HITLERITES FIGURE IN REICH BLAZE

Court Attempts To Disprove Charges Implicating Prominent Nazi Leaders.

By W. E. Brockman, Associated Press Staff Writer. BERLIN, Oct. 18.—(A.P.)—An underground passage from the Reichstag building to Minister Herman Wilhelm Goering's official residence figured prominently in the Reichstag fire trial today as the court sought to disprove "Brown Book" charges against Hitlerites. One hundred newspapermen, including representatives of the Foreign Press, fied through the stuffy, narrow corridor, which entered the news on Feb. 28, the day after the blaze, when an official report said the incendiaries might have escaped through it. Nazis charged The "Brown Book"—published by a Commission headed by Lord Marley and containing list of alleged Nazi wrong doings declared that the passage was used by storm troopers during the fire, for which five men are on trial.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—(C.P.)—Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance will leave Ottawa tomorrow to speak at Campbellton, N. B., on Friday night in the Restigouche-Madawaska by-election campaign. Following the meeting the Minister will proceed to Nova Scotia for a short holiday. On Oct. 26, the Conservative Association of Amherst is holding its annual meeting. This will be the 25th anniversary of the entrance of Mr. Rhodes into public life. He was elected to the House of Commons on Oct. 26, 1908 for the constituency of Cumberland in which Amherst is located.

Battered Areas Take New Life

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Oct. 19.—(C. P.)—Through the tangled debris of southern Trinidad new settlements are appearing. Devastated plantations are being cleared and the vast tracts reforested. Southern Trinidad is not discouraged even though in some of the smaller settlements more than half the total buildings were razed or swept away by the last tropical hurricane that cut a swath through everything in its path. Everywhere new modern homes and buildings are popping up as workers gradually clear away the wreckage, all that was left of numerous homes in the village of Cedros, Los Gallos, Icaicos and Chatham.

A newspaper correspondent writing to his paper says: "True, miles of denuded forest still stand like giant spectres, and here and there houses lie in debris. But even from amid these desolations the area is giving birth to many a new garden of Eden. "The men and women are as happy as ever before. In the wake of reconstruction work, laborers are getting better wages and unemployment has vanished overnight. The greatest signs of the devastation are to be seen in Icaicos and Chatham where a few storm-battered houses and barracks still lie crumbling in a labyrinth of fallen cocoanut trees. Elsewhere there are great signs of improvement."

STRANGE SPEECH PUZZLED CHILDREN

(Canadian Press) HALIFAX, Oct. 19.—What Hector Charlesworth told a bunch of Halifax school children didn't mean a thing. In fact, they couldn't make out a single word he spoke. While in Halifax the chairman of the Canadian Radio Commission visited the province building where a group of children were being shown around. Premier Angus Macdonald suggested Mr. Charlesworth address the youngsters. He did. But it was only because their teacher applauded that they joined in. The children looked puzzled. "Why, children," said the teacher.

Prime Minister Enjoys Holiday

CALGARY, Oct. 19.—(C.P.)—Expressing himself as greatly refreshed after a four day holiday in the city of his adoption, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, entered last night for Regina where he will deliver the last of his addresses on his Western Canada tour. The Government Leader spent the day quietly, receiving friends and renewing old acquaintances. He presented the Bennett scholarships to students at the various high schools in the city. Mr. Bennett will spend Friday in Winnipeg and expects to be back at his desk in Ottawa on Monday.

All Husbands Missing

(Canadian Press) WINNIPEG, Oct. 18.—"Isn't Fred here to help me," asked Mrs. Mary Myrtle White as she looked around the courtroom when she was charged with bigamy. Fred, it was alleged, was her latest husband, but he did not respond. She was charged with having three altogether, White in Nova Scotia and two others, Day and Gould in Winnipeg. Noticing she was perplexed the magistrate gave her a remand in order to allow here to get in touch with friends or obtain counsel.

She: "Now you pride yourself on being able to judge a woman's character by her clothes. What would be your verdict on my sister over there?" He (looking at sister's scant attire): "Insufficient evidence." She—Did you read in the papers that some people were poisoned through eating chocolates? He—Yes, dear, I did, but what about it? She—Nothing, except that I was thinking er—how safe we are. er, "that was Gaelic the gentleman was speaking." The kids still looked puzzled.

