Yesterday morning, in historic St. Paul's Church, of which Rev Theophilus DesBrisay of honored memory, was the first Rector a solemn service of remembrance and dedication was held, when a bronze tablet was unveiled in memory of Gordon DeBlois.

Upon the tablet are these words: "To the glory of God in proud and loving memory of Gordon Roland DeBlois, Lieutenant, West Nova Scotia Regiment, born March 12, 1921. Killed in action in Italy, December 27, 1943. He knew the agony of war and the lethargy which peace would bring, when he voiced his prayer in these immortal words, eight days before he made the supreme sacrifice: "All I pray for is that we who are here shall not be forgotten when this war is over. I pray that our sacrifices will not have been in vain, and that in another few years the world will not be drowned in blood again. I pray that the people of all the nations of the world will be big and wise enough to work for everlasting peace, happiness and prosperity, without allowing their prejudices, personal greed, or selfish ambitions to stand in the path of such an aim.'

" 'Jesus beholding him loved him.'—C. Mark 10:21.

" 'Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend.' "—St. John 15:13.

A congregation which filled the new Presbyterian Church at Wood Islands to overflowing was present yesterday to witness its dedication by the Moderator of the Synod, the Rev. Lloyd MacLellan, B.D., of New Glasgow, N.S. Other clergymen participating in the ceremony included the Rev. T H B. Somers, pastor of St. James Church, Charlottetown; the Rev. G. Carlyle Webster, pastor of Zion Presbyterian Church, Charlottetown; the Rev. T. A. A. Duke, and the Rev. E. C. Evans, B.A.

The sermon for the occasion was preached by the Rev. Lloyd MacLellan, who brought to the new church the greetings of the Senate of the Maritime Synod.

His Eminence, James Charles Cardinal McGuigan came back yesterday to the same church at Rustico in which, twenty-eight years ago, he had been consecrated priest.

Despite the unfavourable weather, people for miles around, irrespective of race or creed, came to attend Solemn High Mass at St. Augustine's Church yesterday morning in order that they might meet and shake hands with Canada's first English-speaking Cardinal.

Both church and grounds were gaily decorated for the occasion. Large vases of many-coloured flowers had been placed inside the sanctuary and draperies of gold and white hung in graceful folds midway down from the lofty ceiling. On a banner suspended high over the altar were the words inscribed on the new Cardinal's coat of arms: "Ambulate in Dilectione" —"Walk in Delight". On the walls back of the altar were crossed flags. On one of each pair were the Papal colours; on the other, the fleur-de-lis of France, symbolic of the country of origin of Rustico's early settlers.

In the middle of the ground, midway between the church and the parochial house, the parishioners had erected an imposing arch, artistically covered with spruce and fern. On its crown were inscribed the words "Hail Illustrious Prince". On the reverse side was the Latin word, 'Magnificat.'

The Mass was celebrated by the parish priest, the Rev J. C. Petrie. The Rev. Patrick Walsh was Deacon with the Rev. Earl Dalton officiating as sub-Deacon. The Rev. Dr. R. V. MacKenzie, rector of St. Dunstan's, officiated as High Priest. The Rev. L.A. Dougan was Master of Ceremonies. He was assisted by the Rev. T. Butler.

The chaplains to His Eminence, Cardinal McGuigan were Monsignor J. A. Murphy and Monsignor Maurice MacDonald. Acting in a similar capacity to His Excellency Bishop Boyle were the Rev. Patrick McMahon and the Rev. J. A. Sullivan. The train bearer to His Eminence Cardinal McGuigan was the Rev. Eugene Murray. The censor bearer was the Rev. Leonard Ayers. The Rev. A. L. Sinnott and the Rev. W. Pineau were the acolytes.

Other clergy present included Monsignor Allen, Toronto; Monsignor Charles Foy, Quebec; Rev. Martin Monaghan; Rev. A.L. Herrell; Rev Bernard Gillis; Rev. Wilfred Keefe; Rev. George MacDonald, and the Rev. William McCabe.

On behalf of the two respective associations of the Church, the flags were presented at the chancel steps to the rector.

