

RATES REVISED King Edward

Hotel Toronto

You can stay at one of the continent's traditionally great hotels at a cost as low as $2.50 per day—yet there is no lowering of those standards of service, cuisine and appointments which have delighted our guests for over thirty years.

A visit at the King Edward is an enjoyable experience—and if you care to dance, there is only one Luigi Romanelli's Orchestra, Canada's most popular radio dance band—every evening in the Oak Room. Come to the King Edward the next time you are in Toronto.

—DEATH OF MR. JOHN SHERRY—There passed away early on Thursday morning at his home in Fernwood, Mr. John Sherry, after a lingering illness. Mr. Sherry was a life long resident of the district, being born in Middleton and came to what was then Sea Cow Head, when only four years of age. His father, Patrick Sherry came out from Ireland and was one of the pioneers of that district. His mother Sarah Johnson also came from Ireland. Mr. Sherry was a successful farmer, although he had retired from active work for some time. He was seventy years of age and during his life time had made many friends. There are left to mourn, his widow, Lucy Noonan; four sons, Edwin of Chelton; Louis of Summerside; William of Fernwood and J. LeRoy of Borden; and four daughters, Mrs. Thomas J. Ranaghan, of Fernwood Hotel, Summerside; Mrs. Aloysius Roberts and Mrs. Damlan Sharenan of Kinkora and Miss Pearl at home; also one brother, Mr. James Sherry of Fernwood and two sisters, Mrs. Damlie Bourgeois of Moncton, N. B., and Mrs. Daymor Kilbride of Portage, to all of whom sympathy is extended. The funeral takes place from his late residence to the Roman Catholic Church at Kinkora this morning at 8 o'clock.—S.

—CHARMING ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment given in Epworth Hall on Thursday evening under the direction of Florence Stewart Wells and Miss Hazel Alcorn was very charming. The short musical program at the beginning by well known local talent was a rare treat to music lovers. The play entitled "A Romantic Proposal" was full of fun and witty sayings and pictured in a delightful charming manner a rather bashful young man trying to propose to the lady of his choice with her grandmother and romantic young sister trying to assist him and expecting him to offer his heart and hand in the orthodox fashion. The different characters were well chosen and each acted their part to perfection. Mrs. Roy Silliphant accompanied Miss Alcorn in her vocal numbers. Program, part 1: Piano Duet, Jean Gordon and Bessie Smallman; Solo, Hazel Alcorn; Reading, Helen Manson; Duet, Mrs. Jack McLeod and Hazel Alcorn. Part 2: "A Romantic Proposal", one act play. Characters in order of appearance: Hildegarde Cummings, Freda MacCallum; Nona Cummings Beaver, Adrienne Perry; Mrs. Cummings, Helen Manson; Julia Cummings, Ruth Muttart; Grandma Blessington, Mrs. Perry; William Thornton, George Inman. God Save the King.—S.

—PROMPT SERVICE AT ALL TIMES.—As I am operating the Mc-Col Frontenac Service Station (East End) I solicit your patronage when in Summerside. Lea, H. Moase. 9737-5-27-sw-21.

—PAINT, ENAMEL, Varnish, Shellac and Wax, quality and price right at Brace's. 9712-5-26-21

—BAPTIST CHURCH SERVICES—Sunday, May 28, 1933, Rev. A. G. Crowe, pastor. 10.45 a. m. Bedeque. Subject: "Cultivating a Missionary Interest." 11.45 a. m. Sunday School, 7.30 p. m. Freetown. Subject: "The Decaying Foundation."

—UNUSUAL SIGHT.—On Sunday last some young men were sitting on the steps of St. Paul's Hall, when they noticed a large rat trying to make its way into a warehouse opposite, belonging to Brace McKay & Co., but before the rat had a chance to get into the building a dark brown bird, about the size of a pigeon swooped down from above and grasping the rat in its claws scooped aloft with its prize, the rat setting up a terrible squealing as it was carried away held fast in the grip of the claws of the bird, who no doubt enjoyed his Sunday dinner. The little scene caused a good deal of excitement, as it is not often one sees such sights in the confines of the town.—S.