Blames Weather For Crime Wave And Depression

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 19.—(A. P.)—The logic of Dr. C. A. Mills which blamed the conclusion that our present crime problem can be traced quite logically to the caprice of the elements. The secret of the thing, said Dr. Mills today probably is the abundant production of energy where weather fluctuations are wide and rapid. Weather conditions of most of the United States and of the Midwest in particular, so stimulate production of human energy that those not accustomed to it develop energy faster than they can cultivate moral and social restraints, Dr. Mills said. In working off the excess they do things their more conservative neighbors look upon as crimes. The professor of experimental medicine at the University of Cincinnati, Dr. Mills explained his views, going even further than his previously expressed conclusion that the weather caused the depression, too. He said he has found the weather influences the activity of body glands that produce man's physical and mental energy. In zones where weather fluctuations are wide and rapid, there is abundant—sometimes over abundant—energy in mankind. There follow business booms. "Great problems," he said, "have arisen in America as a result of immigration by millions from lands of lower climatic energy into our very enrgizing storm area. "It has been the marked increase in physical energy of the children and descendants of this immigrant stock, without a corresponding increase in social inhibitions, which has brought to us some very serious social problems. "They have supplied us with an element that has simply run wild in our social system without any sense of responsibility or social restraint."

Owing to heavy mortality amongst the flocks in South Africa, the Union's wool estimate for 1933-34 season is estimated at a reduction of 40 million pounds or 13 per cent. from last season.

THAT "LIKE THE DICKENS" FEELING IS LIVER

Wake Up Your Liver Bile. Feel Fit. You Needn't use Calomel To Do It. It's your liver, failing to pour out the vital two pounds of bile, daily, into your bowels, that makes you feel so off-color. Lack of bile means poor digestion. Food stays too long in your bowels and decays. Your system is poisoned. You go through the misery of gas, bloating, pain, heartburn. You have a dark brown, unpalatable taste in your mouth and bad breath. Your skin's uncleanly and often your head aches. Your whole system seems out of kilter. How can you reasonably expect to clear up a condition like this by merely taking salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage? These only move the bowels, and that's not enough. You must wake up your liver bile. Avoid calomel (mercury). Take Carter's Little Liver Pills. They're purely vegetable, gentle, sure and safe. They'll make you feel a hundred per cent better in a very short time. Don't waste your money on substitutes. Be definite. Ask for Carter's by name—and get them! Look for the name, Carter's, on the red label. 25c. at all druggists.

Legion Will Hold No Convention

(Canadian Press) OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—A Dominion convention of the Canadian Legion will be held, probably in Ottawa, sometime during the winter. This was the decision arrived at by the executive officers of that organization who have been in session here within the past few days. The convention will synchronize with the Parliamentary session. In a statement issued today Major J. S. Roper, M.C., K.C., Dominion President of the Canadian Legion, indicates that the necessity of a national convention has been imposed on the Legion by the recent re-organization of the pension adjudicating bodies. Vancouver had been slated as the locale of the next Legion gathering, but in view of the national issues involved the British Columbia veterans are understood to have suspended their claim in order to ensure the presence in the national capital of the ex-service men's delegates at a time when parliament will be in session. "There has been widespread expressed dissatisfaction and criticism of the recent appointments to the newly formed Canadian Pension Commission among our members," says Major Roper. "It is quite natural that this should be. So much improvement was expected from last session's legislation and so little seems to have been achieved from the ex-service men's standpoint. The government has seen fit, in constituting the new board, to include six members of the old board of pension commissioners and the staff of that board. The old board and its staff have been constantly under fire since 1919 and rightly or wrongly the old board is blamed for much that has transpired. The inclusion of the majority of members of the old regime and the almost total exclusion of the members of the abolished tribunal, which was devised to give the ex-soldier a fair hearing to the merits of his case, naturally creates suspicion and arouses alarm. Nevertheless fairness demands that the new board be given a fair trial in the hope that with increased personnel and enlarged powers they may be able to meet the situation. They are entitled to a fair chance notwithstanding what has gone before."

INDIAN RIVER SCHOOL

"My boy," said the millionaire, lecturing his son on the importance of economy, "when I was your age I carried water for a gang of bricklayers." "I'm proud of you, father," answered the son. "If it hadn't been for your pluck and perseverance, I might have had to do something like that myself." any vessel in which they are placed. But to be more formal, the little "Guppies" are known as Ruvulus Harti and though only four inches long when full grown can climb a straight wall with any sort of good going at all. All they do is leap, slap their tails to the wall, leap again, and so on up to the top

