Entertained in Honor Of Mrs. MacQuarrie

On Friday evening May 8th, Mr. and Mrs. Keir W. Allen, Allendale Farm, Middleton, entertained in honor of Mrs. Allen's mother, Mrs. James MacQuarrie, it being the occasion of her 87th birthday.

The rooms were prettily decorated with mauve and white flowers and the tea table was centered by a beautiful birthday cake. Mrs. Fred MacQuarrie poured tea while Mrs. Keith Affleck and Mrs. Harry Taylor served. About 25 guests were present among those being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doull who recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary, and Mrs. Artimas Wright who will shortly celebrate her 93rd birthday.

Mrs. Harry Taylor read an address and Miss Amy Barwise and Mrs. Keith Affleck presented the gifts, among them being a beautiful bouquet of Bettertine roses from Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Barwise, Charlottetown.

Mrs. MacQuarrie thanked all for the beautiful gifts and good wishes. The evening was pleasantly wiled away with friendly intercourse and music selection. "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" brought a delightful evening to a close. Miss Amy Barwise was organist for the evening.

Prisoner of War In Germany 4 Years Ago

—Four years ago this April, Mr. Hubert Hall of Summerside, now Sheriff of Prince County, was a prisoner of war in Germany. Only four years ago, but sometimes it seems to him like a bad dream. Recently Sheriff Hall received a letter from Germany which brought back to him in a vivid manner some of the hardships and experiences he underwent during those last few weeks before liberation. When the British and American armies were approaching all the prisoners in his camp, numbering between three and four thousand and composed mostly of British and Canadian officers, were marched inland. On this march they slept in the fields and foraged for their own food.

Mr. Hall remembers quite well one night they spent near a little village in the Province of Schleswig-Holstein. Quite close was a house where there were four little children, bright, attractive, blonde youngsters who immediately made friends with the soldiers who gave them some dried prunes they had. Mr. Hall remembers, did not have a very pleasant taste, but the children ate it up. The mother of the children gave what assistance she could, which was not much, to the prisoners, such as supplying hot water. In gratitude for this assistance Sheriff Hall and some of his friends signed a message asking whatever Allied Commander took over the sector to assist this family as they had befriended the prisoners. They also gave the family the addresses back home. Next morning the band of prisoners moved on and shortly after were liberated and came home and the incident became one among so many that had happened during their war experience. A few days ago Mr. Hall received the following letter:

"Dear Mr. Hall: Greetings from four children in Eimendorfer in Germany. I never forget those April days when about 3,000 Canadian and English prisoners were in front of our house. I believe we filled ourselves with dry fruit and chocolate bars. I wish I had saved some for now. I suppose children have all kinds of wishes. My greatest wish is to have a football, but I can't buy one as they are too expensive for me. Our dad returned last year; he was up to that time in Austria, but has no work yet. How did you get back home? They told us that they took all the prisoners back by aircraft. My mother was punished by the German soldiers just because she lent our bicycle to a Canadian prisoner. They took it from us. We were waiting to hear from you ever since you left here, because you promised us that you would write as soon as you were getting home. I am learning English in school now and I hope to write the next letter in English. With greetings from my three little sisters, especially from

"Alfred Dwenger."

The letter was written in German and Mr. Hall had it translated. The important part of the letter is quite definitely about the football which the boys want. Mr. Hall intends to fulfill the request but hopes that he does not, thereby, start a flood of requests from German children to Canadians for footballs.

Coffee, chocolate and tea were among the first products advertised in newspapers.

Pageant Presented At Knutsford

—A splendid pageant appropriate for Mother's Day was presented by the Womans Missionary Society of the Knutsford Baptist Church on May 8th. The pageant was entitled, "Mothers of Men" and depicted the mothers of many famous men in Biblical and secular life. The ladies were all appropriately dressed for the roles they represented. There was special singing by the choir and two special solos. The whole service was impressive and instructive. There was a large congregation and besides the regular offering, there was a special offering taken which amounted to a generous sum.

The devotions were led by Mrs. Earle Jelly and Mrs. Ralph Adams. Mrs. Dan Smallman was the reader in the Pageant. There were beautiful flowers, including a number of memorial flowers. There were two recitations by two of the oldest mothers present, Mrs. Flavilla Howlett, mother of the minister, Rev. C.O. Howlett, who will be ninety-four in August and by Mrs. Costain who is eighty-eight. There were two special solos, one by Mrs. Watson Silliker and one by Lester Gay.

The following are the famous mothers who were represented in the Pageant:

Moses and his mother—Mrs. Albert Smallman and Kathleen Smallman.

Mother of Solomon, Bathsheba—Mrs. (Dr.) George Dewar and David McKinnon.

Mother of Christ, Mary—Mrs. Ed Smallman.

Monica and St. Augustine—Mrs. Jane Smallman and Earl Jelly.

Mother of Martin Luther, Mrs. Margaret Luther—Mrs. Dermot McLean.

Mother of John and Charles Wesley, Mrs. Susannah Wesley—Mrs. Alex McDonald.

Mrs. Bell Washington—Mrs. Ralph Adams and James Smallman.

Nancy Lincoln—Mrs. Nelson Dennis.

Modern Madonna—Miss Lorraine McNeill.

Angel—Miss Verne Stetson.
