TOWERING MOUNT TO KING ALBERT

OTTAWA, March 23—(C. P.): Canada's memorial to King Albert soldier king of the Belgians, towers eternally skyward from the continental divide. It overlooks one of the most beautiful passes in the Rockies.

The National Parks Branch of the Department of the Interior calls attention to the fact that "at a time when the sympathies of the whole world have been stirred" by the King's death, his memory is perpetuated in Canada by Mount King Albert, which has as its outlying subsidiary Mount Queen Elizabeth.

These two mountains were named for the Belgian sovereigns in 1918, just after the war, as a tribute by Canadians to a country in which a great part of their own chapter in the conflict was written. King Albert's love of mountain climbing was well known.

Mount King Albert, 9,800 feet high, stands at the southerly end of Banff National Park, forming the western portal of Palliser Pass at the head of Spray River Valley. The pass has steep approaches from both the Alberta and British Columbia sides, but its summit is a long grassy valley with several lakes, of which Belgium Lake is the largest. Carpeted in summer with bright mountain flowers, it is surrounded by glacier hung peaks.

Flag Pole Technique Improved In Ceylon

Colombo, Ceylon, March 22.—Sawawminatha, a Tamil tea-picker is up a tree here. It is a 60 foot cocoanut palm. He has been aloft now for eleven days as a result of the spread of American flag-pole-sitting culture, and a religious argument with his neighbours who angrily await his descent. Meanwhile, Sawawminatha sits in comfort at the top of the tree. The nuts provide him with both food and drink. For relaxation he occasionally hurls a cocoanut at the spectators.

A seven-year-old boy named Hep plewhite, swallowed a toy balloon and was choked to death before he could be taken to hospital in Newcastle, England.

The Reward Of Securing Aid

That person is wise who recognizes the possibility of his eyes being different from what he believes. He is doubly wise if he submits to an examination and learns their true condition. And wiser still when he has his seeing made as nearly normal as possible. His reward will be lasting and evident.

JAMES O'CONNOR

On Friday, March 9th, one of the good citizens of Clinton, in the person of James O'Connor passed to his eternal reward, at the age of seventy years. About fifteen years ago he had retired from active physical work, but took a great interest in politics, affairs of state and world progress. He was a most interesting conversationalist, and his house and hospitality was always a Mecca for his many friends and business acquaintances from near and far. He had been enjoying his usual health till within a month of his death, when he was stricken with a violent form of kidney trouble, from which he was advised by the doctors in Prince County Hospital there was no deliverance. He died fortified by the rites of his Church, administered by his pastor, Rev. Francis McDonald, of Freetown, absolutely resigned to God's will—as he had been all through his busy life.

Mr. O'Connor, was an outstanding example of what may be accomplished in Prince dward Island in the way of getting together a comparatively independent competence. He was a living example of the ideal Burns had in mind when he wrote the verses to his friend Andrew, viz:

"And gather gear by every wile
That's justified by honor;
Not for to hide it in a hedge, nor for a train attendant,
But for the glorious privilege o' bein' independent."

When a young man, he went to Colorado in the boom days of mining. He had the strength of will to resist the blandishments and allurements of gilded saloons and other ephemeral amusements, saved his earnings and came home and invested it in land in Prince Edward Island. All his subsequent ventures seemed to have the Midas touch, and prospered well.

He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father, his wife formerly Bridget Cash, of Graham's Road, and son Lewis O'Connor, on the old homestead at Clinton, also brothers David, of Clinton; John T., of Spokane, Wash.; Joseph and Daniel, of British Columbia; Jeremiah and William, (deceased). Sisters, Mrs. Frank Lawless, Kinkora; Mrs. Joseph Reid, Hope River; Mrs. Tratt, Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Carter, all of Manchester, N. H., also Hannah and Mrs. John Cameron, (deceased).

His mortal remains were laid to rest in Summerfield Cemetery on Monday, March 12th. Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Frank McDonald, who also performed the obsequies at the grave.

The pall bearers were: Harvey Woodside, Patrick Cash, John Whitehead, Wesley Heaney, Walter Reid, James Pendergast. Requiescat In Pace.—K.

Minard's Liniment for Colds.

MRS. HERMAN SHAW

Suddenly, after a brief illness, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Simon Nicholson, Montague, on the morning of March 2nd, in the 35th year of her age, Mrs. Herman Shaw (nee Katherine Beaton), answered the call of her Lord and entered into her Eternal Rest to be forever with the Lord."

The deceased was a young woman of sterling qualities, beloved by all who knew her, which was evidenced by the very large number from far and near who attended her funeral, notwithstanding the difficult travelling.

She was a conscientious Christian, a faithful friend and a true neighbor, and was always ready to spend and she spent for every worthy cause.

She leaves to mourn their sad loss and cherish her blessed memory, her sorrowing husband and child, one sister, Mrs. Simon Nicholson, of Montague; two brothers, Malcolm Beaton, of California; Jack Beaton, of B. C.

Funeral services were conducted at the home of her sister, by Rev. C. E. Armstrong, who spoke from the text, "Death is Swallowed up in Victory." Mrs. Wm. Garrick effectively sang "The Old Rugged Cross." Interment took place in the Community Cemetery.

NEW YORK EXCHANGE

(By John L. Cooley, Associated Press Financial Writer)

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, March 22—Stocks looked more cheerful today, contributing a quiet rally to the general improvement noted in speculative markets. Turnover, however, was not much more than 1,000,000 shares.

Bonds lagged a bit, but numerous commodities closed with small gains. In stocks, sluggish firmness through the morning and early afternoon encouraged the list to a mild last hour markup and leading issues were up fractions to more than two points net.

News bearing on the automobile conference was scarce during market hours, but traders seemed disposed to be hopeful of a settlement and short doubtless did some covering against the possibility of favorable eventualities. Motor shares were fairly active at higher levels, Nash, General Motors and Chrysler improving a point or so. Steels made about as good a showing, while metals developed considerable strength. Numerous rails were up one to two.

Mining shares had little to work on that was definite. U. S. Smelting, still the leader, got assistance from a $1 extra dividend and the report on earnings. The stock gained nearly 5 net. Alaska Juneau, which retained the customary 15 cent extra disbursement, gained slightly, but Dome, McIntyre, American Smelting and Cerro de Pasco rose 1 to 2. The market's average gain was 1.5 points in volume of 1,054,250 shares; in the fourth hour only 90,000 shares changed hands.

French exchange continued firm, the franc touching a new high since devaluation of the United States dollar and reaching a level where the American unit's premium had virtually disappeared. With the gold drain on the Bank of France halted—there was another gain in the last statement—and the French political situation calmer it is probable capital has been returning to Paris.

Excess reserves of federal reserve member banks have crossed $1,400,000,000 to a new high, an enormous backlog of credit. New York City banks in the past week reduced "all other" loans $36,000,000, but added $55,000,000 to their holdings of other than U. S. Government securities. The net change in their earnings assets was a decrease of $14,000,000.

The country's monetary gold stock rose $35,000,000 during the week. Currency circulation, off $11,000,000, was $987,0000,000 under a year ago.

British Cricketers Take Firm Stand

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, March 22—Resenting what was considered as encroachment of amateur football on the cricket season, the Cricket Club Conference, at its annual meeting, decided to "take a firm stand" in the matter.

The Conference unanimously passed a resolution protesting against the talked-of advancing of the date for amateur football opening and called on amateur cricketer-footballers not to play any football from May 1 until the third Saturday in September.

It was decided to forward a copy of the resolution to the M. C. C. the Football Association, the Rugby Football Union, the London Football Association and the Amateur Football Association.
