At Byopoloye—Break Through Turkish Ranks. Prolonged Fighting

(Canadian Press) PEDGORTIYA, Montenegro—At 12 the Northern Montenegrins under General Vokostich, who recently crossed the border into the Sanjak of Narpazar, gained a firm foothold last night by capturing Byopoloye one of the chief towns of the Province after prolonged fighting but no information has been received regarding the losses on both sides. The Montenegrins have set up a provisional government there.

AMHERST, October 11—Amherst had a visit from business men who motored from Montreal to look over the industrial situation in Amherst and ascertain the opportunities for introducing natural gas from the oil wells of New Brunswick, thirty-five miles distant. After visiting the leading industries of the town they express themselves as greatly pleased with the opportunities for the introduction of gas, and predicted that with this cheap power industries would increase and the population double within the next ten years. They state their intention is to pipe the gas to Amherst in the early spring.

GOVERNMENT WINS MACDONALD SEAT

(Canadian Press) WINNIPEG, Oct. 12—By a decisive majority of 847 the electors of Macdonald yesterday returned the Gov. Candidate Alex. Morrison, over R. I. Richardson, who ran on the independent liberal ticket supporting reciprocity and increased British preference. The conservatives call the result the last nail in the coffin of reciprocity while the liberals charge it as bribery.

(Canadian Press) ARENA, San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 12—Luther McCarthy, the Missouri Giant, won the fight with Al Kaufman in second round today.

INSURANCE POLICY.

MELBOURNE, October 11—The Chronicle states that the most significant outcome of the parliamentary discussion of Premier Fisher's maternity grant bill, which provides for the payment of £5 upon the birth of each child, is the committal of the liberal party to a natural insurance policy on the lines of the Lloyd-George scheme. A section of the labor party opposes any such scheme which embodies an element of thrift, but the liberals are campaigning upon a vigorous insurance campaign during the forthcoming election.

IN RACING CIRCLES.

NORTH SYDNEY, Oct. 12—An interesting, though not a fast race, took place on Lakeside park last week between Lefty Louie owned by Lou Thompson, Cheap Jack, owned by Jack Lemoine, and Fish Hawk, owned by Bob Lemoine. The race was won by owners to drive and it was won in straight heats by Lefty Louie, with the others in the order named. In the last heat Cheap Jack came in first, but the judge set him back for performing a mixed gait. This decision gave rise to considerable speculation among the horse enthusiasts and resulted in a match for $1 a side between Cheap Jack and Lefty Louie, the gait to be as you please. This was an easy thing for Cheap Jack. There were no spectators, not even a member of the S. P. C.

Eastern Chronicle—Baron Cecil has a half sister (out of his dam) with a record of 2.07. Baron Cecil and Harring are in our opinion two of the best trotters in the Province. Billy C. and Baby Logan are not forgotten but it looks as if these two are at least their equals. In this same class is Baring's Comet the greatest two-year-old yet produced in the Maritime Provinces. Billy C. and Baby Logan are also provincial products while Baring and Baron Cecil are United States.

TROTTING RECORDS BROKEN.

LEXINGTON, Ky., October 11—Another world's record was broken at the trotting meeting here tonight, when Uhlan, 1.58, and Lewis Forrest, 2.04, owned by C. K. G. Billings, were sent out to lower the record for a pair of trotters to a pole. The original record stood at 2.07. Until this pair of famous trotters made the mile in 2.04, thus clipping off four and one-half seconds.

The horses were sent away on the second scoring, and it was evident almost from the first quarter that the record would be shattered. Not a break was made during the trial, both horses working like machines.

MEN CHARGED WITH GRAFT.

LONDON, October 11—A heated debate on the British government's contract with the Marconi Wireless company for the establishment of an imperial wireless service, took place today in the house of commons.

Attorney-General Sir Rufus Isaacs, Postmaster-General Herbert Samuel, and Chancellor of the Exchequer David Lloyd-George, denied emphatically that they had profited from the government's contract with Marconi. Several newspapers had demanded an investigation and had strongly hinted that corruption underlay the remarkable rise in the price of Marconi shares from $3.75 to $45.00, before the public knew of the agreement. Several members of parliament attacked the government for making a contract without giving other wireless systems a chance to tender for it. A committee has been appointed to investigate the matter.

