Idle ISLAND

Gay smiled at his persistence. "Well, I sent the Captain away. I could see every line of the poor, tired anxious face, and the long fins hand, and the drenched hair. I took my drawing pad, and drew it, line for line. I was going to send it to the police department so they could try to trace him."

"Oh, no, you don't see. Well, I met him on the rocks beyond the Little club one day—he is very nice, so gentle, gentlemanly, sympathetic—so I brought him home, and we had a long talk. He was thinking of buying up part of the island for exploitation, to build and sell, you know, things like that. He is very nice."

"Now, Rand, now is your chance to decide once and for all that I was entirely out of my head—am still, perhaps—But Auntalmiry can swear to part of it, if she will, though she made me promise not to tell. She said folks would think queer of it."

"I was nervous that night—anybody would be at dusk I was all jumpy nerves, hearing sounds, seeing shadows. So I went down and stayed all night with Auntalmiry—Rand, I was in bed, and she raised the blinds on this side of the house, toward the hill, you know, she said, 'Oh you left the lights on.' I didn't, because I went down before dark. There was a light in the window; now it showed, now it faded, pale and misty not bright. And, Rand I swear on my word of honor, that we saw—we both saw—a hand reach out from the darkness into the light, a hand long and slim, like his—And then the light went out, and the hand was gone."

"And this is the strangest thing of all. When I came back the blinds were all down, though I was sure I had left them up. And, Rand, the sketch I had made of the body in the 'cove' was gone."

"Get your hat," he commanded, "get your hat and come with me. You'll have to stay with us. What do you mean, doing such things?"

"You must keep out of the forest, Gay. I don't like that Chink prowling about, and I'm going to find out what he is up to. You keep out of the forest, and keep your doors locked. Keep the Baby in good shape. Don't be afraid to shoot. If you hear a noise grab it and fire into the air."

"It is loaded," she said indignantly. "I always keep it loaded. I know an empty gun is—"

New Annan And Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Marchbank, and family, New Annan, Mrs. Jessie Jardine, and family Wilmot Valley, spent Xmas afternoon and evening with Mrs. John McCall, and family North Bedeque.

Mr. Earle Huestis, Wilmot Valley, made a business trip to New Annan, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Cephas Small, man and family, Mrs. James Arthur Summerside, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Waugh, New Annan, spent Wednesday evening in North Bedeque, guests of Mrs. Thomas Waugh.

Miss Edna Urch, Travellers Rest, was a visitor to Summerside Friday.

Mr. Gordon Huestis, Wilmot Valley spent Thursday evening in North Bedeque.

Misses Marnie and Daisy Mill Clearmont, left Thursday morning for Montague where they intend to visit for a few days.

There seems to be no improvement in the conditions of Miss D. Driscoll daughter of Mr. T. A. Driscoll, Clemont, who has been very ill for some time.

There seems to be a great deal of sickness in this as well as other communities. It is rumored that influenza is prevalent in Summerside. Let us hope none of the cases shall prove fatal and that the epidemic shall be prevented from spreading.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Fred Simmons, Wilmot Valley in the death of her brother the late Mr. Benjamin Simmons who passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dorrach Moase, Freetown. The funeral took place from Mr. Moases residence, Saturday, 29th inst at 2 P. M. and was largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Moase Travellers Rest with their little daughter Miss Alma spent Xmas with Mrs. Moases' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smallman.

In Memoriam

WILFRED McQUAID

A pall of grief was cast over the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McQuaid, Green Bay, on Dec 13th, when they received the sad news by telegram that their son Wilfred had passed away in the Hospital at Lynn Mass. Wilfred had enjoyed good health until about two weeks previous to his demise when he was obliged to give up work and enter the hospital for an operation due to appendicitis.

The operation appeared at first to be successful but later his condition changed for the worse and on the above date, after being consoled by the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church, administered by the Rev. Father Sherlock his soul took its flight from this life to that of Eternity. The remains which were accompanied by his brother, Louis and Mrs. (Louis) McQuaid arrived on the late Borden train on Saturday night were met at North Bedeque station by several teams. On Sunday Dec 16th, the funeral which was very largely attended took place to St. Ann's Church, Lot 65, services being conducted by the pastor, Rev. Leo Herrell. Deceased who had not reached his 24th year, was a young man of good character and will be greatly missed by his relatives and friends. He leaves to mourn besides a sorrowing father and mother five brothers—Louis and Ignatius of Lynn, Mass., who were both present at his bedside when he passed away. Thomas, Alphonsus and Maurice at home. A sister having predeceased him by ten years. The pall-bearers were three brothers and three cousins—Thomas, Louis and Alphonsus McQuaid, Joseph Costello, Maurice Costello and Jerome McQuaid. The following is a list of Mass cards Spiritual offerings etc.

MASS CARDS—Mr. and Mrs. John McQuaid and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis McQuaid, Ignatius McQuaid, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Creamer, Lynn Mass., Lynn McQuaid, Mr. and Mrs. David McQuahey, Lynn Mass., Mr. and Mrs. James McMurrer, Lynn Mr. and Mrs. David Carragher, Henry Huber Lynn, Marnie and Eileen Malone, Winnifred and Margaret Atkins, Charlottetown.

SPRITUAL OFFERINGS—Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Trainor, P. D. Hagan, and Julia, John, Emmett and Matthias Flood.

MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY—Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Creamer, Lynn, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McQuarrie Boston, Mass.
