WILLIAM L. DINGWELL
The community of Souris was shocked on the evening of Sept. 20th to hear that Mr. W. L. Dingwell had suddenly died while sitting in his brother's home. He had, it appeared, driven his car into the yard a few minutes before, apparently in his usual health. After walking to the barn to look at the newly threshed oats he repaired to the house where he was scarcely seated when he collapsed. Doctors MacDonald and Ross were speedily summoned from across the street but nothing could be done. They pronounced it apoplexy.

In the death of Mr. Dingwell, Souris loses a highly respected citizen. He was born in Bay Fortune 64 years ago, the son of the late Jas. W. Dingwell. As a young man he went to the United States where he learned undertaking. About twenty-two years ago he returned to P. E. Island locating in Souris where he established his well known business. Painstaking and obliging he was one of the leading undertakers in the eastern end of King's County.

Mr. Dingwell never married. For many years he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mellick, more recently with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Acorn. There are three surviving brothers, Ernest of Souris, who continues the business, Reginald of North Bedeque, and Rev. Jas. Dingwell of Patawicket, R. I.

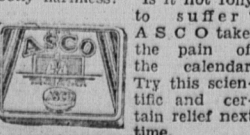

Funeral services were conducted on Sept. 22nd by Rev. J. G. Hockin of St. James United Church with burial in Fortune Churchyard. He will be greatly missed by his many friends and in the community at large.

ANNIVERSARY MUCH ENJOYED—A pleasant time was had in the Orange Lodge rooms at Kingston on Monday evening October 9th when Queen Mary L.O.B.A., No. 973 had as their guests the members of King William Lodge No. 1186, and the full personnel of the Kingston Dramatic Club, the occasion being the second anniversary of the organization of Queen Mary Lodge. Mr. John Colwill was chairman for the evening and the following program was well rendered. Opening chorus: The Ladies; Address of Welcome: Miss Sophia Newsome, Worthy Mistress; Reply to Address of Welcome: Mr. Reuben Barrett; Reading: Miss Mildred Auld; Duet: Wm. Kalls and Clifford Froude; Dialogue: An Unwilling Tramp; Solo: David Ward; Reading: Miss Flossie Younker; Instrumental Music: Mrs. Holmes Holmes and Davis Ward; Dialogue: Goodbye; Step Dance: Richard McLean; Reading: Miss Sophia Newsome; Anniversary March: Mrs. Holmes; Dialogue: Women's Rights; Instrumental Music: Mrs. Holmes and Donald McDonald; Reading: Mrs. John Colwill; Closing Chorus: The Ladies; After the program complimentary remarks were made by several of the guests, who gave the ladies great praise for the manner in which all were being entertained, and also for the good work they have done in the past two years, some of the results of which are apparent as soon as one enters the Lodge Rooms. A dainty and appetizing lunch was then served by the ladies, after which a singing and instrumental music were much enjoyed. A beautiful birthday cake, appropriately decorated was a pleasing feature. A hearty vote of thanks moved by Mr. Reuben Barrett, seconded by Mr. Wm. Kalls and unanimously carried was extended to the Ladies. The singing of The King brought to a close a most enjoyable evening.

Messrs. George Donnelly, P. J. Greenan, Gerald Shreanan and James Ranaghan have returned to St. Dunstan's University after spending a pleasant holiday at their respective home in Kinkora.

Vancouver Mourns Loss Of John S. Gordon B.A.

The Presbytery is again called to mourn the passing of one of its recognized ministers who, while not in the regular ministerial office for many years has yet been the head of an organization of vast importance to the most vital interest of the community, and in which he has rendered a priceless service over the extended period of 63 years. The name of John Simpson Gordon will ever have honorable mention in the story and development of the educational system of this city and province.

Mr. Gordon was born in Montrose, Prince Edward Island, on November 28th, 1865. He came of United Empire Loyalist stock. After attending public and high schools in his native province he proceeded to McGill University from which he graduated with high honors, winning the gold medal general proficiency. He then studied Theology at the Presbyterian College at Montreal, being ordained in 1896. He came west to Vancouver in that year and was inducted as pastor in Mount Pleasant Presbyterian Church, a position he had to relinquish a year later owing to impaired health. After a short rest or recuperation he entered the teaching profession in 1897 and held posts in West School, new Aberdeen School, Mount Pleasant, and Dawson Schools, and in 1901 went to Vancouver's one and only high school. After five years teaching experience was in 1902 appointed school inspector for Yale-Caribou. He continued in that position until 1906, when he became the first high school inspector for British Columbia with headquarters in Victoria. Four years later, in 1912, he was appointed Municipal Inspector of Schools for Vancouver, and in 1923 was chosen as Superintendent of all city schools—a position he held until the time of his death, June 25, 1933. Thus for a period of nearly 36 years—as teacher, inspector and superintendent—he was associated with the education of the citizens of Vancouver. In that time he saw the system grow from six schools, 56 teachers, and 2,983 scholars into an organization of metropolitan proportions having now 66 schools, 1219 teachers, and 40,870 scholars, and from very few simple and really elementary courses at the beginning, this immense organization is now providing instruction in over 40 separate subjects. This educational system for the city of Vancouver is very largely Mr. Gordon's monument. He was a prime mover in founding the University of British Columbia in 1915, and for many years was a member of its senate.

