ANNIE & LLEWELLYN MONTAGUE

Home Industry In Lace Country

By NORMAN CRIBBENS (Canadian Press Staff Writer) NOTTINGHAM, England, Nov. 6 (CP) - Four hundred years after its invention, the click of the hand-driven knitting frame still is heard in thatched cottages around Nottingham - almost within sound of the mighty plants where hosiery is made by high-powered machinery.

"We have 70 or 80 women working for us in their own time," said John Scott Nichol, head of a Nottingham knitwear firm. "Their freedom of operation is strangely similar to that of the old stockingers of Nottingham who also worked in their homes in their own time."

"During the summer," she said, "I work the frame in the garden for two or three hours in the afternoon. Of course I am frequently interrupted by our three-year-old who thinks knitting is some sort of game."

Georgetown And Vicinity

A party of Charlottetown ladies, Mrs. Gordon MacDonald, Provincial Commissioner of Girl Guides, Mrs. Harry Cadmore, Miss Punched, Field Secretary, and Mrs. Elmer Dunning of Montague, were in town on Wednesday interviewing a number of citizens in the interest of Guiding.

On Wednesday, Mr. Nelson Hanson, Mr. Herman Lavandier and Mr. Frank Lavandier were visitors to the Mink Field Day, held in the Provincial Fox Show Building at the Exhibition Grounds in Charlottetown. Mr. George H. Mayers of Lamson, Fraser & Huth, Inc. of New York, was present and classified the various types of mink.

The Dominion Government Hydrographic Survey boat "Henry Hudson", under command of Mr. T. M. Tardif, which has been engaged for the past two summers in surveying the approaches to our harbour, the harbour itself and the adjacent rivers, has completed her work and on Wednesday morning sailed for Picton, N. S. The crew of the "Henry Hudson" during their stay in Georgetown, became well enough known to almost be classified as citizens and they will be greatly missed by the majority of citizens, with whom they were very popular.

The regular monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion, Souris was held in the Legion Hall on Monday night, plans were discussed for the observance of Armistice Day with a parade in the morning and a social evening to be held for Legion members in the evening.

The annual meeting of the Georgetown Credit Union was held in St. James Hall on October 27th. The president, Mr. George MacCormack, presided. The minutes of the previous general meeting were approved. The manager, Rev. O. Kiggins, gave a detailed statement of the work of the Credit Union since September 30th, 1946. Shares increased $1075.00; share capital was now $8000.00. He regretted that many shareholders had not increased their share capital during the year. Speaking of the amount of their shares in the Credit Union, this, without doubt, would be an inducement for the members to leave their present shares intact, and at the same time the cost of this extra protection would be paid out of the earnings of the Credit Union.

The manager reported $900 outstanding loans. The failure of the fishing industry had accounted for an increase in loans. The income for the year from Government Bonds, etc., amounted to $280.00. Expense for the year, members dues, etc., amounted to $33.00, leaving a balance of $227.00. Twenty per cent of this amount would be placed in the Guaranty Fund; five per cent in an educational fund, and the balance in the undivided earnings, to pay dividends of 2 per cent should the members so decide.

Reports were given by Mr. P. L. Boudreau and Mr. Rupert Wright for the Credit Committee. Mr. Temple MacDonald was appointed to the Board of Directors; Mr. P. L. Boudreau was re-elected a member of the Supervisory Committee and Mr. Allan MacCormack and Mr. Fabian Boudreau to fill vacancies in the Credit Committee. Complimentary remarks were made by Mr. P. L. Boudreau, Mr. W. J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. M. Burke and others regarding the progress of the Credit Union during the year, its great value in providing credit to those who needed same. Mr. Boudreau urged the members to increase their share capital, lest they meet money difficulties as they did a few years ago. He moved a resolution that each member would increase his share capital and at the same time bring new member into the Credit Union. This was seconded by Mr. W. J. Fitzgerald and agreed to by the members present. All agreed to give full support to the Georgetown Credit Union in the future. -Geo.

Burning Of Mortgage Of Murray Harbour Presbyterian Church

On Sunday evening, November 2, a unique and joyous service was held in Murray Harbour Presbyterian Church, when the mortgage of the congregation was burned, symbolizing its release from indebtedness. The present church building was erected in the years 1931 to 1934. In order that the work might not be delayed money had to be borrowed, now the congregation by free-will offerings has relieved itself of this financial responsibility.

After a brief review of the history of the present building, Mr. John Brooks and Mr. H. W. Bell, Elders of the congregation, together with Mrs. Archibald MacDonald, as the oldest member present, Mrs. Lauretta Brooks, president of the W. M. S., and Mrs. Jack MacDonald, representative of the collectors came forward and burned the mortgage. While the paper was being consumed in flames the congregation rose and sang "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

CALLAGHAN-LANDRIGAN

On Tuesday, September 23rd. at St. Paul's Church, Sturgeon, P. E. I., Elizabeth, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Landrigan, was united in marriage to Bernard Callaghan of Charlottetown, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Callaghan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Mullally. The altar was prettily decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers. During the nuptial mass the choir sang appropriate hymns. The bride wore a floor length gown of heaven blue tulle with loose trimming and a matching shawl of length veil of embroidered net with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of peach and white gladioli with fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Landrigan, cousin of the bride, was attired in a floor length gown of powder blue tulle and wore a matching coronet of rosebuds. Her bouquet was of
