

IMPORTANT READING MATTER SELECTED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS FOR THE GUARDIAN'S SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

MONDAY. Many Guardian readers will deeply regret to learn of the death at Fortune Cove on Saturday last of Mrs. John M. Clark. She leaves to mourn the following brothers. Dr. James Warburton, Hon. A. B. Warburton, Dr. George Warburton, City, Colonel W. P. Warburton, England, and one sister, Mrs. R. B. Stewart, Strath Gartney, all of whom will have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends. The funeral notice is given elsewhere.

The many friends of Harry H. Brown, son of David J. Brown, of the firm of Macaulay Bros & Co., will regret to hear of his death which occurred at his father's home yesterday morning. He had been ill for about five months with Bright's disease. For about three years he had been accountant of the Marine and Fisheries department, here and was a most obliging and popular official. He was thirty years old and is survived, besides his parents, by three brothers and two sisters. His early death will be deeply regretted. St. John's, Oct. 29 (The deceased was well and favorably known in this city, where he resided for a time during which he was connected with the management of a moving picture concern which has since suspended business.)

Many friends in Moncton will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Eliza Stronach, widow of the late Alex. Stronach, which occurred in Winnipeg on Thursday morning, in the 81st year of her age. The deceased's husband, who predeceased her by about four years, will be remembered as a former general locomotive foreman of the I. C. R. in Moncton, and later as master mechanic of the P. E. Island Railway at Charlottetown. Mrs. Stronach, who was a very estimable lady, is survived by one daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) Paradis, now living in St. Paul, but who was with her mother in Winnipeg when she died. She is also survived by two brothers, Howard and George Brundage, of Tidnish, N.B., and two sisters, Mrs. H. W. Chapman, 1241 Main Street, Moncton, and Mrs. Thomas McSweeney, of Winnipeg. Mrs. Chapman received a despatch yesterday informing her of her sister's death. Interment will be made in Winnipeg.—Ex.

St. Patrick's Church, Port Augustus, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Tuesday, the seventeenth of October, when Joseph McAleer of Charlottetown was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Anastasia McCabe of Port Augustus. Rev. Father Allan McDonald officiating. The groom was supported by Joseph Hughes of Charlottetown, and the bride was attended by her sister Mary Elizabeth McCabe. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the home of the bride where breakfast was served. After taking a pleasure drive through the surrounding country they returned home and partook of a sumptuous repast at which a large number of their friends and relatives were present. After dinner the guests indulged in dancing until the early hours of the following morning. Mr. and Mrs. McAleer were the recipients of many useful and valuable gifts, showing the popularity and esteem in which they are held. The happy couple drove to Charlottetown the following day where they will in future reside.

The many friends of A. L. Collett, King's College, Windsor, N. S., will be pleased to learn that an essay of his on "Canadian Poets and Poetry" was awarded the Haliburton Prize recently. Mr. Collett is a native of this Province, his home being in Crapaud. During the past summer he had charge of St. Alban's Episcopal Church, Souris.

The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community of Malpeque goes out to Wm. MacKenzie and family of Baltic, Lot 18. Within two days two very sad deaths have occurred in this home—a young man aged twenty-one who had returned from the harvest excursion to the West only to die two weeks after his return and that of the mother who in less than forty hours later succumbed to a severe attack of congestion after tubercular trouble. The funerals which were largely attended were conducted by the Pastor, Rev. E. J. Rattee, who spoke from John 13:7—"What I do thou knowest not now." The truest and deepest sympathy is felt for Mr. MacKenzie and his family in this double bereavement.

The sudden death of Stephen Carrier, of Earncliffe, occurred on Tuesday morning last, and was a great shock to the entire community. Mr. Carrier had been enjoying his usual good health all along, and on the day of his death seemed as well and cheerful as ever after finishing some work outside, after his son John had left for the city. Mr. Carrier came in to the house, and shortly afterwards Mrs. Carrier came into the kitchen from an adjoining room to find her husband sitting in his arm-chair—dead.

