

GUARDIAN

BASEBALL
WRESTLING
BOWLING

SPORT

BOXING
BASKETBALL
OTHER SPORT

REVIEW

Boy Scout's Diary Of The Great Jamboree

By Scout Will R. Burnett.

August 31
I rose at 6 o'clock, had a shower, and went back to bed again, getting up in time for breakfast at 8 o'clock. After breakfast, Professor Pugh invested those of us who took the course as Cub masters. I started to prepare to leave by packing my kit. At noon we were passing Milcoast Island, and some doubt was raised about our being able to land at Quebec tonight. Three of us were delegated to approach the captain on the subject, and as we approached the year and trembling, that grave and stern officer, a shout was raised behind us that made my hair stand on end, and increased my nervousness. "It is Spud, Cap, let him out!" "He is Spud, Cap, let him out." The captain, notwithstanding this, was very gracious, but replied that we could reach Quebec too late, and wouldn't get off, so you may imagine our crestfallen we were. However, little after dinner we were told that we had made better progress than anticipated, and could get off, provided everything went as satisfactory. We took an early supper to make sure that that would not keep us back. We came in sight of Quebec at 6.45 p.m., and didn't our hearts rejoice! We were told to prepare to land, while all the contingent were made land, only those for the Maritimes went through the Customs, but they didn't examine our kits (thank goodness). After saying good-bye to our fellow Scouts who had previously agreed to form a Jamboree Club, we were driven in taxis to Levis Ferry, which we crossed only to find that we would have to wait three and a half hours for our train. As the train is limited to Moncton at 10.30 tomorrow (Sunday), and there would be no chance of us getting there that night, Mr. Coombes telephoned the Boy Scout Association here to meet and look after us. He advised us to stick together, and to do our best whatever we planned to do. After he left us on return to the ship, Bob and I pooled our funds, and asked after paying for reservation, to have only a dollar each to provide us with food, etc., till we get home. Of course, I have $3 in postal cards, but nobody is likely to cash them. We bought some sandwiches and fruit for our tomorrow's breakfast, it being cheaper than buying them on the train. The train came at 12.30 a.m., and we were soon on board and in our comfortable beds, not worrying about tomorrow.

Y. Bowling

COMMERCIAL BOWLING LEAGUE

Prowse Bros. defeated Holman's by a large majority in the second game of the Commercial League. This was the first get together of Holman's team who no doubt will give a better account of themselves next week.

Prowse Bros.

F. Smith	141	198	222
F. Adams	208	147	206
A. Henry	219	201	151
W. Whitlock	217	147	212
P. McInnis	134	218	236
	919	911	1027.

Holmans Ltd

L. Proude	139	132	172
J. D. Reid	113	106	119
A. Affleck	133	124	140
H. McCallum	186	178	190
E. D.	115	108	183
	686	648	804

Stanley, Shaw & Pearson

Fred Chandler	130	126	157
W. Vickerson	131	192	157
M. Cameron	132	148	118
G. Chandler	149	147	133
J. Chandler	85	93	77
	627	706	611

Fennell and Chandler

H. Stevenson	129	191	146
F. Diamond	85	93	101
F. Diamond	85	93	101
C. Connolly	125	116	77
E. Callaghan	163	206	150
U. Blanchard	199	173	279
	701	779	753

Majority for Prowse and Chandler

289 pins.

VETERAN HAS CONTRACT FOR NEXT SEASON

Late Miller Huggins Named His Successor Five Years Ago.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The plans of Miller Huggins for the Yankees were so far seeing that the midget manager actually provided as long as five years ago, a course of action to be followed in the event of his own death, which occurred three weeks ago. Jacob Ruppert, commander in chief of the Ruppert Rifles, had such great faith in even the slightest suggestion of his diminutive field marshal, that he faithfully followed Huggins' lead in announcing tonight that Robert Shawkey would be the next manager of the Yankees.

The veteran pitcher and recent coach of pitchers for the Yankees was second choice of the mighty atom to succeed to the managerial mantle. Arthur Fletcher was first in the Huggins' handpicking, but the former Giant infielder, and Philadelphia manager, told Col. Ruppert he would prefer to remain in his present capacity, a coach of the Yankees.

The appointment of Shawkey was a surprise to baseball circles. It was recalled, however, that both Huggins and Ruppert had always thought highly of Shawkey's abilities, both on the field and in the dug-out, and that the late manager welcomed the former pitcher back into the fold as coach last spring after Bob had finished his active career in Montreal.

Shawkey signed a contract for one year before departing some days since for a hunting camp in Quebec, where he now is with a party of friends. He will return to New York on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week to begin rebuilding the Yankees or more properly to carry on Miller Huggins' rebuilding plans with which he doubtless was familiar.

LIVE SPORT JOTTINGS

The sun has been generally supposed to shine for all men alike, but Hack Wilson evidently doesn't think so.

Walter Cox is the leading money-winning driver of the Grand Circuit, and Walter Deer, his star three-year-old, leads the trotters.

With the word from New York that Babe Ruth will not manage the Yankees in 1930, comes the word that Eddie Collins is satisfied with his present berth as Connie Mack's right hand man.