A tall erect figure, with an ever gentlemanly carriage, a fine intellectual face, thoughtful yet careworn withal, as of a man who carried a great burden on his mind and heart—a noble head crowned with a shock of beautiful pure white hair—his was a personality men were disposed to look at twice. Gentle and soft spoken at all times, but with a grip of things which indicated enlightened convictions which both teachers and school trustees came to understand and respect, he was the friend of them both, and lived for the great work they severally represented.

He had lately been in failing health for some time, but was at his desk in the School Board offices until recently. Early in this year he underwent an operation, and for a time appeared to be in improved health. But later he suffered a relapse and was confined to his bed. On the 19th of June he wrote his annual message to the schools, and six days later he peacefully passed from his home to the higher service of the Father's House. In the final paragraph of his message, the veteran Superintendent said "Goodbye" to his people, apparently aware of the coming end. That final message was read in all classes of the schools of the city prior to dismissal on the morning of his funeral.

His funeral was an impressive demonstration of public respect—the university, the Department of Education, the City Council, the School Board Trustees and employees and St. John's United Church were all represented among the honorary

COAL AND STEEL INDUSTRIES IMPROVED

Sir Newton J. Moore Reviews With Satisfaction Conditions In Nova Scotia.

(Canadian Press)
QUEBEC, Oct. 15.—Full capacity operation of the mines due to increased orders for coal will continue until the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence, Sir Newton J. Moore, President of Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, of Sydney, N. S., said here Saturday shortly before sailing for England aboard the liner Empress of Britain.

"We are shipping at the rate of 100,000 tons a week, employing 18 vessels," said Sir Newton. "The improvement over last year can be seen by the fact that the increase in shipments to date is about 300,000 tons. This year 2,000,000 tons of coal from Sydney have been brought up the St. Lawrence.

Sir Henry Drayton Becomes General Counsel for Salter, Stapells & Sewell

Announcement is made of the association of Sir Henry Drayton, K. C., K. B., in the capacity of general counsel, with the well-known legal firm of Salter, Stapells & Jewell, of Toronto.

Sir Henry Drayton is an outstanding figure in the public life of Canada. To few men has it been given to occupy so many positions of high responsibility with such success and distinction.

Assistant City Solicitor for the City of Toronto for seven years; Crown Attorney for the County of York for seven years; Chief Corporation Counsel to the City of Toronto for two years; Chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada for seven years; Dominion Minister of Finance for two years; Chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board—these are some of the public positions which Sir Henry Drayton has been called upon to fill during his distinguished career.

Born of United Empire Loyalist stock at Kingston, Ontario, in 1869, Sir Henry was educated in the public schools and at Jarvis Collegiate Institute, and chose the study of law. Called to the bar in 1891, his ability won for him the post of Assistant City Solicitor for Toronto in 1893, whilst he was still a young man of twenty-four. In 1900, he was assigned to form a law partnership with the late Charles J. Holman, K. C., and in 1902 was appointed counsel to the Railway Committee of the Ontario Legislature. Then commenced that close study of railway affairs which led, nine years later to his appointment as Chief Commissioner of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada. This difficult and arduous position he occupied until 1919, when he entered the House of Commons as member for Kingston, Ontario. He was almost immediately called by Sir Robert Borden, then Prime Minister, to assume a difficult and high responsibility as Minister of Finance, a post he held for two years. After the defeat of the Meighen government in 1921, he remained a member of the House of Commons until 1928, when he was appointed to head the Liquor Control Board of Ontario, a duty which he accepted only on a temporary basis. It is largely owing to Sir Henry's organization ability and keen legal sense that the administration of liquor control has functioned so smoothly in the province.

Sir Henry was created a K. C. in 1908 and a Knight Bachelor in 1915. In 1916 he was associated with Mr. A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central and Mr. W. M. Acworth, an eminent English economist, on the Railway Commission appointed to enquire into and report upon the entire transportation question in Canada. On the outbreak of the War in 1914, Sir Henry, who was in England at the time, was appointed by Sir George Perley to take charge of getting women and children, and men not of military age, out of enemy and other European countries. Throughout the war he was engaged in district war activities, such as movement of food-stuffs, munitions and production for war purposes. He served, in 1917, as Power Controller under the War Measures Act.

