In Memoriam

REV. WILLIAM A. DALY

Word has been received in this city of the death, on April 1st, at Portland, Ore., of Rev. William A. Daly, a native of this province.

Father Daly was born at St. Mary's Road, May 22nd, 1872. His parents were Thos. Daly and Margaret Flynn, the former a native of Newfoundland, and the latter of this province.

He received his early education in his local school, until 14 years of age, when he entered St. Dunstan's College. After graduating in 1893 he entered the Grand Seminary, Quebec, where he completed his theological course and was ordained to the Priesthood on March 13th, 1897 by Bishop Blais of Rimouski.

After a short vacation at his home he left for Oregon where he was appointed pastor of Rosebury and Eugene. The following year he was transferred to Salem and in 1913 was placed in charge of St. Mary's Church, Portland, where he has successfully labored since.

BUDDHIST ABBOT

companying the Abbot on his projected journey to Germany to establish a Buddhist monastery.

Seated in black-cloaked repose, Chao Kung outlined to interviewers his "guiding wish." "It is to found a monastery in Europe for the teaching of Buddhism."

He was born Ignatius Timothy Trebitch in Paks, Hungary, in 1875. A Jew, he turned from Judaism in England in 1897 and embraced Presbyterianism. He came to Canada with a mission to convert Jews. Later he turned to the Church of England and was given charge of a small church in Halifax, N. S.

Returning to England, Rev. Trebitch-Lincoln was given a curacy. Later he assumed the Quaker faith and then entered politics to become member of Parliament for Darlington.

Censor of Letters

For a time during the Great War, Lincoln was censor of letters in the post office. He went to Holland on a government mission but, shortly after he returned to England, left for the United States under a cloud.

Arrested there, he was extradited to England, where he was sentenced to three years for forgery. Later he was deported to Hungary.

From there his history is tied up with Germany. He became chief of the press bureau of the celebrated Kapp Putsch, seeking to over-throw the German Republican Government.

Lincoln later went to China, after many vicissitudes, to work under the Chinese leader, Wu Pei Pu.

A tragic episode in the life of Lincoln was the conviction and execution of his son, Ignatius Lincoln, hanged in England for killing a householder during a burglary.

POST GRADUATE RECITAL—The Sackville Post says: Miss Margaret Coffin, of Montague, P. E. I., presented a long but interesting program at her post-graduate recital in Beethoven Hall on Saturday evening. Miss Coffin has a soprano voice of unusual power and sufficient range to enable her to do ample justice to such selections as the "Aria" from Verdi's "Aida" and other equally trying masterpieces from Bach, Schumann, Schubert, Wolf, and Strauss. Perhaps the most notable point about her singing is her range of tones and excellent diction. Miss Coffin's voice has broadened and become much more homogeneous throughout its compass than when she was heard at her recital last year. The cleverness of her work, in a difficult program including some very exacting numbers, giving her ample opportunity to display the quality of her voice and sense of musicianship, puts aside all doubt of her future success, and places her in the front rank of Mount Allison's most promising graduates.

Minister Replies To Questions By Mr. A.E. McLean

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 11—Canada's trade relations with Poland were brought up at the opening of the House of Commons today by A. E. MacLean (Lib. Prince).

Mr. MacLean asked Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce if rumors in respect to a trade treaty between Canada and Poland were true. Fur growers of Prince Edward Island would like to be heard on the matter, he thought.

Mr. Stevens replied that when it was proper to make a statement on the matter, it would be made. He suggested that if Mr. MacLean had any representations to make, he would be glad to receive them.

KINCARDINE, Ont., April 11—Rev. Levi E. Hussey of South Porcupine has accepted an invitation to become pastor of Kincardine United Church to succeed Rev. Walter B. Craw who will go to Centennial United Church, London, it was announced today.

A native of Newfoundland, Rev. Hussey taught school there before going overseas with the Royal Newfoundland Regiment in 1917, on his return in 1919 he did mission work in the northern part of the island. A graduate of Toronto University and Union Theological College, New York, he has held charges at Hearst and South Porcupine.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., April 11—Appointment of A. B. MacKinnon, Saint John accountant, to be supervisor for Northumberland County under the provisions of the control of municipalities act, passed at the last session of the New Brunswick Legislature, was announced today after a meeting of the provincial government.