Thornton of the Halifax Oxfords, came in second while Coward of Fredericton captured third place with Patterson of Halifax Wanderers fourth.

ARRESTED ON A VERY GRAVE CHARGE.

HALIFAX, Oct. 12—Detective Frank Hanrahan, of Halifax turned an important piece of work in Port Hood, Cape Breton, yesterday, when he apprehended and placed under arrest Daniel L. McKay, an ex-postmaster and magic trick, of Love Anfield, on the very serious charge of robbing his majesty's mails of hundreds of dollars. For some time past, some valuable registered letters have been missing from the mails, disappearing in the course of their being transported between Wyecocmagh and Trout Brook. Suspicion fell on McKay; and Detective Hanrahan was given the case. The detective left Halifax on Tuesday, and this morning succeeded in finding his man. He was forced to proceed with caution, hence the delay between his arrival on the scene and the arrest. The thefts cover a considerable space of time; and the charge stands as an extremely grave one. The news of the arrest came as a great shock to that district.

PLAYERS WILL GET SMALL FORTUNE

BOSTON, Oct. 11—Almost without exception every world's series in recent years has been a record-breaker. Baseball has steadily grown in popularity and each year has seen the national pastime that winds up the season attended by bigger crowds, stir up greater excitement, and consequently increase the profits that accrue to the magnates and players. So this year's series is expected to produce new high-water marks for attendance and receipts.

Interest is not lacking by any means, and if anything, is more tense and widespread than at any time in the history of the classic. A conservative estimate of the amount that will be turned into the coffers of the two clubs within the next few days, or until the series is over, places the figure close to a half-million dollars. Just how close cannot be figured, as it will depend largely upon the number of games it will take to decide the championship, which will go to the team winning four games out of seven. Yesterday's tie game will make the series last longer, but there will probably be five decided games.

There is little likelihood that it will be a runaway race, though, for the teams appear to be very evenly balanced. No series in modern times, or since the American and National League seasons, winners have clashed annually, which dates back to 1903, has been able to win out in less than five games. The Cubs game close to it in 1907 when they beat the Tigers four straight after the first game resulted in a tie.

This was one of the four times during the eight years in which the major league representatives have struggled for the title that the series was held down to five games. The Giants beat the Athletics four out of five in 1905, and the series of 1908 between the Cubs and Tigers also was played in five games, as was that of 1910, in which the Athletics trounced the Cubs. It took the limited number of games to decide a winner only twice—in 1903, when the Red Sox beat the Pirates in the first series played between the rival leagues, and in 1909, when the Pittsburgh club humbled the Tigers. An average of 35,000 fans will attend each game of the present series. The Polo Grounds will take care of a crowd that will number close to 40,000 at every contest, while Fenway Park, in Boston, has seats for 32,000. If seven games are played the attendance figures will come close to 250,000.

Last year the series was decided in six games and the receipts amounted to more than $342,000. Of this amount the Athletics, winners of the title, received close to $77,000, which netted every member of the team of seven. Yesterday's tie game was awarded a check for $2,500 a round number. This year would see even greater profits if the series is extended beyond five games. The fact that half of the series have been decided in five games, or only one game more than the fewest number required to decide a winner, is sufficient evidence that the players take no chances in doing anything that might prolong the fight. There is no desire to play a long series, even on the part of the mercenary members of a team, for the players cease to share in the profits of the first four games, of which they receive 60 per cent, divided on a 60 and 40 per cent. basis among the winners and losers. Thirty per cent of the receipts of these games go to the owners and the remaining 10 per cent to the National Commission.

At Charlottetown is Sensational—Supposition of How He Gained Freedom—Police Officers After Him

The news of the escape of W. L. Phillips from the Queen's County jail, where he was awaiting trial at the Supreme Court for breaking into Davis and Fraser's cold storage warehouse, created keen excitement in Charlottetown yesterday. About nine o'clock Saturday night the assistant jailer went his customary rounds and locked up as usual. On his way to the cells he passed through an apartment, which is retained for women prisoners, being at present unoccupied. He then proceeded down the corridor to the left and it is thought that while there Phillips slipped out of his cell into the women's ward which the jailer had just passed through on his nightly tour. The jailer then proceeded to lock Phillips's cell and seeing his boots and socks on the floor and what appeared to be the man snugly tucked away in bed, passed into the apartment through which he had made his entry and locked the door after him. He then went into that part of the jail which is occupied by jailer Coyle and his family.