Sir Henry's latest and most successful achievement has been the organization of the restoration fund in the diocese of Toronto, following the great financial losses sustained by the Anglican Church in the West.

Government Assistance

"Government assistance through subventions has been largely responsible for carrying the industry so far along during the critical period through which it has been passing," continued Sir Newton. "Every possible economy has been observed by the company and results obtained in both the steel and coal operation would not have been possible if this had not been done."

Sir Newton expressed the opinion the United States National Recovery Act would afford Canadian coal mines better opportunities in their home market.

The Steel Industry

The Maritime steel industry has also improved, Sir Newton said. Operation of his company's plant was at present on a much higher scale than for some months previously and he expressed the opinion the present rate of output would continue until well after the new year.

CLARA BOW TRIUMPHANT

Film Star Shows Fine New Facets of Talent in "Call Her Savage"

Clara Bow, dynamic, flame-haired siren of the screen, erstwhile "It" girl and one-time "Queen of the Flappers," emerged a fully mature emotional actress in "Call Her Savage," first of her starring pictures which she opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre.

With none of the hip-tossing, hair-waving hyperisms that characterized her earlier pictures, she reveals an entirely new personality in a vivid portrayal that takes her from wild, carefree days on a Texas ranch to the gay spots of New York night life; from hectic hours with a worthless husband to the dire necessity of providing for a sick baby when she is a penniless unknown wandering the streets of New Orleans.

From girlhood to motherhood, from wealth to poverty and back again, Clara convincingly portrays every emotion in this gorgeously-gowned, superbly mounted production that must be hailed the one great triumph of her career. Others are now bound to come.

Gilbert Roland heads the all-featured supporting cast which also includes Theima Todd, Monroe Owsby, Estelle Taylor, Willard Robertson, Anthony Jowitz and Weldon Heyburn.

Almost Instant Relief From Neuralgia

1. I'LL HAVE TO GET A TAXI AND GO HOME. I'VE DEVELOPED A TERRIBLE ATTACK OF NEURALGIA.

MARY, WHY DON'T YOU TRY 2 ASPIRIN TABLETS. THEY'LL GET RID OF YOUR NEURALGIA IN A FEW MINUTES.

2. 20 MINUTES LATER

IT'S WONDERFUL HOW QUICKLY MY NEURALGIA WENT. THAT ASPIRIN CERTAINLY WORKS FAST.

YES, ISN'T IT WONDERFUL!

For Quick Relief Say ASPIRIN When You Buy

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.

These results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And this is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN'S quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

WHY ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop an Aspirin Tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches bottom, it has started to disintegrate.

What it does in this glass it does in your stomach. Hence its fast action.

Famous Women On Spinning and Weaving World Problems

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today called for "a fundamental change in our thinking" in the fields of economics and politics.

Addressing the New York Herald-Tribune's annual Women's Conference on current problems, Mrs. Roosevelt said women must begin to think—as citizens of America, yes—but also as citizens of the whole world, and of themselves in relations to what the rest of the world is facing.

"This change in fundamental thought must take place in politics, business ethics, theories of economics, and above all, in youth's own weakness before it can truly say it cares more for the good of the whole country and whole world than it does for its own individual good."

"Naturally, there are many of our youth who know hardly anything about war, and they therefore are interested in what is martial, but education can quickly make them realize its true facts, and they will therefore drop it as a solution of problems."

"The problem of today is: How can we use the machine to advantage of all, and how can we distribute what the machine can produce to all of humanity?"

"It is a problem of distribution, not of production or consumption."

Messages from several notables in Europe were sent to the conference. One from Arthur Henderson, British chairman of the World Disarmament Conference at Geneva said: "A world organized for peace is within our grasp, but organize we must."

Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of Britain's Prime Minister, told young people in a speech from London.

"Find your place by your own quality and equipment, and not by influence. Build character by the books you read and the company you keep. Make disappointments strengthen your personality, rather than make you cynical."

Youth today, with all its freedom, has that much more responsibility—to co-operate and help yourself and others."

Ruth Bryan Owen, United States Minister to Denmark, challenged all to their responsibility for international peace.

A message from Madame Curie said the international committee of intellectual co-operation is serving the cause of peace, but stimulating a better understanding between the existing centres of thought and intellectual effort all over the world.

A message from Miss Frances Perkins, United States Secretary of Labor, recounted progress of industry's recovery, saying "hours have been reduced, wage rates increased, and employment has risen in many industries. We must not, however, be too optimistic concerning the success of our program—we are not out of the woods yet."