Board Of Trade Council Meeting

At a council meeting of the Board of Trade last evening it was announced by the president that Sir Henry Drayton would visit the province early in May in the interests of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and that a dinner would be held by the board on the occasion.

Regarding the matter of cattle testing for tuberculosis, Mr. J. W. Boulter stated that the last test showed only one-half of one percent, and that he did not think that another was warranted at this time.

Dr. J. A. Clark reported that the Agriculture Committee had held meetings and had brought up matters at Farmers' Week meeting.

Mr. J. W. Boulter, chairman said the Empire Trade Committee a good many things were shaping up to develop Empire trade, such as the increased production of hogs.

A report from Mr. J. O.—Hyndman, chairman of Fire Prevention Committee, was read. He stated that the Board should take up the matter of fire prevention.

Less than 60% of property was covered by fire insurance. The subject of fire prevention should be placed on the curriculum of city schools, and 30 minutes a week be devoted to the matter.

The opinion was expressed that 30 minutes a week was too much to ask the teachers to devote to the subject. Periodic lectures might be given. The president was asked to see what he could do to have the principle of education re fire prevention carried out.

The president read a letter from Mr. W. U. Appleton, General Manager of the Atlantic Region of the C. N. R. regarding the quickening of the passenger service on the Souris line. The letter stated that there were no unit cars available, but it might be possible to give a passenger service one day a week.

A letter from the Prince Edward Island Swine Growers Association called attention to a resolution passed by the Uigg and Grandview Shipping Club regarding a $3 charge for "out of line haul" for loading hogs at Vernon and Millview. The resolution protested the change.

It was decided to endorse the resolution and to write to Mr. M. F. Tomkins, Traffic Manager, Moncton, for information on the subject.

A letter from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce re hog production was referred to the Agriculture Committee.

A letter from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce inquired the reaction of the Board to the idea of smaller bank notes, and to uniform cheque forms.

The Board endorsed the idea of smaller bank notes.

A letter from the Halifax Board of Trade called attention to Bill E of the Shipping Act, and asked that the Charlottetown Board wire the Senators to endeavour to hold up the bill until such time as it could be studied.

The Board decided to comply with the request.

A letter from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce inquired what items the Board would desire to have discussed regarding a commercial treaty with United States and other subjects at a meeting with the American Chamber.

The matter was referred to the Agriculture Committee.

A questionnaire from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce regarding the Natural Products Marketing Act was read by the secretary.

There was some discussion on the questionnaire as to whether or not the act would stifle individual initiative.

Mr. J. W. Boulter stated that at a meeting in Toronto which he had attended last fall there was a strong sentiment in favour of marketing legislation.

It was decided that the questionnaire be discussed in detail at an adjourned meeting on Tuesday evening next at 7.30.

Beer Not Winner Of Boat Tussels

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, April 11—It is untrue to say beer was the training drink of the victorious boat crew of Cambridge University, said a letter from an authority of the University read at a meeting in Redcar, Yorkshire, by Dr. C. C. Weeks, a temperance advocate.

When a man joined the University crew he was not allowed to exceed three glasses of beer daily, the letter said.

"During the last two years," it was added, "the crews have drunk as much lemonade and orangeade as beer. As far as I know there is no advantage in drinking beer, and I have never done so for training purposes. I find that lemonade and orangeade are good enough."

Trans-Atlantic Service Not Yet Planned

(C. P. Via Havas)
(By Guardian's Special Wire)

LONDON, April 11—No concrete scheme for a trans-Atlantic air service to and from Canada has yet been put forth, Sir Philip Sassoon, Under Secretary for Air, declared this afternoon in the House of Commons when questioned as regards the development of Empire aviation.

"As regards services to and across Canada," Sir Philip said, "no concrete scheme for trans-Atlantic air service is at present under discussion. At the same time I understand that considerable progress has been made in the establishment of a chain of landing grounds across the Dominion.

