He expresses himself more than ever delighted with the Island and our people, and furthermore has made his trip more than successful for the Manufacturer's.

Mr. G. W. SCHURMAN, B.A., and LL. B., of Dalhousie, has decided to take post graduate work in law at Cornell university, New York, and expects to leave for there the last of this week. The university of New York offered to admit Mr. Schurman to their senior year in law on his record at Dalhousie college without examination papers, but he has decided to go to Cornell.—Halifax Chronicle.

Mr. W. H. Mansson, of the firm of Thos. Hall & Co., Summerside, who was in charge of their machinery at the Provincial Exhibition, informs us that while there he disposed of the entire display including a horse power, a double-gear level tread horse power thresher and cleaner, a horse-power thresher and shaker combined, and one Eureka Fanning mill and seed separator. The above speaks for itself.

THE CAREY CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION Just one hundred years ago tomorrow, the Pioneer Missionary, Dr. Carey preached that resulted in the formation of the first Foreign Missionary Society under the auspices of which he himself went to India as its Missionary.

In common with the Baptist churches the world over, the service in the Baptist church of this city will have special reference to this event. A sermon suitable to this occasion will be preached by the pastor at 7 p. m.

Mr. Mellish, the popular young clerk of the Bank here has been promoted and leaves this week for Woodstock. Mr. Mellish has deservedly made many friends while in Weymouth and we wish him every success.—Free Press, Weymouth, N. S.

Mr. Ernest Mellish, son of J. T. Mellish, Esq., of this city, is referred to in the above extract. The same paper contains an account of a cricket match at which our young friend held the bat for a high score and won for the Digby boys against the Windsor eleven.

The Rev. W. A. Crawford-Frost Rector of St. George's, has received an invitation to the Parish of the Redeemer, Merrick, Long Island, New York, and resigned his work in New Glasgow. The congregation to which he is going is composed principally of wealthy New York business men and the Bishop of the diocese calls this his "model parish," as it is only six miles from Garden City, which was built by the munificence of the late A. F. Stewart as a model Cathedral and town. This is saying a great deal.—New Glasgow Chronicle.

TUESDAY afternoon while the Rev. Samuel Howard, the Methodist minister of Hampton, was driving a spirited horse in his two wheeled cart, the animal became unmanageable and ran away. The horse dashed off at a furious rate, and in his mad career the wagon struck March's blacksmith shop with great force, throwing the reverend gentleman out. Dr. Wetmore was hastily summoned and upon examination found that two of Mr. Howard's ribs had been broken and his collar bone dislocated. Mr. Howard was unconscious for several hours. He is doing as well as could be expected.—Moncton Times. Mr. Howard is a P. E. Islander.

The Halifax papers report a touching case of want and distress. A woman with a family of seven children, one only a few weeks old, is in absolute want of the necessities of life. Her husband is reported to have left home on April 30th to go lobster fishing at P. E. Island, and since that time his family have had no word from him further than he is reported to have been seen at Charlottetown walking about smoking his pipe. Such was the condition of the family that within a fortnight after the birth of her child the mother had to go out hunting for work, and in doing so she became ill and was laid up. One charitable man allowed her two loaves of bread a day for two months, and one loaf a day since. While the woman lay sick there was nothing but bread and water in the house, and a fire could only be had when the children could find a few sticks of wood on the streets.

Jubilee of Sons of Temperance.

The public meeting under the auspices of the Sons of Temperance of Charlottetown, held in Macleod's hall, Thursday was a decided success. In spite of counter attractions there was a full house.

The chair was occupied by Councillor Crabbe, P.G.W.P., who opened the meeting by reading a telegraphic dispatch conveying greetings from G. W. P. Fisher, who is attending the National Division now in session in New York.

Among the visiting brethren present we noticed William Laird, John C. Clark, William Hoggood, Arthur Simpson, and other Sons of Temperance.

The members appeared in appropriate regalia, and the room was neatly decorated for the occasion.

The addresses, which were worthy of the speakers and of the occasion, were delivered by J. W. Morrison, Esq., one of the pioneer members of the Order, Rev. J. A. Gordon, J. P. Tanton, Esq., and Rev. William Hamlyn.

"Jenny Lind and the disappointed musician" was the title of the reading given by Mr. C. B. Warren.

Mr. J. K. Ross also read a few choice selections from the late John B. Goff, and Mr. David Small gave an amusing Scotch thanksgiving sermon.

The readings were all good, and much appreciated by the audience.

The program was interspersed with choice temperance music, the soloists being Mr. J. R. Davison, Mrs. Mallory, and Rev. Mr. Hamlyn.

