The Markets At A Glance

WINNIPEG, Feb. 18 (CP)—Rye futures resumed their advance today on the Winnipeg grain exchange and the close showed gains ranging from three to five cents a bushel with May touching a high of 32 3/4.
CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP)—May Rye, the only grain futures delivery which could have gone substantially higher on continued inflation talk, ran the other way most of the time today, while distant oats delivered edged within minor fractions of calling prices.
MONTREAL, Feb. 18 (CP)—Bullishness which entered the stock exchange and curb market around noon today in some key groups on the strength of the fact that new margin regulations imposed were not as high as expected was counteracted later to some extent by a reactionary trend which developed in sympathy with New York. A number of issues sporting plus signs reverted to unchanged and there was the cautious undertone to the markets at the bell.

Montreal Exchange

Table listing Montreal Exchange prices for various commodities like Abbot, Abbot Canada, B O Oil, Buckle, Bid Products, etc.

TORONTO, Feb. 18 (CP)—Buyers were in the market in considerable force today and the list showed a good margin in gains over losses at the close. Strength was chiefly in evidence in the first hour and in the succeeding period part of the gains were dropped. The golds had 45 to the good at the close, and the Western Oils were up 22. Base Metals finished 15 down after showing a sizeable gain at noon.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Leading stocks yielded 1 to 6 points today without being subjected to the pronounced pressure and wide setbacks generally were attributed to exceptional "thinness" of the market since it went on an all-cash basis. Principal cause of the stumble apparently was the gathering of higher than expected volume of the long-term capital gains tax. In the past six months the average has risen better than 16 full points.

Some of the passengers of the ill-fated liner S. S. Yukon stolidly wait as high seas prevent their rescue. Only their faces show the strain as the vessel's stem is torn away by pounding seas after the ship was driven aground in Johnstone Bay, near Seward, Alaska, during an Arctic blizzard. Four passengers shown above are all soldiers attached to the Alaska Department, who are returning to the United States. The Yukon carried 405 passengers and crewmen.

One of the two men swept overboard from the deck of the doomed liner S. S. Yukon is hauled back over the side by eager hands while the other waits his turn in a water-filled rubber liferaft attached to the ship by a line. The vessel was driven aground in Johnstone Bay, Alaska, during a raging Arctic blizzard and was broken up by pounding seas.

This exclusive photo shows the heeling stern of the doomed liner S. S. Yukon just before the vessel broke in two after being driven aground in Johnstone Bay, Alaska, during a raging Arctic blizzard. The crumpled superstructure and tottering smokestack testify to the fury of the storm which wrecked the ship.
