THE residence of Henry L. Brehaut, Esq., Deputy Collector of Customs, Murray Harbor South, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening the 28th inst. when his daughter Sarah Summers Brehaut was united in marriage to John M. Stewart of High Bank, by the Rev. S. D. McPhee. The bride, who looked charming in white silk with veil and a bouquet of lilies, was attended by her friend Miss Aitken of Lower Montague, while John T. McLeod of Little Sands supported the groom. An attractive display of numerous and costly wedding presents testified to the popularity of the contracting parties. At the conclusion of the ceremony the large number of guests present partook of a sumptuous repast, served in Mrs. Brehaut's best manner, after which the young couple, amid the customary showers of blessings, rice and old slippers, and attended by a number of their friends, drove to their future home at High Bank. The Guardian joins with the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart in wishing them happiness and prosperity on the matrimonial voyage.

REV. G. O. HUESTIS now the oldest Methodist Minister of the Maritime Provinces preached with great acceptance in the Methodist Church, Cornwall on Sunday morning last. The congregation was large and greatly appreciated his timely and affecting words. Mr. Huestis is in his eighty-fourth year and is wonderfully vigorous and strong. He has never known a week's illness in his life. It is now about sixty years since he entered the ministry of the Methodist Church and is the only one living of all the ministers of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, P. E. Island and Newfoundland who were in the active work when Mr. Huestis began his ministry in 1846. His has been a genial and happy life and valiant and cheerful service he has through all these years rendered in the cause he loves so well. In addition to the work he has so faithfully discharged on his many circuits, Mr. Huestis has written some four or five books on various aspects of Methodism all of them possessing real merit showing his exact knowledge of Methodist polity, doctrine and general history. A new work from his pen on "The Beginnings of Methodism" is an excellent hand-book in small compass and is worthy of a large circulation.

ROBERT A. BAGWELL of Hazel Grove, who has been sending milk to the Condensed Milk Factory for some little time, reports he has received for his six months' work, from December 1st to June 1st, a total sum of about $325.00. Mr. Bagwell gives the following statement:—
Delivered to Milk Factory.....$254.37
Sold Butter.....34.00

At the residence of the officiating clergyman, Mr. Herbert, by the Rev. D. MacLean, Aubrey C. Myers, of Hazelbrook and Miss Edna M. Lund, only daughter of Alfred Lund, Bethel, were united in marriage on July 1st. The bride was attended by Miss Hilda Myers and the groom by Frank A. Lund. The best wishes of the many friends of the contracting parties will follow them and The Guardian extends its congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Myers and expresses the hope that their journey through life may be one of continued prosperity.

THE death of Thomas S. Brehaut on July 2nd, has taken from us another old land mark. Deceased was a great sufferer from rheumatism for many years before his death and death was a welcome summons to join the loved ones who had gone before him to the heavenly home. He was a humble, upright Christian man, and we can truly say, those who are left to mourn have the happy assurance that they will one day meet again where all partings are over. Besides Herbert G., the son who has the homestead, there are three sons and two daughters, Benjamin the eldest son in Boston, Henry A. in Oakland, Cal. and James W. who had just arrived from North Attleboro, Mass. The daughters are Mrs. Lorin Southard in Maine, and Mrs. D. A. Horton of Gladstone, Murray River Com.