Bob Seymour (2.05 1/4) the pacer with which Norman Myer won several junior free-for-alls on the Maine and New Brunswick Circuit, was not only a winner, but a double-winner at Danbury, Conn., fair.

Conny Smith landed a player he has been sweet on and anxious to get for the Toronto Maple Leafs, when he closed the deal for Gordon Brydson, a Toronto boy who played for Chicago Cardinals in the American League and later with Hamilton and Buffalo.

"Derby Day" Bill Clymer has been offered a new contract to remain as pilot of the Buffalo Club of the International League. He will be given a free hand to rebuild the Bisons for 1930, if he wants to remain with the Herd. Clymer is one of the best known figures in minor league baseball.

The Hambletonian Stake was worth more in its initial year than since. First raced in 1926 and won by Guy McKinney it was worth $75,451, the following year when Leola's Worthy won its value was $54,691, last year when Spencer won, it was worth $66,226 and this year its value was slightly in excess of $60,000. It is the richest classic harness sport has ever known.

Johnny Dobbs, whose Birmingham ball team won the Dixie Series from Dallas, champions of the Dixie League used to be an outfielder for the Brooklyn Club when they were known as the Dodgers—considerably more than 20 years ago. Birmingham's win was the first inter-league season will be brought to a final, boom.

The Fun Makers Of Sport

A little humor with their sports is relished by the best of fans. Witness the popularity of those athletes who are forever injecting a bit of comedy into otherwise serious competition.

Now there's Johnny Dundee, the "Old Man River" of the prize ring. With twenty years of ring service behind him, during which time he squared off with ten world champions and incidentally corralled two titles for himself—he featherweight and junior lightweight—the ancient "Scotch Wop" is still tossing his hat in the ring. And he has lost none of his box-office lure. For the fans still love to see Johnny bewilder his opponents with his famous and amusing rope stunts. Dundee, past thirty-six, plans to go on and on, just like "Old Man River" himself.

Then we have the redoubtable Rabbit Maranville of the Braves, baseball's greatest shortstop, whose clowning on the field has long amused fans of the "big time" circuit. All through his sixteen years in the big show Maranville has never failed to inject at least one humorous stunt into each day's play. Whether his club was up near the top fighting for leadership or down in the ruck, the Rabbit just had to have his clowning. The boys are still talking about the Rabbit's famous "huddle" which he pulled in St. Louis recently. A decision, palpably incorrect, had been given against the Braves. Maranville and the rest of the Boston game gathered in the pitcher's box and gave voice to their feelings. Inspired, the Rabbit placed the ball on the ground and ordered all the boys into a huddle. They assumed the favorite pose of a college eleven figuring out a difficult play and held it for about a minute. Then at a signal from Maranville every player hurried to resume his respective position, to the amusement of the fans. It is little, unexpected by-play like this that has made the Rabbit one of the most popular players in baseball.

Another sport funster who never fails to give his watchers a laugh, is Joe Kirkwood, the Australian golf wizard. Acknowledged the greatest trick-shot artist in the history of golf, Kirkwood has the faculty of combining humor with marvelous technique. His conception of a tyro's first crack at a golf ball, done in slow motion with a mammoth driver and a mammoth tee some six inches in height, is really the funniest thing in seven states. And when accompanied by Joe's clever patter it is a riot.

World's Sprint Records Broken

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 18.—Elder-ache, German sprinter, won the 100-metre dash in an international track and field meet between Germany and Japan here today in 10.3-10 seconds, claiming a new world record. A second world record was claimed by Miss Kinuye Hitomi, who won the women's 100 metres in 12 seconds flat.

The present recognized world's record for 100 metres is 10.4 seconds set by Charles Padock, the American speedster in 1921. The woman's mark on the books is 12.2, jointly held by Miss Hitomi and Miss Elizabeth Robinson of Chicago.

168 holes-in-one have already been registered by the golfers of Canada—man, women, boys and girls; so the indications are that the total will eventually go over the 200 mark. The stunt has been reported from every province and every city and town of importance. The firms giving prizes to the one-shooters as a result have been quite hard hit, nothing, however, in comparison with the United States, where over 2,000 such performances have been recorded up to date.

The list includes: L. W. Peters, Saint John, N. B.; W. B. Cleveland, Saint John, N. B.; R. S. Fitzrandolph, Fredericton, N. B.; and W. W. Murray, Halifax, N. S.

Because of the new law in Yugoslavia exempting new buildings from taxation for several years, large cities nearly a month to go before the 1929 of that country are having building

To Battle For Trophy

Queen Square and West Kent school footballers will meet in the first game of a series to decide the winners of the MacMillan trophy on Wednesday next. The Queen Square team has been rounding into shape under the efficient instruction of E. J. H. Morrissey, the West Kent boys have been faithfully coached by Lou Campbell. Both teams are in fine fettle and keenly contested games are expected. The trophy was donated by James (Toby) MacMillan, Supt. of the Charlottetown water works, Dr. Cyrus MacMillan, director of English at McGill; L. B. MacMillan, deputy minister of highways for P. E. I. and Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, of this city. In 1927 the trophy was won by Queen Square and in 1928 by West Kent. The outcome of the series this season is being awaited with a great deal of interest by Charlottetown fans.