A special feature of the program was the Song of Jubilee, written specially for this celebration, and sung by the latter gentleman.

Mr. John Ross's Gaelic Song was equally appreciated by those who understood it and those who did not.

The chairman in closing on behalf of the committee thanked Mr. G. L. Foster for his kind and efficient services at the organ.

An American composed for the occasion the following

SONG OF JUBILEE.

Come rally for the Jubilee!

Come veterans tried and true!

Put on regalia girls and boys!

The white, the red, the blue!

Come rally round the flag again!

With music, songs, and cheers!

The good old Sons of Temperance flag!

That's waved for fifty years.

Chorus.

For fifty years, for fifty years!

We've fought the hosts of sin!

And if it takes yet fifty years!

We'll battle till we win.

With only sixteen noble men

To face a mighty foe

Stood countless New York Number One

Just fifty years ago.

But now we come a mighty host

Two hundred thousand strong

To celebrate our Jubilee

And fight this fearful wrong.

Love, Purity, Fidelity

In written on our shield!

Truth, Hope and Charity the words

We carried in the field.

We boast not of our thousands slain,

Of ruin, spoils, or tears,

But o'er the rescued we rejoice

The saved of fifty years.

Of souls regained, of wrecks restored,

Of sunshine to the sad,

Of mothers who rejoice tonight,

Of little ones made glad.

For these we thank the Lord and shout

Away with doubts and fears,

We still will trust in Him who blessed

Our cause for fifty years.

CHILDREN'S regalia, overcoats and suits

Hundreds to choose from, all sizes kept in stock and selling cheap at the Scotch clothing store—Jas. Paton & Co.

Rev. J. M. MACLENNAN will conduct

Divine service at Dundas, Sabbath Oct. 2nd and 9th.

The Britannia sailed on Thursday for Boston with a cargo largely of mackerel.

The Fastnet did not make a return call from St. John. She had a full cargo of oat meal from that port.

The market, Friday, was well attended,

considering the great number of farmers and their families that have been attending the Exhibition. We have no changes in price to note, except hay which has advanced again to 45 cts. Some loads sold as high as 48 cts to 49 cts for local use.

Now that the exhibition is over the farmers will begin potato-digging, and we hope to see a brisk fall trade.

Graveyard Insurance

Further Particulars Of The Trouble in St John.

The following further particulars have come to hand respecting the St John alleged insurance frauds:—

The case is one of those known among agents as "graveyard insurance," and the story as told is about as follows:—About the 11th of January, 1890, an application for insurance purporting to be from Wm D Reed, of Caledonia, Albert Co, was made to the Total Abstinence Insurance Company of Chicago through C B Walton.

The application stated that he had not been ill for twelve months and was then in good health. Accompanying was a certificate from Dr Randall that he knew Reed to be of good health and sound constitution and that the risk was a first-class one. According to the prosecution when Dr. Randall made this statement he was and had been for some time previously attending Reed, who was dangerously ill with consumption.

The application was for $3,000 and bore the signature of William D. Reed and the signature of Rev. Sidney Walton as witness. A few weeks after Reed died and Dr. Randall gave a certificate of death, in which it is said he declared he had attended the deceased, who was ill only a few days.

Shortly after Mrs. Reed, who is a daughter of the informant Turner, was told by Gideon D. Reed, brother of the deceased, that her husband had a policy on his life in her favor of $2,000. Subsequently she had paid $1,000 by C. B. Walton and told that was the total amount. As Mrs. Reed never had any knowledge that her husband was insured, the difference in the two stories told her naturally excited her suspicions and she consulted her father. As repeated efforts on his part failed to get a satisfactory explanation of the case he finally communicated with the head office. This led to investigations which resulted in warrants for the arrest.

The prosecution have the $3,000 policy in Mr. Reed's favor, attached to which is Mrs. Reed's receipt for the full amount. She only got $1,000 and declares she never signed for $3,000. The endorsement on the draft by which the $3,000 was drawn from the company is also alleged to be a forgery.

So far as can be known as yet the only charge against Rev. Sidney Walton is that he appears as witness to Reed's application, which application it is charged forged.

Mr. Fred McLeod, son of Hector McLeod, Esq., Royalty left in the Britannia to resume his post-graduate studies at Harvard.

The adjourned meeting of the Philharmonic Society will be held in their hall on Monday evening, 3rd Oct., at 8 o'clock. It is earnestly requested that all who intend taking part in the concert, will make it a point to be present or send their names to the secretary before the meeting. The existence of the society depends altogether on the attendance at this meeting.—21