The deceased was one of the noblest and best citizens this country ever produced—his sterling honesty and upright character won for him the respect and esteem of all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. The funeral to the Church of England at Cherry Valley took place on Thursday afternoon, and was one of the largest ever seen in the community. The services were conducted by the rector, Rev. Mr. Winter. Four of the pall-bearers were sons-in-law of the deceased: Malcolm McDonald, John McDonald, David and William Sherrin, the other two being John Finlayson and Cyrus Ings.

Great sympathy is felt for Mrs. Carrier in her awful loss of one of the best husbands God ever blessed a woman with. For theirs was truly an ideal and happy married life—never the shadow of a cloud having come between them in the fifty long years that hand in hand, they trod life's pathway together. The following children are left to mourn the loss of a devoted and affectionate father: John E., at home; George A., China Point; Mrs. Malner the guests indulged in dancing until the early hours of the following morning. Mr. and Mrs. McAleer were SARNIA, ONT., Feb. 5th, 1910. "I have been a sufferer for the past 25 years with Constipation, Indigestion and Catarrh of the Stomach. I tried many remedies and many doctors but derived no benefit whatever.

I have now taken 'Fruit-a-lives' for some months and find that they are the only remedy that does me good.

I have recommended 'Fruit-a-lives' to a great many of my friends and I cannot praise these Fruit-a-lives too highly."

Captain MacPherson of the C. G. S. Minto, now at Halifax, when she will go on the Dry Dock for an examination of her hull, spent yesterday at his home in this city and leaves this morning on return.

When seen by a Guardian representative last evening, Capt. MacPherson spoke at length on the Minto's trip. "That trip was his farthest north and he experienced his first acquaintance with the icy waters of Hudson Strait and Bay.

The Minto was in the service of the Naval Department and working on Hydrographical Survey. A party of four, of whom Capt. F. Anderson, son of Dr. Anderson, City, was chief, was on board to take a survey of Port Nelson and Port Churchill, two harbors on the West side of the Bay, each of which is eligible for a railway terminus. To decide which was the most suitable was the object of the expedition.

The Minto proceeded to Sydney from Halifax, arriving there about July 18th. Here she took in tow the schooner Beryl, which was en route to Lake Harbor, Baffin's Land.

She proceeded to Port Mour, in the Straits of Belle Isle, where the Schooner Chrissy G. Thomey, bound to Port Nelson, awaited her for towing. With the two schooners the Minto proceeded up the Hudson Straits, encountering very heavy ice en route. The vessel conducted herself well, off-coming fog necessitated slow progress owing to the imminent danger of icebergs which were in abundance.

When in the straits one of their hawse pipes was broken and the ship moored to an iceberg for two days while repairs were effected. Just previous to this the Thomey in tow had her stem damaged and after the Minto had been repaired she towed the Thomey to Waken Bay where she was beached and repaired.

While at the big berg for repairs the schooner, Beryl, then only 60 miles from her destination, proceeded to Lake Harbor alone.

The Minto arrived at Port Churchill about the middle of August and after taking on a gasoline launch left for Nelson River.

Nelson is a very small place, the North West Mounted Police station and the Hudson Bay Post being practically the only sign of life in the place.

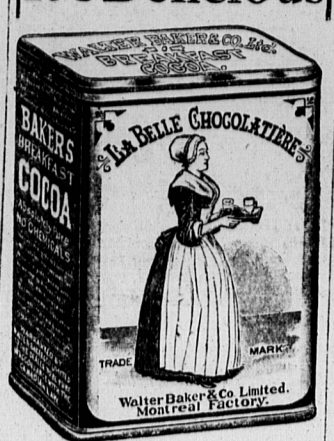

The work of exploration and Survey was proceeded with at the latter place and also at Churchill. While at these two places one mail was received by the Minto via Winnipeg and two or three left the ship, one of which was sent via the Eric and taken off by the Minto.

In her work the Minto struck bottom a couple of times and also lost an anchor and a quantity of chain in a very swift current.

