PROSPEROUS OUTLOOK.—Mr. A. R. Dauncey, of Calgary, formerly of this city, in a recent letter says that the weather is delightful just now and that the wheat is up in several sections with a most encouraging outlook for the future.

FOR ODD FELLOWS' HOME.—The trustees of the Maritime Odd Fellows' Home at Pictou, N. S., have selected W. J. Fraser, a Past Grand Master, of Caledonia Lodge, Hopewell, N.S., and Mrs. Fraser, as superintendent and matron respectively, of the Home.

THE TROUT FISHING season in Prince Edward Island is now in full swing. Wherever there are rivers and lakes there can these mornings be seen young men and old men casting a line in the hope of hooking the nimble and elusive trout. Let us hope that all these good sportsmen may have the best of luck so that when they sit by the lake side having their cup of two or three cups of MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE tea they will feel disposed to say to themselves: "Yes, this is a good country to live in. None better, for where else could you find as good fishing, and where could you find a tea like MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE?"

NEW SUPERINTENDENT.—The executive of the Maritime Branch of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union concluded its quarterly meeting on Friday. The afternoon session was opened with devotional exercises. An invitation from the W. M. S. of Truro to hold the annual convention there was accepted, entertainment to be provided by the two Baptist churches. The dates for the convention are August 29 and 30, with an executive meet on Aug. 28. The matter of co-operation with other women's boards in the work for the medical college for women at Velton, India, received favorable consideration. "Building the Nation" was adopted as the mission study book for the coming year. Mrs. J. B. Daggett was appointed superintendent of mission bands for Prince Edward Island. The appointment of Miss Irene Rand as county secretary for King's county, N.S., was confirmed.

IN MEMORIAM
MR. ANGUS McPHERSON

On April 19th, the Angel of Death visited the home of Mrs. Lester Jay, Fanningbrook, and removed from this earthly sphere one whose memory will long be cherished by his relatives and friends in the person of her father, Angus MacPherson, formerly of Charlottetown, at the advanced age of eighty-one years. The deceased was an elder of the Mt. Stewart Presbyterian Church, was a man of Christian fortitude, true piety and earnest charity, which bore evidence to his beautiful character. His high intellect and lovely disposition won for him the esteem and respect of his many friends and acquaintances. After receiving his early education in the public schools and at Prince of Wales College, he taught school for a number of years. Later he conducted a milling concern at Charlottetown, where his five daughters and three sons were born. One daughter, Mrs. John Jay (Alice) predeceased her father about a year ago. Besides his wife, the surviving members of the family who are left to mourn are:—Mary and Julia, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Lester Jay, Fanningbrook; Mrs. D. Wallace Swan, Charlottetown; Dr. William, John and Bruce, all of Boston, Mass.; also the following sisters and brothers namely: Mrs. Donald P. McLeod, Inkerman; Mrs. Murdoch Graham, Bradalbane; William McPherson and Malcolm McPherson both of Glen Valley. Burial took place on the 20th in Mt. Stewart Cemetery. "Till the day dawns and the shadows flee away."

ST. ZITA SOCIETY.—On the feast of their patron saint, the members of St. Zita's society met in their hall to give a social evening both for the members and their friends. The program was composed of recitations, step-dancing and dialogues, as follows: Opening chorus: "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," by four girls; recitation, "Herman's Apple," by Miss Rose Peters; step-dancing, by the two Misses Martin; recitation, "Maggie and Jiggs at the Golden Gate," by Miss Annie LeBlanc; dialogue, "The Force of Imagination,"—Maud, a sick girl, Miss Annie LeBlanc; Mary, her sister, Miss Priscilla Dolron; Janet, the nurse, Miss Mary Dolron; Lizzie, a friend, Miss Sarah McDougall; recitation, "Miss Edith Helps Things Along," Miss Sadie McKinnon; step-dancing, Miss Vena LeClair; recitation, "How Paddy Stole the Rope," Miss Loretta Hogan; song, Miss Melanie Arsenault; recitation, "How I Hate Men," Miss Marcelle Doyle; step-dancing, Miss Loretta Martin; recitation, "No One," Miss Alice Donette; recitation, "The Inventor's Wife," Miss Jennie DesRoches; dialogue, "Wanted, a General Servant," Mrs. Prim, Miss Jennie DesRoches; the Maid, Miss Viola Galant; Miss Marcelle Doyle; Betsy, Miss Loretta Gallant; Eliza, Miss Euphemie Gauthier; Sarah, Miss Josephine Gaudet.

