The Secret of Good Health

Assist Nature back to normal action

When Nature requires assistance, she will not be slow in conveying to you an intimation of the fact. Decline of energy, inability to sleep well, headache, biliousness, constipation, a general sluggishness of mind and body and any sign of digestive "unrest" should impel you to seek the aid of a reliable medicine without delay. There is no better—no surer—no safer—than this proven remedy.

To the Electors of the City of Charlottetown

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I beg to announce that I will be a candidate for the Mayoralty at the coming election, February 8th., and take this means of soliciting your support.

Four years ago, the citizens of Ward five honored me by electing me as councillor; at that time I promised that if elected, my efforts would be directed towards the improvement of our streets; the members of the City Council honored me still further by selecting me as Chairman of the Street Committee, and during my term of four years in this capacity, we have put down three and one-third miles, or 60,000 square yards of paved streets which are the equal of any in America, and it is a pleasure here to note that the cost per square yard has been lower than that of any City in Canada.

Whether I have carried out my pre-election promises or not is for you to say.

I believe good streets are one of the best assets any City can have, and I believe that the introduction of this system of paving is the most progressive movement that has taken place in our City since the installation of Water Works and Sewerage, and I think I can safely claim the credit of having introduced the system here.

With the present serious unemployment conditions prevailing I believe it is our duty as a City to provide work, where possible, for our laboring men, and if you honor me by election, I will use my best efforts to have the work of paving continued.

Our City never was, nor never will be a large manufacturing centre, and while I am in favor of offering every inducement possible to manufacturers to locate here, I believe we should cater more to the tourist trade, and the making of our City attractive by the building of good streets, is one of the best inducements we can offer them.

What we need in Charlottetown is more civic pride from both the individual and civic standpoint. Nature has done her part for us with a lavish hand, our shores are laved by the waters of three beautiful rivers emptying into a spacious land locked harbor, while within our civic jurisdiction we have one of the most magnificent parks in the world. Our forefathers with a vision that was prophetic laid out our limits with wide streets and open squares which to day evoke the admiration of the visitor, it is therefore now for us to do our part, and if elected to the office of Chief Magistrate it shall be my object and aim to make this Capital City a larger, better and more beautiful Charolttetown.

In addition to my position as Chairman of the Street Committee I have also been a member of the Light Committee, and when the new contract was being arranged with the Electric Light Company, I was instrumental in having a clause inserted, which, when put into effect will, I believe very much improve our street lighting.

I am strongly in favor of Meat and Milk inspection, and while I do not claim the credit for having introduced this measure, I do claim that it had my unqualified support, and if elected I will endeavour to have it extended and enlarged so as to more fully safe guard the public health. It is not my intention to make a house to house canvass, I believe every man and woman in our City is intelligent enough to judge for themselves as to whom they desire to see elected. My record for the past four years is before you, and if you decide that it is such as to entitle me to be elected Mayor, I will appreciate the honor most highly.

Thanking you in anticipation of your support, and assuring you that if elected I will use my best efforts for the welfare of our City.

Yours Respectfully,
J. J. McKINNON.

Good Resolutions

For the New Year are admirable—best of all when carried out in every day life.

A great and wise resolution for every man is this: "I will take out sufficient insurance this year to absolutely secure the protection of my home and loved ones."

Monthly Income Insurance is within the means of almost every bread winner. Self denial of a few luxuries is worth while for the protection of a family. January is the best month to start all good resolutions.

Let us talk over a proposition with you.

COMPLIMENTARY REFERENCE TO THE GREAT WEST LIFE ASSURANCE

Toronto "Saturday Night" of the 14th. January in its "Insurance" Columns has a very complimentary reference to the Great-West Life Assurance Co.

An enquiry was made as follows:

Editor Concerning Insurance:

"I have been canvassed by an agent of the Great West Life Insurance Co., for $2,000.20 Pay Life Participating Policy. As I prefer participating insurance and said agent has shown me from a book called Insurance Abstract, that the Great West Life is paying the largest dividends of any company doing business in Canada and also their premium is a little lower. Now, what I want to know is, What are the chances of this company paying future dividends as large as they now pay and is the Great West Life in a good sound financial position?"

(Sgd.) R. I.

This was the answer of the Insurance Editor:

"The Great-West Life Assurance Co., is in a favorable position to continue paying satisfactory dividends in the future, and if your heart is set on participating insurance, you are to be congratulating upon having selected such a good profit paying company as the Great West Life."