Phillips in the meantime, it is supposed, with a key, which he had made from an aluminum comb, unlocked a door which led to the base-

FINE OYSTER BEDS ON MIRA RIVER.

SYDNEY, October 11—The shellfish commission sat at Marlon Bridge today, investigating conditions in regard to the Mira river oyster fisheries. The commission heard several witnesses and spent some time on the river. The oyster beds of the Mira, Professor Prince says, seem exceedingly promising. Only one bed were found the largest. Oysters yet seen in the commission's travels, which indicates that conditions as regards to food and water are splendid. The yield at present is comparatively small, but Professor Prince thinks that with proper cultivation the beds could be made to yield five or six hundred barrels annually. He also considers that in the more sheltered portions of the Mira Bay, oysters transferred from the river may acquire as fine a flavor as the famous Malpeque or Spemogee oysters. The prospects for a substantial oyster industry on the Mira river seem excellent. The commission sits here tomorrow.

GIRL NINE YEARS OLD SPEAKS EIGHT TONGUES.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 12—Winifred Stoner, a nine-year-old girl living in Pittsburg, who knows eight languages, is discussed by a magazine writer who says—

Every little while Pittsburg newspapermen in quest of a good feature story beg Mrs. James Buchanan Stoner to talk about her little daughter, Winifred. Hasn't Winifred written a new book, they ask or learned another language, or painted a new picture? And the chances are that Winifred has done one or all these things for at the age of nine this little girl is the author of two books is fluent in eight languages, is skilled in music, painting, the writing of verses and stories and modelling in clay, yet remains a sturdy, active, jolly little girl in spite of all her accomplishments. Perhaps it is because her mother had her to sleep by chanting Latin that Baby Winifred was able to learn Virgil when fourteen months old though Mrs. Stoner insists that her daughter is no genius, just an ordinary healthy child, she must really have been a fairly bright baby to speak distinctly when six months old and to recite Tennyson's Crossing the Bar, and that with feeling and emotion, at the mature age of one year. Before she could read she had learned more from pictures than most children absorb from text books in the primary schools; and in playing with her dolls—more than a hundred—she gained a first vivid knowledge of Bible lore, mythology, ancient history and the characters of Shakespeare's plays. They introduced her to the typewriter when she was three. She was fascinated by this new toy, and in playing with it not only easily learned to spell but also made advances in the field of classic literature by copying various selections in prose and verse. Through her typewriter keyboard she also learned Esperanto, and won a gold medal for a poem in that international language. At five she published her first book, a translation of Mother Goose into Esperanto, and at six issued her first volume of original verse.

ALERT'S WINS IN ONTARIO RUGBY

(Canadian Press) HAMILTON, Oct. 12—The Alerts defeated the Parkdale in the Union Ontario Rugby Football Union Game today by a score of 3 to 1. CLASSY HORSES BRING VERY LOW PRICES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—United States Senator C. W. Watson of West Virginia closed out the remainder of his Horse Show stables by auction this week. The prices obtained for the high-class animals were not up to expectation. Considerable interest was shown over the sale of Peter Pan, an imported registered hackney stallion three years old, which showed himself possessed of great substance and bone and sensational knee and lock action. Peter Pan is expected to create a furore in the national show in both breeding and horse show classes, but surprise was manifested when Frank Winterbottom got him on a $1,000 bid after a long drawn-out contest. This horse formerly cost $3,500.

For World's Baseball Championship—Defeat Nationals 2-1 35,000 Present

(Canadian Press) BOSTON, Oct. 12—Overcoming the New York Nationals today by a score of 2-1, Boston's Pennant winners of the American League need but a single victory to attain the World's Baseball Championship of 1912. The World's Series now stands—Boston 3 games won, New York 1 won, and contested a tie. Over 34,000 people witnessed the pitching duel in which Hugh Biedent, a young star, sparked as a new star in the baseball firmament. Three hits was the Giant portion from Biedent's effective service and but for an error by Gardiner the young twirler would have turned back the New York Club to defeat in 9 scoreless innings. Only a shadless brilliant was the skill of Old Master Chastie Mathewson, who except for two long distant drives in the third innings held the Red Sox helpless by the magic of his curves.