"I am not in a position to give any more detailed information at this stage."

PROMINENT S'SIDE CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

Death of Mr. Neil MacLeod, K.C., At Prince County Capital.

Mr. Neil MacLeod, the oldest practicing lawyer in Summerside passed away on Tuesday evening at 82 years of age. Mr. MacLeod took a weak turn in his office on Monday afternoon, but was able to walk to the car and it was not until evening that he became worse.

He was born at Braes, Isle of Skye, Scotland in January, 1853. His parents were Roderick and Catherine (MacInnis) MacLeod. There were nine children of the family. His parents came to Long River, P. E. I. in 1871 and were engaged in farming until 1889. His mother died in 1903 at 92 years of age, his father in 1889.

Mr. MacLeod did not come with his parents, but remained in Scotland to be educated. He attended the district schools in Scotland and the Normal School in Glasgow. He also worked in the post office at Glasgow for a short time.

After coming at 20 years of age, to Prince Edward Island in 1873, he attended the Grammar School at Malpeque and there obtained a scholarship which entitled him to two years at Prince of Wales College. In 1877 he began teaching at Malpeque with the present Sir Andrew MacPhail. After some time he was called to Summerside, where he received the appointment of the Eastern District School.

Two years later he was made superintendent of the Summerside schools. He was chiefly instrumental in getting the present high school built in 1879. He retained this position until December, 1893, when he resigned to take up the study of law in the office of the late Hon. John H. Bell, former premier of Prince Edward Island. As a teacher he was an unqualified success and under his leadership the Summerside schools reached a high standard of efficiency. His personal influence with his pupils was very marked and many of his pupils now occupy high places in Canada and United States. He was a member of the Royal Commission on Education of 1929.

Mr. MacLeod still retained his interest after his resignation as head master, and was chairman of the School Board for many years. He resigned from the Board last year.

He finished his course of legal study with the late Honourables A. B. Warburton and D. A. MacKinnon. In 1899 he became an attorney and the following year was admitted to the bar of Prince Edward Island. He then became a member of the legal firm of Warburton, MacKinnon and MacLeod, practicing in Summerside. This relation was maintained until Mr. MacKinnon's appointment as Lieut. Gov. of the Province, since which time Mr. MacLeod had continued to practice alone. He was made a K. C. in 1917.

In December, 1886, Mr. McLeod married Miss Ada Ramsay, daughter of the late Wm. B. Ramsay, of Summerside, who predeceased him in March, 1932.

There were eight sons of the marriage, six of whom are living, namely: Norman, of Summerside; Donald L., assistant General Manager of the Ontario Pulp and Paper Co. of St. Catherines, Ont.; William Fraser, ranching at Wilke, Sask., Reginald, at home; Dr. Neil MacLeod, Pathologist at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; Kenneth, of Reed's City, Michigan; John M. McLeod was with the Princess Patricia regiment and was killed in the battle of Sanctuary Wood in June, 1916; Allen R. MacLeod, died on military service at Halifax in 1917; One sister, Mrs. Rachael Forbes, in Chicago, is the only surviving member of the family.

In politics, Mr. MacLeod was an independent Liberal, and was for many years president of the Liberal Association of Prince County. As a citizen he always identified himself with every progressive movement, and particularly along intellectual lines. He was a director of the old Summerside Library and it was mainly through his efforts that this excellent library was founded. Mr. MacLeod belonged to the Masonic Order but of late years was not very prominent.

Outside of business his chief interest was the study of modern literature, science and philosophy. He had perhaps the finest private library in Eastern Canada on those subjects. In his younger days, Mr. MacLeod lectured along these lines with the object of helping the younger members of the community to become interested in these subjects.

Mr. MacLeod was formerly Presbyterian but joined the United Church at the time of the Union. He was in former years keenly interested in sport and was at one time President of the Crystal Hockey Club. He was President of the Summerside Yachting Club and owned his own racing model. He was a great sportsman and enjoyed any kind of outdoor life.

Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family in their great bereavement.