The motto of the Great West Life ever since organized thirty years ago has been "Service to Policy-holders" and in evidence of it's remarkable success it may be stated that this excellent Company wrote over sixty million dollars of new Insurance in 1921 and for the past fifteen years has written the largest new Canadian Business of all Canadian Companies.

The Prince Edward Island Branch under the management of Hyndman and Co., Ltd., inform us 1921 was the best year in its history.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmola Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A case is sold at one dollar by all druggists the world over, or send the price direct to the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this, you have no excuse for being fat, but can reduce steadily and easily without going through long sieges of tiresome exercise and starvation diet or fear of bad effects.

CARD

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD 4.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the solicitation of many of the electors of the Ward I will be a candidate at the forthcoming Civic Election. If you see fit to elect me I will give my best endeavours to promote the city's progress and to provide good Civic Government.

I am in favor of the continuance of permanent streets and walks if such can be provided without additional taxation.

Our city should be kept clean and greater attention should be given to keeping our streets and crossings clear during the winter months thus increasing employment and benefitting the public. In short I am in favor of everything that will be in the best interest of the city and especially Ward 4, consistent with economy and efficiency. Thanking you in anticipation of your support, I am.

Yours Faithfully,
E. A. FOSTER

CARD

To the Electors of [illegible] 2

Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the request of a large number of Electors of this Ward, I have decided to offer myself as a Candidate for Councillor in the coming Civic Elections.

I am in favor of any Civic improvement that can be made without the burden of additional taxation and to help solve the unemployment situation in this city. It will be impossible to call on you personally so I therefore will take this means of soliciting your support, and assure you that should you see fit to elect me, I shall do everything in my power for the betterment of the city in general and in the interests of Ward 2.

BEGINNINGS
Chapter 49

Mrs. Munn had found them a flat as she wrote, a tiny place which she said had two virtues, "the first being its cheap rent and the second that it is very near me, so I shall see you often."

Patty knew exactly how to get there, and as they had only hand [illegible] with them, she piloted them [illegible] to a subway and took [illegible] within walking distance of the house.

Mrs. Munn lived on Seventy-seventh Street, near Fifth Avenue. Seventy-seventh Street's claim to magnificence is brief. It ends almost where it begins, a mere cluster of charming homes, one of which Patty already knew very well. Then it travels eastwards, it goes through gentility to shabby gentility and then to shabbiness pure and simple. The flat Mrs. Munn had chosen for them was about half way between the two latter conditions.

It was reached by a two flight climb, stairs lighted by gas only, day and night.

"Such halls, such positive filth," Mrs. Parke said. "Oh, we can't live here, we'll move." She looked scornfully at the worn but really perfectly clean carpets.

A very fat janitress was preceding them up the stairs. She had a slight amount of grayish hair, and a very red face with a nose shaped like a button. At this comment she turned as far around as her [illegible] permitted to give Mrs. Parke a malignant glance from her water colored eyes.

But inside the apartment they found everything different from their expectations. For Mrs. Munn herself had sent movers for the furniture, and had it unpacked and put into the tiny flat. When Patty walked into the tiny living room, [illegible] Mrs. Munn's parlour maid to greet her.

"We put the heavier pieces where we thought you'd like them, Miss Patty," she said. "The little bedroom is only large enough for the single bed, so the bigger one had to go here." She opened a door into the "large" bedroom, a space so tiny that Mrs. Parke thought it was nothing but a good sized closet.

Patty, fortunately, had insisted that only small pieces be sent. She wondered now what Millie's double bed would have looked like, even if they could have gotten it in the door.

[illegible] had suggested a cot disguised as a couch for the front [illegible] sisters could sleep there. She had also had the [illegible] torn off and new cream yellow paper put on, giving an effect of sunlight, on even a dull winter day. The oak woodwork, imitation of course, she had done over with white enamel, and the floors had been stained and polished.

"An she thought I might make curtains for the windows, Miss Patty, as yours would be sure not to fite here,' the girl went on.

Patty looked gratefully at the polished windows, veiled with fresh white voile. Her dear friend had thought of everything!

"Your mother might like to see the kitchen," the maid suggested, and they followed her to a room that, after Mrs. Parke's spacious idea about kitchens, was so small as to be insignificant.

"Is this all?" Millie asked, when the tour of inspection was over. 'A sitting room, two bedrooms and a kitchenette, well, I never thought I'd come to live in such a band-box."