MRS. SARAH LOWRY

The people of St. Catherine's and vicinity were greatly shocked and saddened on the morning of May 2nd, when it was learned that one of the most esteemed residents, had passed away, in the person of Mrs. Sarah Lowry, relict of the late David Lowry, who predeceased her years ago.

Mrs. Lowry had been in her usual health until noon of the day previous to her death. After having started preparations for the dinner, she went to the orchard to inspect one of her plum trees, in which she took great pride, and was stricken with paralysis, in which place she was found unconscious some few minutes after by a member of the family.

The neighbours and a Doctor were immediately summoned, and all that human skill and loving hands could do, were of no avail and she passed peacefully away to her eternal rest, on the morning of May 2nd, at the age of 65.

The deceased was formerly Miss Sarah MacLean of Clyde River and was loved and respected by everybody who had the privilege of knowing her and enjoying her hospitality. She will be greatly missed in the community and especially in the home where she faithfully performed the duties of a loving and devoted mother. She was a woman of high christian standards and exemplified the same a few years ago when she was called upon to mourn the loss of a loving son who was "killed in action" fighting for his country.

She leaves to mourn three sons, John and Wallace at home and David in the United States.

The funeral was held from her late residence on May 4th and despite the unfavorable weather and bad roads a large cortege followed her remains to its last resting place. The pall bearers were John MacLaughlin, Thomas Morrow, Hector MacNevin, Hessel MacNevin, Seymour MacLean and Harry MacLean.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.
Mr. Robert Craswell and family.
We, the members of the W. M. S. of Winsloe North, feel it our duty to convey to you our sincere sympathy in the loss of your loving wife and mother, Mrs. Craswell, being a faithful member of the W. M. S. until she was prevented from coming by sickness, which she bore with Christian patience, never murmured nor complained, but waited patiently for the end.

Though you will deeply miss her in the home, yet we feel sure that your loss is her gain. Knowing her spirit is gone to Him who gave it, we feel our words are of little comfort in this your hour of bereavement, but we would commend you to a loving Heavenly Father who alone can comfort and help us bear our sorrows.

Jesus is always near,
To help us bear our pain,
He alone can give us comfort,
And in the end Eternal gain.

Signed on behalf of the members of the W. M. S.,
MRS. JOHN McINNIS,
MRS. ALBERT CUDMORE.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.
Dr. Daniel Docherty.
Dear Brother—At a regular meeting of King William L. O. L., No. 1166, a resolution was unanimously passed asking the undersigned to tender you the sincere sympathy of the brethren of the lodge in the loss of your greatly respected and beloved mother, Mrs. John Docherty. As a consistent member of the Presbyterian church your mother will be greatly missed, but more so as a neighbor, for she was ever ready to render aid wherever her services were required. Her life

In the Sunset of Life

A comfortable and happy old age, care-free and independent—such can be your recompense, too, through life insurance.

Canadian Government statistics show the need for this provision:

"Ninety-five per cent. of men at 60 are dependent upon their daily earnings or on others for support, and not one man in thirty who retires with a competency is able to retain that competency to the close of his life."

People are realizing this fact, and life insurance companies in Canada are beginning to pay out more money to living policyholders than they do in death claims, despite the thousands of death claims annually.

The present is the time to make provision for the future, so that the sunset of your life will not be overcast with shadows.

Any life insurance representative will be pleased to show you how to provide a sure income for your later years.

Nerves So Bad That She Would Sit and Cry

Mrs. Mary Hocking, Madoc, Ont., writes:—
"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a wonderful lot of good. I suffered from general weakness and was so run down and my heart and nerves were in such bad shape that I would sit down and cry and not know what I was crying about. I also used to have weak spells. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, however, I am real well now. I shall always keep a box of the Nerve Food in the house, and recommend them to my friends; they are a wonderful medicine."
(Mr. J. W. Vince, Druggist, of Madoc, Ont., says: "I have sold Mrs. Hocking your Nerve Food, and the medicine has done her much good.")
