Gleanings From Tryon And Vicinity

Wilfred Annan of North Tryon, had the misfortune to lose a fine female fox last week. It was apparently in fine condition in the evening at feeding time, but was dead from some unknown cause in the morning.

IN TROUBLE

We naturally turn to some one for assistance. If we employ an Attorney, he must be the Best; of a physician, in serious illness the question of price does not enter into consideration. How important then that we be equally careful to whom we entrust that most precious of nature's gifts, our Eyesight.

MONTAGUE, P. E. I.

On Wednesday of this week there were three funerals in this vicinity, all over eighty years of age. They were Wm. Robinson of Augustine Cove, Mr. Robinson of Victoria, and Mr. McDonald of Crapaud. One of our pastors, Rev. J. B. Daggett, has attended forty funerals since coming to the Province; of these eleven were over eighty and twelve over seventy years of age. Comparing this with his record in New Brunswick, he finds that in fifty funerals in that Province only five were over eighty and seven over seventy years, the proportion over seventy and eighty years is greatly in favour of Prince Edward Island. It is doubtful if there is any other place in Canada that can show a record better than this.

Mrs. Daniel Mathieson, of Charlottetown, was a visitor at Albany on Monday last. She formerly resided there where her husband was C. N. R. agent, and has many friends there who regret that she is in poor health. She is considering the advisability of entering a sanatorium for treatment, and will do so unless her condition soon improves.

The churches are all busy preparing for their Christmas entertainments. Albany will hold theirs on the 19th. Westmoreland the 22nd and Tryon Baptist on the 23rd. Announcements for the other churches have not been made yet.

The Tryon Baptist Church has announced its annual business meeting on the afternoon of 17th, at 2.30 o'clock. This is always a special event with this congregation. The men meet in the vestry of the church and do the business while the women prepare tea at the home of a nearby member and the evening is spent socially, while a sale of fancy goods is held. They will meet this year with Mrs. J. A. Lyman.

The Rev. Ewen McDougall was in Tryon Wednesday attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah Robinson with the Rev. J. B. Daggett.

James Dawson who has been very ill and under treatment at Summerside hospital has returned home. He is being cared for by Miss Smallman, R.N. Mr. Dawson's complete recovery is now looked for.

Last week J. A. Patterson held an auction sale of all his personal property before leaving for Scotland. He, with his family, will leave for Boston in a few days where they will spend a short time visiting Mrs. Patterson's relatives. They expect to take ship from New York. Their residence will be occupied during the winter. We hope to see them back with the Robins.

Preparations are going on for the enclosing of the mill pond establishing a rink and place for hockey excitement. The boys are anxious to get tuned up.

Bonshaw lost one of its oldest and best citizens in the person of James Gordon, Esk., who passed away on Nov. 29th, at his home at Appin Road, at the age of 78 years.

Mr. Gordon was the last of a family of six children who came to this province from Aberdeen, Scotland, in 1850. They settled at North River, removing to Appin Road sixty-five years ago, where they have resided since. His remains were buried in the Appin Road cemetery which was a part of the original Gordon homestead.

SOCIAL GATHERING.—On Wednesday, December 9th, the ladies of the continuing Presbyterian Church of Kensington met in King George Hall. Each brought a box for the Protestant Orphanage. When the ladies of this congregation undertake to do any thing it seems they are all of one mind and one accord and was pleasing to see them coming in with baskets and parcels galore. Lunch was always served at these social gatherings. Two large boxes were packed with quilts, comforts, groceries, mitts, stockings and everything necessary for the orphanage. In fact, any person stepping into the hall would think it a general store by the supplies served at the table. The boxes were packed they were tied up nicely by Mr. John G. Townsend and Mr. James Jardine and shipped to the Orphanage, after which dainty refreshments were served by the ladies. The tone of the market for the success of their first affair and are now looking forward to the time of their next social meeting. They closed with the singing of Bless Be The Tie That Binds.

THE MARKETS

(Canadian Press.)
MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 11.—The volume of business in the local grain market today was small, with no improvement in the demand from foreign buyers. The winter wheat market was unchanged. The tone of the market for all lines of millfeed was firm under a steady demand. A reduction of 1/2c per bus. was made in all grades of oats. The demand was limited and the volume of business small. The market for baled hay was without any new feature, prices being steady.

There was no change in the condition of the local egg situation, prices for all grades being maintained. The market for potatoes was quiet, the demand from local and outside buyers being still limited. The market for butter was quiet, with a reduction in prices of 1c to 1 1/2c per lb. There was an improved demand for cheese and some business was done. Beans were steady at $2.40 per bushel.

OTTAWA, Dec. 11.—Canadian poultry market very brisk, live turkeys were 21,746,443 dozens as compared with a 5 year average as of that date of 4,559,443 dozens. Many of a good man, a widow, three sons, Donald and John at home, two daughters Mr. Judson MacEachern and Mrs. D. McLeod also a son Peter in Somerville, Mass., there are sixteen grandchildren, all of which were at the funeral except the son Peter and grandson Peter McEachern. At the same hour at which the funeral service was being held at Appin Road, friends in Somerville, Mass., were gathered at the home of the son Peter in Somerville observing the event.