"Mrs. Munn has fixed it so beautifully I know we'll love it," Patty threw in with quick tact.

The maid had unpacked their china and linen, and now, while they took off their coats, she appeared in the living room with a tray and cups and a pot of fresh tea.

"I thought you might be tired and like this," she said. And as they had their tea she slipped on a coat over her uniform and went out. There was a note for Patty on the tray.

"She certainly has been lovely," Millie said in gratitude to Mrs. Munn.

"Yes", Mrs. Parke agreed, for once whole heartedly in favor of another woman. "She has. Of course, with all her servants, it was easy for her to order all this work done, but it was nice, just the same. Is that note from her?"

"Yes", Patty answered.

"I expect she wants us to come to dinner tonight," Mrs. Parke went on.

But she didn't. The note said:

"You'll all be tired and want to rest, so I've taken the liberty of having beds put up and made and some pieces of furniture put around, you can alter to suit your own taste later. There are several inexpensive restaurants around the corner ffrom you for dinner this evening. I'll be home alone at 9, dear; if you aren't too tired, run in and we'll chat for half an hour."

"Oh, didn't she ask us?" Mrs. Parke said when Patty read her the note. "You would think, wouldn't you, that she'd come in to say how-do-you-do herself, since we've come here, instead of ordering you around to see her?"

Patty foresaw another trouble in this sudden jealousy of her mother.

UNION BANK OF CANADA HAS AN EXCEPTIONALLY STRONG STATEMENT

Bank's Position is Well Maintained, the Liquid Assets being 53.70 per cent of Total Liabilities to the Public---Resources aggregate $152,625,386

THE balance sheet of the Union Bank of Canada, for the fiscal year ended November 30th, 1921, which was returned to the shareholders at the 57th annual meeting, held at the Bank's head office in the city of Winnipeg, on Monday, January 9th, discloses this well-known banking institution to be in a very strong and liquid position. The meeting was largely attended by representative shareholders. W. R. Allan, Vice-President, presided. H. B. Shaw, General Manager, presented the Bank's Annual Statement.

MR. H. B. SHAW
Newly elected Vice-President and General Manager of the Union Bank of Canada who presented at the recent annual meeting an exceptionally strong statement.

Following the shareholders' meeting, the Board of Directors elected W. R. Allan, President, John Galt, former President, retiring because of his removal from Winnipeg to Victoria, B.C. Mr. Galt remains a Director of the Bank. H. B. Shaw was elected Vice-President and will continue as General Manager.

The Bank's assets total $152,625,386. The readily available portion of these assets represents 53.70 per cent. of the Bank's total liabilities to the public, thus demonstrating that the liquid position of the Bank has been strongly maintained.

A very strong feature of the statement is the carrying forward of $541,686 into next year's profit account, this being $400,000 greater than the previous year, and the largest amount in the Bank's history.

That the Bank has continued to do its full share for the commercial interests of Canada is shown by the fact that the total of these loans at the end of the year was $62,010,007.

Grain loans total $7,295,483. Loans to Governments and Municipalities are $7,420,529.

Deposits totalling $116,723,755 are reported.

Net profits for the year amounted to $1,312,389, which is about $360,000 less than the previous year.

Complimentary copy of our Year Book, giving statistics of the progress of Canada may be obtained from any of our branch managers.

UNION BANK OF CANADA

A Plain Statement About Taxation

In conversation with quite a number of people throughout the city, the following question has been asked:

"Is there likelihood of any increase in Taxation?" It is of course hardly necessary to say those who are familiar with civic affairs that the rate of taxation is decided upon by the City Council, and hence it follows that citizens should be careful in the selection of the men to represent them at the Council Board. I am pleased to note that all the men offering state that if elected they will advocate economy.

It is possible, however, that the man who shall be elected Chief Magistrate of the city can by advice and counsel and by close scrutiny of all measures brought before the Board, exercise some control over the expenditures.

I therefore make this statement, that:

"If elected, I shall absolutely oppose, as far as lies in my power, any advance in the rate of taxation, believing that the present rate is quite sufficient to meet all legitimate requirements provided the affairs of the city are safely and sanely administered."

In adopting a progressive policy as part of my campaign, I believe that the present financial situation of the City is such as to permit wise expenditure for its advancement without incurring debt or increasing the burden of taxation.

Yours faithfully,

R. H. JENKINS