The people of Tignish were grief-stricken when the sad news came of the unexpected death of Mrs. Peter Harper at her home, Tignish Corner, on Monday, February 4th, after an illness of only nine days, but the grief of the people generally was incomparable to that experienced at the home of the deceased where her large family of eleven children who lingered by her bedside could hardly realize that their beloved mother had passed away.

The deceased was sixty-two years of age and until a few months prior to her death, seemed in perfect health. During her illness Mrs. Harper was visited by her pastor, Rev. J. H. McDonald.

The children left to mourn are Mrs. Clarence Smith and Mrs. Preston Ellsworth, Charlottetown; Edna at home; Mrs. Fenton Getson, Kildare Capes; Joseph, Toronto, Harold, Charlottetown; Pte. Emmett, still Overseas; Gilbert, Arthur and Albert at home; Pte. Roland stationed in Debert, N. S.

St. Paul's Anglican Church, Charlottetown, has acquired the services of an accomplished church organist in the person of Mr. Roy Mugford, who arrived in the City yesterday from England.

Mr. Mugford is no stranger to Charlottetown as he came here from England with a squadron of the R. A. F. in June, 1941, and remained in Charlottetown until May 1943. While stationed here, Mr. Mugford organized the R. A. F. Male Voice Choir.

A native of England, he was born at Luton, Bedfordshire. At the age of ten, he was organist for All Saints Church of that city and at 13 was placed in charge of the All Saints Church Boys' Choir. At 18, Mr. Mugford was admitted to the membership of the Royal College of Organists, London, England.

During his former stay in Charlottetown, he occasionally played as guest organist for St. Paul's, St. Peter's, Trinity United, and Zion Presbyterian Churches. As soon as transportation facilities permit, Mr. Mugford's wife and four children will join him in Charlottetown.

Since the illness of St. Paul's last permanent organist, Miss Lillian Earle, Mrs. Leigh Dingwell and Miss Mary Bentley have been capably substituting.

Four judgments nisi were granted yesterday by the Divorce Court to Roy Alfred Mills, Ernest Eldrich Galbraith, Otto Henry Curtis, and Raymond Walter Lawlor. The judgments will be made absolute six months from yesterday provided there is no cohabitation by the plaintiffs in the meantime with the women from whom they have sought divorce.

The remaining two cases on the original docket of six, Athol Herbert Worth, plaintiff, versus Alma Margaret Worth, defendant; and J.O.C. Campbell, plaintiff, versus Margaret Campbell and Percy Burkett, co-defendants, were further adjourned to June 13.

The case of Norman MacMillan, Bloomfield, plaintiff, versus Goldie Irene MacMillan, defendant, was heard and also adjourned to June 13 for judgment.

The children involved in each case upon which judgment was rendered will not be given to the plaintiffs, with one exception, until the divorce has become absolute. In the case of Otto Henry Curtis, the Court ruled that he is to retain custody of his two children since they were under his control when his divorce was applied for.

Weekly Meat

SUN.	MON.	TUES.	WED.	THU.	FRI.	SAT.
Chicken	Sausage	Fish	Veal Cutlet	Veal & Kidney Stew	Vegetable Plate	Meat Loaf
unrationed	Group D	unrationed	Group B	left-over	unrationed	Group C
	5 oz. 1 token		½ lb. 3 tokens	veal (kidney unrationed)		1 lb. 4 tokens

If your spring stock-taking has revealed a tin of chicken on your shelf, you'll have the makings for a Sunday pie for you and your guest. Or perhaps you'll give in to your yen for the season's first broiler. Monday's sausages will save pennies and tokens. And if you have pineapple left from Sunday's dessert, you'll find it a tasteful adjunct broiled along with the sausages. Fish can be a fine dish for meatless Tuesday. The middle-of-the-week veal purchase will allow a goodly portion for breading and baking on Wednesday. And on Thursday the rest, along with unrationed kidney, gives you the wherewithal for a stew full of flavor and goodness. Friday is vegetable day, for which sprightly spring asparagus topped with a good cheese sauce is suggested. Saturday's meat loaf of beef, veal or pork, will adequately serve from four to six and so take care of week-end hospitalities.
