$200 A MONTH OUT OF GIRLS

MONTREAL, Feb. 24—Another of the traffickers in young girls, who live on the money they get from them and which is made in disreputable houses, was brought before Recorder Dupuis this morning and sentenced to four months hard labor.

The accused, who gave the name of Dexter Wolfe, when arrested last week by constable Garvais, after attempting to kill a young girl with a razor, and who was prevented from carrying out his intentions by the interference of her pet dog, which bit him in the leg as the criminal moved to save his name as Dwight W. Hanson and that he lives at 315 St. Lawrence Street.

Special constables Daoust and Martin arrested him on the charge of vagrancy, and they testified that the reason he tried to take the life of the young girl, was that he wished her to give him some money that she had made in a "house." They said he used to go to the house regularly, twice a day to collect from the inmates, and that he teased the girls till they gave him their earnings.

An idea of the extent of his traffic may be had from the fact that he spent between $150 to $200 a month, and had an income of only $12 a month and no funds to draw on, or work of any kind with which to support himself.

HOME WITH NATURE.

(Written for The Maple Leaf.) Dear Mother Nature, take me to thy home, And let me lean upon thy naked breast, And while I sojourn from the world apart, Weave spells of night to give my spirit rest.

O I am tired, tired! For the brain O'er-reared, shrinks from that which had made in a "house." They said he used to go to the house regularly, twice a day to collect from the inmates, and that he teased the girls till they gave him their earnings.

Let quiet waters ripple thro' my dreams, And with their music sweetly charm away The heart-sick weariness that often comes.

To cloud good fortune when it comes my way, And let thine organ notes of thunder roll, Let rush of waters in majestic strife Teach my imprisoned and unpreaching soul To rise above the petty cares of life.

Oh, charm away the headache and the fret, With tender spells of morn or moonlight calm; And soothe the sense of failure and regret, With mother touches full of healing balm.

Till I receive the strength to face once more My work within the man-made city's strife, With wisdom won from nature's boundless store, To solve the vexing problems of my life.

J. H. FLETCHER, St. Johns, Portland, Oregon.

Yesterday the proprietor of Burke's alleys paid Gordon Waite the sum of $17.90, being the price money he was last week. The prices were as follows: $10.00 for the possible score of 300 points, $5.00 for breaking the alley record of 256 points, and $2.90 for the best score during the week.

In the game here the Crystals scored four goals to the Vic's one in the second half and in Summerside they scored four to the Vic's three, if they play as well in the first half as they have been doing in the second their chances for winning out tomorrow night are good.

Miss Fannie McLeod, Bonshaw, sister of Mrs. Joseph Clarke, City, who has been in the P. E. I. Hospital for the past two weeks for treatment, is now the guest of her sister in this city. She is much improved. Mrs. Clarke has also been ill recently but her friends will be glad to know that she is now on the road to recovery.

William McDonald, Calgary, a native of Orwell Cove, who has been home on a well earned vacation, has left for Georgetown on return ticket. Mr. McDonald has spent six weeks in the west, and his friends and his many friends in this city as well as the locality to which he belongs will wish him every success.

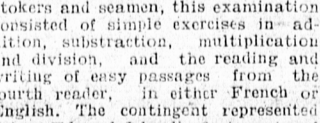

The thaw yesterday, which carried away a good deal of the snow on the city streets, amply demonstrated the value of cutting gutters during the hard weather in preparation for a change to mild weather, in almost all instances where the gutters were prepared the water was carried away readily and crossings, which otherwise would have been impassable, allowed free traffic for pedestrians.

Yesterday afternoon ten boys from this city aged between fifteen and seventeen years left on the afternoon train for Georgetown en route to Halifax where they will join the Canadian Navy and become members of the crew of the Niels. The boys names were: Joseph McIsaac, Russell Locke, atoners, Albert L. Holman, Stephen McKinnon, George McDonald, John Callaghan, Percy Bell, James Gallant, and Louis Coyne, boy seamen, and Herbert McDonald, writer. These chaps all passed the necessary examinations as to health, etc., but have further examinations to pass at the training quarters in Halifax. Each applicant had to give papers certifying to his age, birth, good character, etc., and that he is a Canadian. He was then examined by Capt. Taylor, recruiting officer here, as to his fitness for the position he sought. In the case of stokers and seamen, this examination consisted of simple exercises in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division, and the reading and writing of easy passages from the fourth reader, in either French or English. The contingent represented Prince Edward Island's first quota of young men to enter the Canadian Naval Service and they were given a hearty send-off at the station where quite a large number of friends and relatives, not to mention the curious, were present at the time the train departed. Out of the ten boys who recruited six, those marked with an asterisk, were members of the League of the Cross Society and the League Band was at the station to bid adieu to their comrades on their departure. They rendered several selections appropriate to the occasion, and just previous to the hour of leaving presented to James Gallant, who was a member of the band, a handsome dressing case as a token of their regard for him and an expression of good-wishes for the future.

Yesterday afternoon about fifteen of the inmates of the Roman Catholic Orphanage were treated to an enjoyable sleigh drive around the city in charge of two of the sisters. The party was conveyed in two sleighs and the youngsters were apparently enjoying to the full the jaunt around the city.

A cable message to Messrs Moore & McLeod of this city announces the arrival of S. A. McLeod of that firm in Manchester England. Mr. McLeod is on his spring buying trip among the great wholesale houses and factories of the Old Country, and will probably visit some points in France including Paris before returning to P. E. I.

On Wednesday evening last a number of friends called on the Rev. Daniel McLean, at Watermere, and spent a few pleasant hours in the enjoyment of his kind hospitality. After a pleasant hour enlivened by singing, phonograph selections, etc., the party repaired to the dining-room, where they partook of a well furnished table of dainties, spread by Mrs. McLean in the best style. This not unusual for guests to enjoy the generous hospitality of the host and hostess, and Mr. McLean was not aware that his guests were on any special mission. A pleasant surprise was therefore his when he found himself listening to an address from his congregation of Church Hill, St. Catherine's and Nine Mile Creek. The history of his pastorate of sixteen years among them was briefly reviewed. During that time several churches have been built and the congregation has been greatly strengthened under his ministry. He has always faithfully discharged his duties as pastor to them in conducting services and visiting the sick, and caring for their every spiritual welfare. And peace, harmony, good-will and prosperity prevail in this midst. A strong and increasing attachment binds pastor and people together. In the conclusion of the address hearty good wishes were showered upon Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McLean and family. Accompanying the address was a well-filled purse as a token of the very high esteem and affection of the people for their minister. In reply the reverend gentleman, though taken by surprise, found words of strong feeling to express his gratitude for their appreciation of his services and the indication of their high esteem and good wishes for himself and family.

"Pneumonia"

Pneumonia is nothing more or less than "Lung Fever," or as it used to be called, "Inflammation of the Lungs" and the results come entirely from a local source; such as taking a violent cold.

There is more or less difficulty in breathing; a cough, at first dry, but soon accompanied by raising a thick, sticky, rusty-colored matter, composed of a mixture of phlegm and blood.

There is only one way to prevent Pneumonia, and that is to cure the cold just as soon as it appears. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will do this quickly and effectively.

Mrs. G. W. Bowman, Pattullo, Ont., writes: "Three years ago I caught a cold which ended in a severe attack of Pneumonia. Since that time, at the beginning of each winter, I seem to catch cold very easily. I have been so hoarse that I was unable to speak loud enough to be heard across the room. Last winter, however, a friend advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, saying it had helped her. I bought a bottle and before it was half used I was completely cured. I also find it a good medicine for the children when they have colds."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; the price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