Eleven thousand children sang patriotic songs to greet the Queen Mother of Holland at Amsterdam to celebrate the jubilee of her first visit there as a bride.

168 Golfers Make Holes In One

FOUR MARITIME PLAYERS ARE INCLUDED IN LIST

TORONTO, Oct. 18.—With still nearly a month to go before the 1929 of that country are having building

Opening Game Island League This Afternoon

Large Attendance Expected At Abegweit—St. Dunstan Fixture, The First Of A Series For Football Title.

One of the most spectacular football games in years is promised when the Abegweits and St. Dunstan's clash at 3.30 this afternoon in the opening game of the series for the provincial senior football championship. Those who saw the exhibition game played between those teams two weeks ago will be able to form some conception of what this afternoon's game may bring after the intervening practices of the two squads. The Abbies have developed their team into a dangerous and smooth running fighting machine and S. D. U. you know the Saints. Several changes have been made in the lineups with the view of bettering the play. It is sincerely hoped that a large gathering of fans will be out to see the game thus evidencing their interest in no unmistakable manner.

Following is the Abegweit lineup: Full—O'Neill. Quarters.—Power Saunders, Gormley, Larier. Halves.—Partridge, McMillan, Ryan. Forwards.—Connolly, N. McLeod, Scantlebury, Ayers, Woolner, Shaw, B. Tanton. Spares.—C. Tanton, B. Blaquiere

GETTING READY FOR HOCKEY

ST. JOHN, Oct. 17.—The Saint John hockey team will begin training for their winter's campaign within the next ten days it was announced yesterday. Although several weeks will elapse before the team can hope for ice, they will be put through a stiff course of gymnasium work to improve the wind, harden the muscles, and remove any trace of extra weight which may have accumulated during the summer.

The personnel of the team for the coming winter is now pretty definitely known, and is about the same as intimated by hockey officials earlier in the month. Percy Armstrong, Trojan rugby star, has been added to the ranks of possibilities for a regular berth. All last year's men are on hand with the addition of Chick Keating, Newcastle; Estabrook, Amherst; Nick-Neil, Fredericton; Jack Bourque, Port Elgin, and Norman Cole, Moncton.

In addition to the new men the squad so far as is known will consist of: Wilson, goal; Ferguson and Bartlett, defense; Jack Keating, centre; Clark and Thomson, wings; Mountain, Kiley and McDonald, subs.

CAMPBELLTON STORY.

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., Oct. 17.—Former members of the Campbellton Tiger hockey team, runners-up in the northern section during 1928-1929, will again appear in the gold and black uniforms this season with the support of several new players taken from the intermediate and senior school ranks of last year. According to Manager A. A. Gillis, Bob Sharpe, doughty defence man of two years ago, will again line up with his old team-mates, although it is said his position would be on either wing. Sam Allanach, sensational goalie, who made his debut in fast company last winter, will again don the padded armor.

Capt. Pete MacLean, it is expected will once more pilot the team from right defence, having his old stand-by R. Duff, at his left.

The forwards will be: G. Trites, speedy North Shore centre, and Jack Howard and Sharpe the flanks. The subs will be on hand a plenty and are such as will considerably bolster the regulars when required. R. Dickie, last year's centre flash, who relieved Trites on several occasions, will appear on the regular roster, as will names of Don Sharpe, 1929 captain of the senior school team which won the provincial honors that year.

Ted Smith, J. Mager and L. Belliveau will complete the list. It will be a complete Campbellton squad and one that augurs stiff hockey to all comers. The annual meeting of the northern section N. B. hockey executive is set for November, when the question of Dalhousie's entry will be finally settled.

London is banning street noises.

Mexico City has 30,000 unemployed.

Japan has decided to continue its gold embargo indefinitely.

Stray dogs being admitted to humane society dog homes in London have diminished by 7,000 a year in the last four years.

Mayor Houde
Of Montreal, said the other day: "I do not lay claim to a great deal of education, but what I have I owe to the fact that my father, who died when I was 13, left an insurance policy, half of which he directed was to be used for my further schooling."
Plan now for your children.

The Maritime Life
HEAD OFFICE HALIFAX, CAN.
I. W. BENTLEY, Manager for Prince Edward Island

WEAK MEN
AND ALL DISEASES OF MEN
TAKE OUR HERBAL REMEDIES
Pamphlet on Loss of Manhood and Disorders of Men and Boyhood on file of Women with advice in plain envelope, free by mail. Remedies by Mail our specialty.
ENGLISH HERBAL DISPENSARY, LTD.
1589 Davis St., Vancouver, B. C.
Canada's Only Qualified Herbalists

HICKEY & NICHOLSON
"BLACK TWIST" CHEWING

The favour's there to stay—grown in, cured in, kept in—when you ask for

It's the Burley Leaf, the cure and the care that keeps the bite down, the favour up when you ask for