The funeral will take place on Friday at 2 p. m. from his late residence to the People's Cemetery.—S.

SIGHT OF EYE RESTORED

AKRON, O., April 10.—Hilarie Montreuil, 25-year-old French-Canadian guide, today was back on his farm at Mattawa, Ont., the sight of his right eye restored after six years of partial blindness.

Montreuil lost the sight of his right eye when a twig pierced it as he trekked through the bush. He was brought to Akron a month ago by Mrs. C. Nelson Sparks, Canadian-born wife of a former mayor of this city. He underwent two operations for the removal of a traumatic cataract.

Montreuil served as a guide for ... and his wife on several hunting trips.

SEES NEED OF

time is that I hold a very strong opinion as to the necessity of an early revision of the provisions of the B. N. A. Act . . . I need not go further except to say that we recognise the difficulty and any steps we may take toward the solution of the difficulty will be taken in such a way as not to strain the existing mechanism."

A few minutes later the Prime Minister returned to the subject to repeat the government had all the information it needed to assume control of social legislation. "But we have not yet approached the problem of amending the B. N. A. Act. That is in the offing and I suppose that in the course of human events and when an indulgent and grateful electorate have honored us with their support, we may be able to make such changes as may be necessary."

Relief Discussion

The house devoted another full afternoon to discussion of the unemployment relief bill without progress made. For the most part, Liberals enquired into the guarantees given industrial firms under the bill last year, particularly those to the Algoma Steel Corporation in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, Sydney, N. S. The guarantees were defended warmly by government supporters as being necessary to reopen the plants and provide work in the two cities.

The figure of 143,000 given with regard to unemployed did not include dependents said the Prime Minister. If dependents were included the number would be somewhere in excess of 400,000.

He had hoped it might have been possible to dispense with a relief measure this spring but the January conference with provincial premiers had thought otherwise though expressing the hope conditions would obviate the expenditure of large sums of money for relief.

Conditions had improved in many industries.

SHOOTING

the shooting when arrested, according to the police.

Arrested

Frank Haggerty had borrowed the horse this afternoon and the shooting occurred shortly after he returned it early this evening. He was married and leaves five children. A constable of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police returned to Bathurst with the prisoner late tonight.

Dr. J. C. Meahan, coroner, made a preliminary investigation at North Tetagouche and will hold a post-mortem here tomorrow. The inquest has been set tentatively for tomorrow afternoon.

The scene of the fatality is only a stone's throw from South Tetagouche, where George Smith, aged storekeeper, was murdered in 1932.

Islanders In Group Movement

HALIFAX, N. S., April 11—Rev. T. A. Wilson of Covehead and Rev. G. A. Christie of York are visitors this week in Halifax where they have gone to attend the meetings of the Oxford Group movement. That this movement for the enrichment of spiritual life has laid hold on the imaginations of the people of Halifax is evidenced from the fact that on Sunday the pulpits of practically all the Protestant churches were occupied, morning and evening by members of the team, gathered together from different countries in Europe and America, who spoke to crowded congregations. On Monday and Tuesday evenings the two large auditoriums, St. Matthew's Church and the ballroom of the Lord Nelson Hotel were filled to overflowing. The interest and sympathy of the church in the movement is evident from the large number of ministers from the city and outside who are in attendance. It has become necessary to secure a larger room to accommodate their numbers. The world leader of the movement, Dr. Frank Buchman is expected in Halifax this (Wednesday) evening. Already groups are active in fifty different countries spread over the five continents.

OPPOSES DIRECT SALES

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 11—Regulation of livestock truckers to eliminate direct sales to packing plants was urged today before the Stevens committee of the House of Commons by hog buyers from Winnipeg and Toronto. One of the plagues of the industry, the committee was advised, was the practice of packers going into the country to make their purchases, depleting competition on the open markets where prices were fixed.

Elimination of hog differentials, now set by the packers, would increase prices to producers, according to Gordon Oswin of Toronto, a buyer for the United Farmers Livestock Department. At the present time only two packers have buyers on the Toronto market and only 30 per cent of the hogs shipped to that city, are sold through the stockyards.

