early last week condemning the conditions of our highways. From personal travel, and a wide source of information, I am sure that your description was not in the least overdrawn.

Very much to its credit, the Patriot set party considerations aside to give credit to, and join in the Guardian's protest. At this opening of summer travel, instead of the perfect roads promised to us, they have not been for many years in so impassable a condition.

The writer has been informed that these conditions have been frequently brought to the attention of the departments, by supporters as well as members of the Assembly, and we know that the press, on both sides of politics, has been outspoken in protest; but thus far without effect. Will the people permit this to continue?

We want good roads! We must have them! Money enough has been vested by the Legislature to give them to us. If those in charge refuse to act, then let the people take the matter in hand. Such conditions call for a Good Roads Association to be formed free and apart from political parties, and with a live determination to see to it that this above all other public services escapes exploitation, and is made efficient.

I am Sir, etc.,