CROP ROTATIONS

On the Dominion Experimental Farms throughout Canada many trials have been made over a long period of years with different kinds of rotations of crops. Most of these rotations in Eastern Canada have been arranged for dairy farming, or to some extent for mixed farming. However, many experiments were also made in rotations for farmers who desire to obtain a considerable proportion of their revenue from grain and clover seed. Under the heading of "Crop Rotations and Soil Management for Eastern Canada," this long experience is condensed in bulletin form, which may be obtained from the Publications Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Miss Millie Browne, the prettiest girl in the village, had a father who snubbed all young men who came to see her.

One evening Charles Newton, a bashful young man, called. Mr. Browne and old Mr. Newton were close friends, but the boy had grown so rapidly that the old man did not recognize his visitor.

"It looks like rain," the young fellow ventured, timidly.

"Taint goin' to rain," was the gruff response.

For about a quarter of an hour they sat in silence. Finally the old man's curiosity got the better of him.

"Who are you?" he growled.

"Charles Newton."

"What! Not old Tom Newton's son?"

"Yes."

"Well, well," said Mr. Browne, more kindly, "it may rain. It may rain."

A lady approached an Edinburgh surgeon and asked him if he would perform an operation.

"What for?" he inquired.

"Oh, anything you like. You see I attend a lot of woman's bridge parties, and never having had an operation, I simply can't take part in the conversation," she replied.

DANGER OF BEE DISEASES

(Experimental Farms Note)

Bees, like all other live stock are subject to disease, but fortunately none of the diseases affecting bees are harmful to man. Bee diseases are divided into two groups, one group affecting the brood or young of bees, the other affecting the adults. Diseases affecting adult bees are not very serious in Canada. Occasionally a few colonies will become weakened by paralysis, but seldom is one destroyed by it. Colonies may also become infected with "Nosema" but the infection is seldom so bad as to weaken the colony. Brood diseases, however, are of more importance and should be carefully watched for in every apiary. Healthy brood is pearly white in colour and lies curled up in the bottom of the cells. Brood in any other condition should be examined at once. If the beekeeper himself is unable to determine the cause of abnormal brood he should send a piece of the comb containing the dead brood to the Bee Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, or to his Provincial Apiarist. All but one of the brood diseases known to be present in Canada are easily controlled by good beekeeping practices, but American Foul Brood is responsible for heavy losses in bees and equipment every year. The seriousness of this disease lies in the fact that once a colony becomes infected it remains a source of infection to all other colonies until it is thoroughly disinfected or destroyed. Many methods have been devised for disinfesting colonies infected with American Foul Brood, but unfortunately none of them have proved entirely satisfactory in the hands of all beekeepers. For this reason it is now strongly advocated to destroy every infected colony with fire and even this has to be done very carefully to prevent bees from healthy colonies robbing the honey from the infected ones. American Foul Brood in any apiary spells loss. At the first sign of it kill the bees in the infected colonies and burn them, together with the hives they are in, for the longer they are left the greater will be the loss.

On his tour of the district, an inspector of city high schools came before a class of girls. He wrote upon the blackboard, "LXXX." Then, peering over his spectacles at a good-looking girl in the first row, he asked:

"Young lady, I'd like to have you tell me what that means."

"Love and kisses," the girl replied.

DANISH HOG DECREASE

Approxes of Canada's 555,000 increase in the hog output of 1932, the figures of the last Danish census quoted by the Live Stock Meat Trade Review, issued by the Dominion Live Stock Branch, show still further reductions in hogs from the previous census in November last. The important reductions were in pigs from two to four months of age. Early in March, co-operative bacon factories paid 13 cents per pound for first class hogs, 12c for second, and 11 1-2c for third. Outside weights were 128-150 lbs. with a 3 1-2c premium per pound on all extra quality weighing from 132 to 143 lbs, dressed weights in all cases.

Dr. Walter Adams, astronomer of Mount Wilson Observatory, speaking of the ungrateful attitude of some war debtors, told a story of gratitude:

"A hunter in the jungle came across an elephant limping. The hunter followed it. Finally it toppled over. The hunter examined its feet. In one was a large thorn. This he removed.

"Years passed and the hunter was in a cheap seat at a circus. A turn was given by a group of performing elephants. One of these elephants reached in its trunk, encircled his waist, and lifted him from his cheap seat and set him down in a seat in a private box."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A minister's little daughter wrote: "My daddy is a minister. He makes up his sermons on a tripe writer."

Another scholar wrote: "Shakespeare was a very polite man. He often said "Go to," but never finished the sentence." "Oliver Cromwell had a strong will, a big wart on his face, and a large red nose, but behind it was a deep religious feeling," wrote another boy.