Oswald Freer, a commissionman on the St. Boniface market, Winnipeg urged revision of livestock freight rates. A system might be established similar to the market-to-market plan of the United States with sharp reductions on through rates to the East. In addition, trucks could be confined to acting as feed for the railways and not used to compete with them.

Thanksgiving Service For Oxford Group

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

HALIFAX, April 11—Representatives of the Oxford Group movement, commissioned by the Bishop of Oxford to carry their message of "life changing" to Eastern Canada will on Friday attend a service of commission and thanksgiving conducted by Archbishop C. L. Worrell, primate of the Church of England in Canada, at All Saints Cathedral.

Packed auditoriums necessitating over-flow meetings have greeted the English visitors here. Following the conclusion of their work Friday, the international team will be broken up when half of the members will board the Canadian Pacific liner Montclare to return to Universities in England and the other members will proceed west to join a group of four headmasters coming from the Old Country who with a group from Niagara Falls will conduct an educational campaign in Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto.

ASKS VIEWS ON INSURANCE LEGISLATION

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 11—An appeal to the provinces of Ontario and Quebec to state their views in regard to the insurance legislation now before the Senate was made today by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen Government leader in that Chamber. The appeal was made at a meeting of the Banking and Commerce Committee of the Senate.

Careful Study

Hon. N. W. Rowell, as counsel for the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association had given a careful review of the years of efforts to get legislation that would be within the jurisdiction of the Dominion.

Senator Meighen remarked that Leighton Foster of the Insurance Department of Ontario was in the room and he hoped would be able to state Ontario's views. Mr. Foster, however, said he had no instructions to do so.

"I hope you will take this up with your chief" Senator Meighen said. The committee was doing its utmost to draft legislation that would meet as far as possible the objections of Ontario and Quebec. He hoped they would express their views in regard to it.

STORM WARNING

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

WASHINGTON, April 11—The United States weather bureau today issued the following storm warning:

Advisory 6 p. m. northwest storm warning ordered Cape Hatteras to Delaware breakwater and southeast warning North Delaware breakwater to Boston, Mass. Disturbance over Virginia will cause strong southeast winds Hatteras to Boston shifting to strong northwest wind, probably of gale force early this evening south of Sandy Hook.

CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT IN MARITIMES

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 11.—The port of Halifax, which has been consistently breaking all time records in the amount of traffic handled, continues to receive new business at a rate that at times has taxed the capacity of the existing facilities. This improvement in business conditions is present in some measure throughout the Maritime Provinces, according to J. L. Hetherington, chairman of the Halifax Harbor Commission, who was in Ottawa today to interview Government officials.

During 1932 the port handled 1,456,323 tons of traffic. In 1933 the total was 1,751,029 tons, and for the first three months of 1934 the traffic was 595,776 tons as compared with 399,149 tons for the same period of 1933.

Refused Shipment

So heavy was the traffic during the latter months of 1933 that the harbor commissioners, because of lack of storage facilities, had to refuse 10,000,000 bushels of Canadian export grain, Mr. Hetherington said.

"The above figures have, to a large extent, been made possible by increased trade directly resulting from the Ottawa Imperial Conference agreements," Mr. Hetherington said. "There is every indication that industry is rapidly adjusting itself to changed conditions, brought about by the scheme of preferential tariffs within the Empire, and this is being shown by increased shipments in traffic.

Significant Development

"Probably the most significant development has been the adoption of the principle that traffic moving through the British Empire under the scheme of Empire preferences must be routed through Empire ports. This is of particular importance to Canada's Atlantic Coast ports, which for years suffered from the unrestricted competition of United States ports, but are today beginning to feel in a marked degree, the benefit of the preferences, both as to commodities and transportation.

"Another very marked and welcome feature of our national life, is the closer co-operation between Nova Scotia and the sister provinces of the Dominion. Canadian exporters are now using Canadian Atlantic ports and are following their traffic to these ports. They are beginning to realize that our Maritime ports are as well equipped as any ports on the Atlantic seaboard, and as efficiently administered."