INSECTS LIVE AT GREAT HEIGHTS

In the struggle for existence many creatures are driven to live at immense heights. The climbers of Everest saw a herd of wild sheep sitting on a glacier surrounded by pinacles of ice. They found bees, moths, and butterflies at 21,000 feet, and the last traces of permanent annual existence far above the Himalayan snow-line and 4,000 feet above the last vegetable growth. These were small spiders.

They live on islands of broken rock where no sign of vegetation or living creatures near them, and for food they ate one another.

Winless grasshoppers were found living at a height of 18,000 feet.

Celery is one of our most wholesome and delicious winter vegetables.

Fried potatoes have a better flavor if they are first boiled in their jackets.

Canadian Pacific Compartment - Observation Sleepers

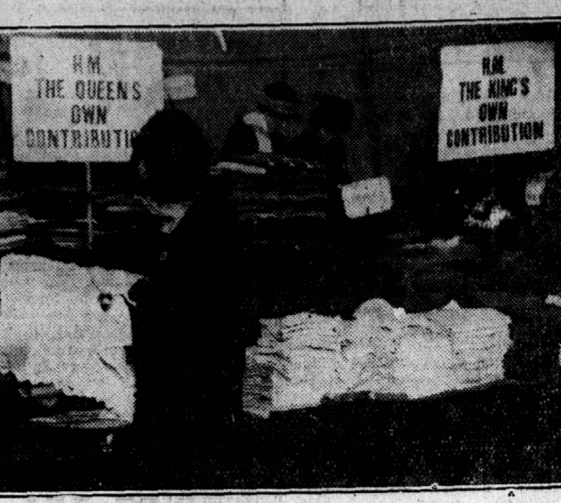

A most attractive feature of Canadian Pacific service between Saint John and Montreal is provided by the Compartment-Observation sleepers which are now running on train 15, leaving Saint John at four o'clock in the afternoon, and on train 16, leaving Montreal at seven o'clock in the evening.

Each of these cars contains one drawing-room, three compartments, a large observation room and an observation platform, the latter of course being always placed at the rear end of the train. The observation room which is fitted with large windows, giving a practically unobstructed view on three sides, is intended as a lounge for the benefit of all sleeping-car passengers on the train. It is supplied with the latest magazines, as well as with stationery and a writing desk.

Each compartment contains one lower and one upper berth, and all toilet facilities, much like a drawing-room. Patrons travelling alone on in part of the train, who are unable to secure a drawing-room, will find a compartment most convenient, as well as distinctly lower in price.

Needless to say, the whole car is fitted up to the best Canadian Pacific standard, thus ensuring complete comfort to the traveller. 6606-12-12-41-91.

THE PUBLIC FORUM

since Income Tax per cent increases as the income increases, the mail order houses must pay a higher rate of tax than do the local merchants who have a smaller income. This, then, from a taxpayer's point of view is an argument in favour of the mail order houses.

Then as to that "reasonable and common sense proposition" of imposing a tax on money sent to mail order houses. The proposed tax has been stated at other times by Mr. Hyndman to be three cents on each dollar. They argue that the retailer returns his operating costs to the community. If the farmer can get goods from the mail order houses less the local merchants operating costs, he will have the operating costs without them having to be returned.

The Economic Committee say they are not out to fight a battle for the home stores, but at the same time they are trying to get a tax put on all money going to the mail order houses. This tax is neither a "reasonable and common sense proposition" nor is it on a "fair competitive basis". In the Guardian newspaper the Economic Committee had an advertisement which said, "It's pretty tough, after a man has spent his money (the emphasis is mine) time and energy in building up a business in Prince Edward Island, to have a lot of business he can take care of go out of the Province."

"It is kind of discouraging to give your all to a community and not get any consideration in return." The merchant is then apparently a martyr. The only man in the community who produces nothing and only consumes other people's money. Have we come to that point in our civilization where the money maker holds the premier position? They state further that the farmers as a rule do not produce to sell to farmers. Certainly not, they exchange their produce with the producer of another class as for example, the fishermen, miners, etc., for something they do not produce.

I wish to say a word or two about the resolution the committee has adopted and in order that I may not be accused of misinterpreting it, I will quote the first part of the Resolution in full:

"RESOLVED that the campaign promoted by the Associated Boards of Trade of P. E. Island to encourage trading at home receive our endorsement and hearty support, realizing that the sending of our goods to outside mail order houses, which pay no taxes, give no employment in the Province and contribute, in no way to the upkeep of public institutions is a great injustice to our Local Tradesmen who have rendered valuable services to the community and should be given the chance to fill all local requirements—price and quality being equal."

Now, Sir, they say that the mail order houses pay no taxes. This is absurd. Do the Economic Committee think that the people would believe anything so unreasonable. The Committee must get that information from the same source they get the statement that, from five to eight millions of dollars are sent away from the Island each year. One of your contributors has easily shown this statement to be also untrue.

In the resolution they also say that the mail order houses give no employment in the province. If we can get the goods cheaper from outside the province we have the balance of the money here, which is better than the work of which there is plenty if one is to judge by the number of farms lying idle.

Then as to the claim that the mail order houses do not help to keep up public institutions. They pay taxes to the Government and the Government pays for the upkeep of these institutions. Since the producer pays the taxes, he might just as well pay them through the mail order houses as through the local merchant; and since the mail order houses pay a higher rate of tax than the local merchant, the producer is doing the country a service by buying through them.
