ST. JAMES' CHURCH

At St. James' Presbyterian Church yesterday the morning service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Fraser who reminded his hearers that we are not solitary beings passing through experiences which others cannot appreciate or sympathize with, but that many others and influence and are influenced by us whether we are aware of it or not.

The Rev. Dr. Townsend took the evening service and spoke of the divinity of Jesus Christ comparing him and the religion which he proclaimed with the other founders of religions. He pointed out that whereas they were embodied in a series of rules and therefore optically dead, Christianity is based on a few simple principals which are able to adapt themselves to the needs of every age, so that Christianity is a living faith, even as its founder is a living Savior.

The special music at the morning service consisted of the anthem, "O, Come to Me, Lord Jesus"—Ambrose with Mr. Charles MacKenzie taking the solo. In the evening Mrs. N. D. MacLean sang the solo of the anthem by the choir, "Behold the Plains"—Wodell.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The Rev. Harvey L. Denton B. took as the theme of his morning sermon "In the Way of the Common Task". It is worthy of remark that to certain shepherds going about their ordinary tasks given the first intimation of the Advent. There are visions that call to all by the way of the common task. To Moses, stepping-herding his flock across the flaming vision and the voice of God. The Divine Son "who walked the same high road, this carpenter of Nazareth who made common things for God" receiving in his human experience the vision of the Kingdom of God. At a shoemaker's bench sat William Carey, cobbling shoes and in the way of the common task received the vision of a world for God. It may be that our common task is the place where we may hear the voice of God. And so the shepherds received a message for all people, all messages that come from God have a world significance. It is a message of hope and joy. At Advent again the world needs to listen and hear the message that will hallow the way of the common task.

Miss Vera Campbell sang Oley Spake "There's a Song in the Air". The anthem of the morning was Smart's "While Shepherds Watched."

At the evening service the Minister delivered the first sermon in the series on "Some Saints and Some Sinners," taking as his theme on this occasion "The Saviour of Sinners and the Strongholds of Sinners." A mixed quartette, Misses Burns, Campbell, Messrs Oulgie and Sterns sang "The Holly and the Ivy." A carol was rendered by the choir "O Nightingale, Awake! Misses Burns and Campbell taking the duet.

The flowers on the communion table were placed in memory of Mrs. Lillian Burns, by the members of her family.

"White Gifts" Sunday was generally observed by the Church School in this annual project for the relief of the poor.
