MOOSE HUNTER ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

CHATHAM, N. B., Oct. 23.—Donald McLean, a well-known resident of Lower Hardwicke, on Monday morning accidentally shot himself through the head while he was in the woods about four miles up the Bel River hunting moose.

Mr. McLean was in company with two other men, Alexander Jenkins and his son Thomas, and had left the others a little to the rear while he was trailing a moose. A shot was heard, and when his companions reached the spot they were horrified to find Mr. McLean lying on the ground dead with a wound in the neck, where the bullet had entered. It had then gone out at the back of his head.

It is supposed that in going over a windfall he had stumbled and discharged his rifle. He was about fifty-three years of age, and leaves his wife, four daughters and two sons.

He carried gasoline and supplies for the entire trip on the car. The best day's run was from Grouard to Duvegan, 168 miles, the lowest being 90 miles in seven hours.

COSTLY CORSICAN VOTES.

The Islanders Give a Warm Welcome to Millionaire Candidates.

The island of Corsica, although a part of the republic of France, is quite different in its customs from the republic and never ceases to furnish reading matter out of the ordinary for the Parisian journals. The Corsicans have, it appears, a decided penchant for millionaire candidates for the chamber of deputies and are always on the lookout for this admirable material. Yet there is between them and the millionaires a singular misapprehension. The islanders desire that the millionaires be candidates because of the manna that falls upon their country during an electoral campaign, but they do not desire to elect them. As for the millionaires, they are perfectly willing to spread the manna, but they also wish to be elected.

"Recently," says a Paris journal, "one of our most successful money makers went to Corsica to visit his future department. At his embarkation several dozens of Corsicans received him with 'hourrahs,' and guns were fired, which down there is the last word of enthusiasm. He undertook a tour of the country. At each village Corsicans, magnificent in local color, acclaimed him and wakened the echoes with gunpowder.

"At the third village, however, he had a visit from a farmer, who said to him: 'We are four brothers, all voters, ready to vote for you. Buy for me the meadow that is on the other side of the village and you have our votes.' "How much is this meadow? "A trifle, 12,000 francs. "After a tour of eight days the millionaires calculated that to pay for all the votes that had been offered to him would require 5,000,000 or 6,000,000 francs. And even after that expenditure he would not be certain of election.

"He withdrew from the canvass, but he had already expended some hundred thousand francs, of which his enthusiastic welcome had their full share. They really would like to have him 'come again.'—Indianapolis News.

THREW BOILING WATER AT HIS WIFE.

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., Oct. 23.—Last evening quite an alarming scene was created in the East End of the city. The commotion was caused by an elderly resident of that section. He came home at ten hour, deeply laden with alcohol and immediately started in to make matchwood of the furniture. Later he threw at his wife a kettle of boiling water, which scalded her badly about the arms and body. At this juncture screams attracted neighbors to the house and Dr. O'Connell was summoned and alleviated the woman's sufferings. In the meantime the police were acquainted and officers Kelly and Tucker were despatched to the house, but did not make an arrest as the son of the brutal greybeard did not wish him to go to jail.