CLIMBING FISH HARD TO CATCH

(Canadian Press) PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Oct. 19.—To see a live fish come climbing through your bedroom window would startle most people and probably many good resolutions would follow. But it wouldn't surprise P. L. Guppy, recognized in these parts as one of the real fish experts and fanciers. Flying fish and hurdling salmon are nothing in the opinion of Guppy. He has the kind that climb. Guppy says his climbing fish are unlike the little fellows shown in some exhibitions leaping over miniature hurdles. Guppy claims his can climb a wall or jump out of

Japan Foreign Trade Suffers

TOKYO, Oct. 19.—(A.P.)—Japan's foreign trade has flourished, relatively speaking, in recent months with a 39 per cent increase in value. But a setback recently occurred in the raw silk industry as a result of a 27 per cent decline in American mills' consumption in September compared to August figures. Another reverse is threatened by rising tariff barriers especially those of the British Empire which are designed to offset Japan's alleged advantage through depreciated currency and low wages. Because of this, Japanese delegations in Simla and London are seeking agreements to avert a trade war between the two island empires. Indications are that something resembling normal China-Japanese trade relations is returning after boycotts which reduced Japanese exports to China close to the vanishing point in the two-year period of the Manchurian conflict. The return of the Chinese minister, Chiang Tso-pin, to Tokyo last week after a long absence and the establishment of a reputedly pro-Japanese Huangfu administration in North China were hailed in Tokyo as auguring more prosperous Sino-Japanese relations.

Rumania's Prince Now Good Student

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 18.—(C.P.)—Cautious, is the word to describe Prince Michael, the heir-apparent and ex-king of Rumania, who is now 11 years old. Not long ago, it was said that Prince Michael was becoming too plump for his age. So he underwent an intensive "slimming" course and carried out violent gymnastic exercises in order to reduce his weight. Now his school "report" has reached the Palace. It shows a year's unflagging effort to learn. The Prince is placed second in his class, too. This is all the more creditable because the class consists of eight boys, whom Smith Minor would describe as absolutely "frightful swots." The boys are all picked as the "best" scholars of their age from various schools. The labors are directed by dozens of professors; and the subjects they tackle are legion. The final placings for the year have been decided on by a Council of Professors, including the Minister of Public Instruction. Over the task of these pundits presided Prince Michael's devoted father, King Carol. It was the King's idea that founded the school of eight superlative scholars. He directs it personally. The King is delighted with his son's progress. The experiment is likely to be carried on now till Prince Michael has "swotted" his way through another seven years and, with his seven companions, can enter the university.

GIRLS NEED TRAINING MORE THAN THE BOYS

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 19.—There is a greater need for girl scouting, than there is for boy scouting, in the expressed opinion of the only male delegate to the Girl Scout convention. Twenty years in Boy Scout work and 15 years in Girl Scout activities leads James E. Brooks, retired consulting engineer of Glen Ridge and Montclair, N.J., to believe he is qualified to judge. "The Boy Scouts are a great organization," he said today, "but even without it boys are inclined to develop into good and active citizens. Girls are different. They are just beginning to enter fields heretofore strictly left to men, and they haven't the natural inclinations or abilities which thousands of years of experience has given to the other sex."

INVESTIGATE DEATH OF NS. WAR VETERAN

Mysterious Circumstances Point To Foul Play in the Death of Wm. Mader.

(Canadian Press) BRIDGEWATER, N.S., Oct. 19.—Mysterious circumstances surrounding William Mader's death were recounted to a jury today as Mrs. Lucinda Mader's action for $5,500 insurance opened in Supreme Court. Mader, a war veteran, disappeared last Jan. 7 after leaving home "for a walk." His coat, hat and cane were found on a wharf at Malbone Bay, and eight days later his body was found on the shore of Herman's Island, four miles away. Bruises on Body W. G. Ernst, M. P. of Lunenburg, counsel for Mrs. Mader, told the jury today an autopsy had revealed Mader had suffered a fractured nose before death, and that there was a bruise over the left ear, either of which would have produced unconsciousness. Evidence would be adduced, he said, to show there had been little water in the lungs and stomach, indicating Mader had been unconscious when he struck the water. Testimony would show, also, he said, there had been no motive for suicide. The widow took the stand today, and told the jury her husband had been "particularly cheerful" on the night he disappeared and that their domestic life had been "happy." The hearing was adjourned until tomorrow.

BLACK BUGS LIKE SANDSTORM

QUESNEL, B. C., Oct. 17.—(C.P.)—Little black bugs, swarming by the thousands and striking against the tents of prospectors and others with such force as to resemble a miniature sandstorm are reported in the valley of Lightning Creek. This adds weight to the prediction of local Indians that the Cariboe is to have at least six weeks' Indian summer.
