DIED AT SEA—Word has been received in this city of the death recently of Walter Sherwin, a dramatic stock actor who died at sea aboard the liner Calawalt. He was bound for Honolulu with the Hollywood Stock Company. Mr. Sherwin visited Charlottetown some years ago and played at the Prince Edward Theatre with the "Seven Days Leave" company in which he played the leading role. Recently he has been with Jessie Boustelle Civic Theatre Company in Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Sherwin was one of the finest stock repertoire actors in the profession. His death will be mourned with deepest regret in Charlottetown. Walter Sherwin was delighted with Prince Edward Island when he visited here. He planned to come back again soon, but Providence ordained it otherwise. A clever actor, a perfect gentleman at all times, Walter Sherwin has gone to his Eternal Reward.

VISITING EDUCATIONISTS IN S' SIDE

Need of Uniformity in School Systems in Maritimes Emphasized by Drs. Robinson and Archibald.

Dr. Robinson, principal of Horton Academy, and Dr. Archibald, Registrar at Wolfville, gave an informal but very instructive talk before the members of the Summerside School Board and Town Council at a joint meeting of the two boards last evening. Dr. Archibald and Dr. Robinson are spending a short holiday on the Island and Dr. Tanton, chairman of the School Board, took this opportunity of having these gentlemen speak on the curriculum of the Nova Schools, as he considered it would very materially guide them in arranging their classes for the extra grades they propose adding to the school.

Dr. Robinson was ten years inspector of Nova Scotia Schools and his advice should be of value. Dr. Tanton explained in his introductory remarks that the object of the School Board had in view was to introduce these extra grades to help children at home during the 'teen age and also to give an opportunity to those who could not afford to go to higher seats of learning, to obtain a better education.

Dr. Archibald gave an outline of what was required for entrance to universities in the Maritimes. The universities have common entrance requirements. There is little difference, he said, between the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia schools. The standard set for grade 11 for entrance provides for minimum marks of 50 for every subject, and three subjects must be above 60 per cent. There must be seven subjects in all, English, History, Algebra, Geometry one scientific subject and two foreign languages.

He explained that grade 11 in Nova Scotia was equivalent to second year in Prince of Wales. Every small town of 100 people have grades 11 and 12. The Summerside High School with its 10th grade is really on a level with grade 9 in Nova Scotia schools or perhaps a little better than that, but not equal to grade 10.

The speaker referred to the Educational Board of Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and on which Prince Edward Island has a representative. He agreed that Summerside should have the Common Leaving School examinations which are accepted by the universities. He considered that the Maritime Provinces should have one school system as it is a great disadvantage to families moving from one province to another to have different standards in the schools.

Dr. Robinson said he was very pleased to learn that Summerside was considering a higher standard of education. It was his one ambition to see every child given all the education possible. He considered it would be an advance step if the curricula could include, for those who do not wish to go to universities, such subjects as would assist them in the life work they intend to undertake. The choice of subjects should be elastic enough to include domestic science, manual training, and other technical subjects.

He was pleased to see by the press that the enlarged school was going to be under one roof. It was not only more economical but easier to supervise. He also approved of the proposal to have a larger assembly room, as this was one of the essentials in every school. He thought that grades 9, 10 and 11 should have three teachers, each teacher taking care of separate subjects for the three grades. In Nova Scotia the system worked very well. It was very important

Increase In Tire Prices

AKRON, Ohio, June 17—Six United States rubber companies, including Goodyear, Goodrich and Seiberline, announced today that tire and tube prices would be increased to 11 to 15 per cent. The advance becomes effective June 21, the date the government excise tax bill becomes operative.

specified products, (3) on all other articles a tariff rate not exceeding the rates of the French general tariff of 1910, so long as these rates were accorded to the United States, and (4) as regards Canadian goods imported into the French colonies the lowest tariff in force at St. Pierre and Miquelon on certain specified products and varying rates in other colonies.

"In return, Canada granted to France: (1) a fixed rate of duty on some thirty-one items, including canned fruits and vegetables, sardines, perfumes, non-sparkling wines, chinaware, silks, velvets, films. (2) On some ninety-one items the intermediate tariff less a discount of 10 per cent on the amount of the duty; included in this list were champagne, silks, cutlery, musical instruments, pipes, jewelry and certain lines of cotton, linen and silk fabrics. (3) On three items comprising fabrics of cotton or flax printed, dyed or colored, and certain lines of woollen dress goods, fabrics, and wearing apparel, the Canadian intermediate tariff less 15 per cent on the amount of the duty.

"In the course of the ten years which have elapsed since the convention came into force, it became apparent that it was open to serious objection from the standpoint of Canadian interests. In the first place, while Canada granted to France at least the lowest rates accorded to any other foreign country, Canada did not secure the French minimum tariff except on a limited list of products.

Secondly, under the agreement Canada granted fixed rates on an important list of French products, rates which could not be varied in spite of rapid changes in industrial and financial conditions. France on the other hand accorded no fixed rates to any Canadian products, and was free to raise her tariff on Canadian products as the interests of France were considered to require—a freedom that was repeatedly exercised.

A third drawback and one particularly serious from the administrative standpoint, was that under the provisions of most-favoured nation agreements, the benefits which Canada accorded to France under the convention were also extended to the following countries: "Argentine Republic; Colombia; Czechoslovakia; Denmark; economic union of Belgium and Luxembourg; colonies and possessions; Estonia; Finland; Hungary; Italy; Japan; Latvia; Lithuania; Netherlands, including the Netherlands Indies; Surinam and Curacao; Norway; Portugal; Rumania; Serb, Croat and Slovene Kingdom; Spain; Sweden; Switzerland and Venezuela.

"In 1928 and 1929 discussions took place between the Canadian Government of the day and representatives of France looking to the revision of the existing convention, in accordance with the statement of the Hon. James Robb, Minister of Finance, in the House of Commons on April 16, 1928. "We propose to take up with the French Government during this summer the question of the revision of the treaty." In 1930, after the present that a teacher should be proficient in the subject chosen, as far as letter work resulted. Teachers must work in harmony or else the idea would not be a successful one. At Windsor three teachers took care of grades 9, 10 and 11, teaching three subjects each. At Horton Academy there were three courses, academic, business and general. There were four imperative subjects, English, History, Science and Mathematics. He thought every school should have these four imperative subjects. He expressed his surprise that there were ninety-one pupils from Prince County attending Prince of Wales College last year. He wished the School Board and teachers every success.

Mr. Bradshaw moved a vote of thanks to Dr. Robinson and Dr. Archibald for their helpful remarks. This was seconded by Mr. McLeod and unanimously extended. S.

administration took office, the question was discussed in personal interviews and in diplomatic correspondence. The Canadian Government in June, 1931, made clear its opinion that it would be desirable to replace the convention by a new and more comprehensive agreement. The Government of France was not disposed to accede to our suggestions and on December 6th, 1931, the Canadian Government gave notice under the terms of the treaty of its termination in six months from that date. At the same time it assured the Government of France of its desire to negotiate without delay a new convention beneficial to the commerce of both countries. In the past few months efforts have been made to establish a modus vivendi on the understanding that negotiations for a new convention would be undertaken before the end of the present year, but these efforts have not yet met with success.