They left Nelson on return on Sept. 28th. They spent a couple of days in a harbor called Sugluk and left there intending to call at Lake Harbor, Baffin Land, where a report had said missionaries were starving. Meeting the Dundee whaler Active in the Straits on Oct. 6th., they were in proceeded to Port Burwell, arriving on the 8th. Taking on water they left on the 10th and when 50 miles from Indian Point, Labrador, learned by wireless that the Eric was in Domino Harbor with only 1 1/2 tons coal. They proceeded there and gave the Eric 7 tons, which would take her to a port where she could be supplied. She left Domino Harbor on Oct. 12th, arrived in Sydney at one a. m. Oct. 17, left there 4 p. m. same day and arrived in Halifax at 7.30 a. m. on the 18th.

The Minto used up about 800 tons of coal on her trip. She was plentifully supplied and provisioned. Her officers were Capt. MacPherson, City, 1st. Mate, Senecaugh, Georgetown, 2nd. Mate, Capt. Lawrence, Halifax. The engineers were P. E. I. men and a couple of the firemen and four of the deck hands, Graham, Trainor, Watts and Gallant, were from this province, the remainder being shipped in Halifax.

The Minto will be examined in Halifax before being transferred from the Naval back to the Marine Department but whether she will be repaired there or here the Captain could not state.

On the evening of Oct. 11th at 23 Harold Street, Roxbury, Massachusetts, a typical Nova Scotian wedding took place, the happy couple being Daniel McLeod, formerly of Dartington, P. E. Island, and Miss Amelia A. Sutherland of Six Mile Brook, Pictou Co., N.S.

The best man was Laughlin Graham, cousin of the groom. The bridesmaid was Miss Lillian K. Sutherland, sister of the bride. The spacious house, which was newly furnished, was filled to its utmost capacity with young friends and relatives and special music was furnished for the evening, both vocal and instrumental. The officiating clergyman was Rev. W. M. Tufts, D.D., of the First Presbyterian Church, of which the couple are members. Their home was beautifully decorated with flowers of every description and after the wedding an elaborate banquet was served.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk chifton over white satin with veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of cream lace, over yellow satin, and carried a bouquet of pinks. The groom's present to the bride was a gold chain and pendant set with diamonds and to the best man a cravat pin set with pearls. The bride's present to the bridesmaid was a signet ring suitable engraved. Among those present were: W. E. Hannon, formerly of California but now of Boston, who made merriment the entire evening; Gilbert Patten Brown, who represented the Boston Press; Dr. and Mrs. John E. Gillis, Herbert and Mrs. Matthews, A. and Mrs. Graham, A. and Mrs. Johnston, Misses Margaret Sutherland, Margaret McLeod, Mary Matheson, Margaret Matheson, Harriett McLeod, George McLeod, Jennie Murray, Barbara Sullivan, Olive Matheson, Condueta Obiegon, Mrs. Mollie Gerrish, Daniel McGregor, G. Specialist Did Skin Trouble No Good Very Itchy and Disfiguring. Got a Little Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Was Cured.

"For two summers I suffered with skin trouble on my arms, and on my legs from my knees down. My arms were badly disfigured, and I kept them covered. It came like the hives, and was very itchy. I consulted a specialist, who gave me medicine, as well as an ointment, but seemed to do no good. It was beginning to appear on my face.

"I got a little Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap. The first touch of Ointment seemed to relieve, and before the Cuticura Ointment was finished I was cured. I have not the least sign of trouble. I think it would have spread over my whole body if Cuticura Soap and Ointment had not cured me. I am delighted to think I have something I have confidence in. I tell all my friends about them, and I think Cuticura Ointment is the best I ever saw." (Signed) M. J. Boddy, 73 McCaul St., Toronto, Dec. 22, 1910.

I tried lots of other remedies but nothing did me any good till I tried Cuticura Ointment, and from the very first application it began to heal and now there is not even a scar left." (Signed) Mrs. W. Boyce, Mermaid Farm, P.E.I., Jan. 8, '11.
