The form of presentation was made by Mr. Thomas May, son of the late Mr. Robert May. The window is a beautiful one and adds greatly to the beauty of this already beautiful church.

A meeting of the Executive of the Queen's County Liberal-Conservative Association was held Saturday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers for the Association and carrying out other items of the programme mapped out by the Provincial Association. Mr. W. J. Gibson, Marshfield, was unanimously elected President; Mr. Andrew A. McDonald, Glencoe; Vice-President and Mr. J. A. McDonald, Charlottetown Secretary.

The Queen's County Liberal-Conservative Association is now commencing in very detail and has a wide-awake and competent staff of officers and executive. The President, Mr. Gibson, is one of the Island's foremost and most progressive farmers, in close touch with the farmer's problems and with the needs of the country. That will make a capable president those who know him best are fully convinced. The Vice-President also is a progressive farmer and represents and has the confidence of one of the best farming communities in the island, while the Secretary, Mr. J. Augustus McDonald, of this city is one of our rising young lawyers. The Association is to be congratulated on its excellent staff of officers and the unanimity and enthusiasm with which the Association was launched, augurs well for the success of the work now in hand.

It was decided at this meeting to hold the Queen's County Convention on the 20th instant when the candidates for the County will be nominated. Arrangements will be sent at once to the convenors of the different polls, asking them to see at once to the appointment of five delegates each to attend the convention. As there is little time it is hoped this will be done at once and that the coming convention will be as large and enthusiastic as the organization meetings have been.

Some time ago, the farmers of the district agreed that one long ring on the rural telephone would be a fire alarm on this particular day one of the Linklater boys noticed that the roof of the house was on fire. He hastily sent in the ring and within ten minutes thirty-five men from the neighborhood were on the scene, some in cars, some in carriages, some on horseback and many on foot. Mr. Linklater said that if the alarm had not been arranged none of his property could have been saved, as there was a heavy north wind blowing at the time.

EMMOND BAY lost one of its good parishioners recently in the person of Joseph H. Arsenault of Urbinville, who died on Friday, at 10 o'clock, Sept. 2nd, and was buried on Sunday morning. The late Mr. Arsenault was a type of citizen who are greatly needed for the upliftment of a community. His was an example of sturdiness and zeal in the accomplishment of duty and a most unselfish disposition as a citizen and of generosity and Christian devotion towards his Church and fellow men. Dying at the middle of sixty-one, he however, leaves a widow, a large family of sons and daughters, all in comfortable circumstances. He was for the last few years a church warden and for many years president of the Egmond Bay Exhibition. St. James Church was handsomely decorated last evening with foliage and flowers for the marriage of Miss Jennie Pauline Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Rogers to Mr. Frank Clark of this city. The bride was a handsome young bride looking exceedingly girlish and pretty as she entered the church in shimmering white satin gown with train, the lovely veil with its insets of real lace being caught in place by orange blossoms. A large arm bouquet completed the charming effect. The ceremony was held in the choir loft, New Jersey, a connection of the family, conducted the ceremony, the bride being given away by her father Mr. W. K. CAME A CROPPER.—When a town possesses such good streets as Summerside it is not very often that a car owner has to have his car towed out of the way. In the case of the other morning, however, when one of the local taxi drivers who lives on South Street could not get his bus over a ditch that had been dug in the street the previous day and had to enlist the assistance of Mr. Kay, Edward Mason, Quigley of St. Peter's Bay, formerly of Kelvin, Kensington, on Wednesday, Sept. 7th, at 6 o'clock p. m. TRIBUTE TO MR. KERR.—In a recent issue of the Montreal Star a fitting tribute was paid Mr. Frederick Kerr, formerly of Moncton but now of Summerside, for his services in training the young of that city to the appreciation of music. Mr. Kerr was born in Scotland and occupied a prominent position among the celebrated musicians in the city of Glasgow for many years. For some time past he has conducted a studio in Montreal, giving lessons in voice culture and piano. He visited Summerside in July and became so fatuated with P. E. Island that he accepted a position as organist of the Presbyterian Church and is opening a studio and plans on permanently residing in this province.

