THE Spokesman-Review, published at Spokane, Wash., contains the following: James A. Gillis, formerly of Kinross, P. E. I., and Miss C. Zo Heskett were united in marriage last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Heskett, 1205 Broadway. The wedding ceremony, which was a pretty one, was performed by Rev. B. E. Utz, of the Christian church. Miss Emma Baer acted a bridesmaid, while T. S. Heskett was groomsmen. Miss Lillian Blakeslee, of this city, and Miss Gladys Coakley, of Boise, made two pretty little flower girls. The house was profusely decorated with evergreen vines and flowers. The bride wore beautiful white roses and the bridesmaid's flowers were red carnations. Professor Andrews played the wedding march and sang "Call Me Thine Own," while Mr. and Mrs. Gillis were receiving congratulations. At the conclusion of the ceremony an excellent wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Gillis will make their future home in this city, residing in the Germond block.

ONE of these pleasing events which gladdens the hearts of individuals took place at the residence of Mr. Alexander McArthur, Northam, on Wednesday evening last, it being the uniting in the holy bonds of matrimony of his daughter, Annie to Mr. Hugh Maynard of Port Hill. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. T. Murdoch in the presence of about one hundred and eighty of the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by Miss Mary E. Campbell of Freetown while the groom was supported by his brother Charles. After the ceremony was completed the happy couple were greeted with the grasp of esteem from their friends from whom they received many kind wishes for their future happiness. The wedding presents were numerous and costly and embraced a variety of useful articles used in housekeeping. After partaking of a sumptuous repast and cordially receiving the masked portion of the community the weddingers amused themselves by tipping the light fantastic to the sweet strains of music furnished by Mr. David Stewart until the wee sma hours were reached, when the happy company amid refreshing showers betook themselves to their respective places of abode.—COM.