NEARLY ACHIEVED PATHOS.—The mystery that surrounds the disappearance of Charley Brown was practically duplicated on Sunday last when one of Summerside's most popular young men disappeared for a while from the ken of all his kin. Arrangements had been made the night before for a day's outing and following the plans made, the leader of the expedition called for the young man in his car. The young man was not in his house; nor stable; the young man was not in the garden, nor was he anywhere in the fields surrounding the farm house where he lived. "He may have fallen into the well; I heard him say yesterday that he was going to fix it," said the cheerful idiot, which she has used to wonder about in the party, so a search was made in the well, but no answer to the agonized calls of the searchers. "I heard him say something about the back fence of the farm; perhaps he was kicked by the young horse while he was working at the fence," said another, who was not being backed on the rounds. And so the pasture field was searched with the same results that crowned all other efforts. "He might have gone up in the hayloft and fallen down," suggested and search was made there, to the fluttering indignation of the hens and barnyard fowl. By this time, the searchers were getting worried and to relieve the tension, the leader of the party suggested everyone present to go and look in the room of the young man and see if he had not quietly returned to his bed for another early morning nap. Full of high hope, the party made for the bedroom, which was found to be empty. The fact that someone had hastily removed himself from the arms of Morpheus, at last fearing the worst and dreading the painful announcement that would have to be made to the relatives, the party returned to town, and found the matter had been solved. Someone had hastily removed himself from the arms of Morpheus, at last fearing the worst and dreading the painful announcement that would have to be made to the relatives, the party returned to town, and found the matter had been solved.

BRIDAL SHOWER.—An altogether lovely evening was spent at the home of Mrs. H. P. Goodwill, the occasion being a shower tendered Miss Adeline Ruth MacGregor, whose marriage took place, Sept. 7th. About 75 friends assembled in the spacious living room which was beautifully decorated with leaves and flowers. The bride to be was brought in on the arm of one of her girl friends, while a bridal march was played by Mr. Sandy McCreger. The remaining girl friends formed in two rows, leading to the altar, where the bride and groom took their place under the arch, the music changed and Mr. McCreger effectively sang "Sweet Adeline." A huge basket lined with flowers was filled to overflowing with parcels, not the usual miscellaneous of American homes, but the best known herbs, bark, and berries named in the Dispensatory. Will prove its merit to you if you will give it a trial. Hood's Pills.

MISS MARGARET STEVENSON read the verses; some of which caused much merriment. Miss MacGregor in her words of appreciation spoke of how much the home ties had meant to her and how dearly she longed to see her dear friends. The friendships which she had formed in her home community. The remainder of the evening was very pleasantly spent. Ice-cream and cake were served, after which Mr. MacGregor to the delight of everyone present sang several Scotch songs. Mr. George Green's readings were very much appreciated, as was also one which the bride-to-be sang, on request. Miss MacGregor has many talents, which she has used to wonderful advantage both at home and in the different communities in which she has taught school. She is a conscientious church worker, and considers nothing, which she feels a duty, too difficult to undertake. She is at present General secretary for Mission Bands and also for Sunday Schools in the Kensington District. The evening was brought to a close by the singing of "She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Auld Lang Syne." Many wishes for the future happiness of "Ruth and Keith" were expressed by all present.

SOME SHOTS.—When the talk comes around to shooting, the palm has to be handed to a trio of gun experts who recently spent a few days in the vicinity of O'Leary, before making for the marshes, summer large talk was made regarding the bag that each one was going to make, until the natives thought that "bull" was the only thing these sportsmen could shoot, but eyes were popping and mouths were agape when the three stalwarts returned with seventy-five ducks and brant; one of the party being responsible for forty, another bagging twenty and the third, a man of seventy years or more, adding his modest rifle of fifteen birds to the collection.

The Halifax Chronicle says:—Our Justice fills an important part of a social and political as well as judicial fabric. His personal life and character, his habits and activities, his reputation for liberality and hospitality—all bear on his quality as a gentleman, which is of the first importance, for as one distinguished Lord Chancellor declared: "I always appoint a gentleman, and if he happens to know a little law, so much the better."

It is fortunate for Canada, that its Chief Justice is a man, who in all the varied relations of life bears the reputation of being a gentleman and as such is admired, respected and trusted by all classes. His judicial acumen undimmed by the years, holds the absolute and complete confidence of the legal fraternity throughout Canada. The time is coming for a Canadian to be Governor-General of Canada. If that policy had been agreed upon no Canadian would have filled that position with better satisfaction to the people than the late Deputy Governor-General, Sir Louis Davies, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada. But if Sir Louis cannot receive that distinction he is deservedly honored by his countrymen for the admirable way in which he has filled the highest judicial post in the Dominion.

HOME FOR BUREL.—The remains of the late Pte. A. Mathieson, an Islander, who was killed in action in France while serving with the American Infantry, arrived in Charlottetown yesterday and was taken to St. Peter's Bay for burial yesterday. The late Private Mathieson was the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Mathieson of St. Peter's and was killed in France in 1918. The transport on which the remains were taken from Europe carried over a thousand bodies of American soldiers, who are being taken for burial to their native land, at the expense of the American Government. It is calculated that 600 bodies are to be removed to battle areas and the expense averages about $1,000 for each removal.
