Bishop Travels 6,000 Miles To Visit One Post
Rt. Rev. A. Turquetil Returning From Trip To Pond's Inlet, Northernmost Mission For Canadian Eskimos.

CHURCHILL, Man., Oct. 11.—(C. P.)—Completing a journey of 6,000 miles undertaken to visit one lonely Eskimo mission in the far north, Rt. Rev. A. Turquetil is on his way "home" to Churchill, headquarters of his far flung territory. The "Bishop of the Arctic" had visited all his outposts except Pond's Inlet during the early summer by means of a small Peterhead motorboat, "Theresa," and to go to Pond's Inlet he boarded the Hudson Bay Company steamer "Nascope" which is now at St. John's, Newfoundland, after three months of ploughing through hazardous northern waters. Leaving St. John's with others of the ship's company of traders, Royal Canadian Mounted Police Officers, scientists, newspapermen, missionaries and adventurers, the Bishop crossed to North Sydney on a regular steamer and went to Quebec by train to attend a general meeting of all Canadian bishops under the presidency of the new Cardinal Villeneuve. Soon he will be home directing the work of his diocese, which covers an area of about a million and a half square miles. His mission posts are at Esquimaux Point, Chesterfield Inlet, Parker's Lake, Southampton Island, Rupert's Bay, Pond's Inlet and Ijulik. The Pond's Inlet station is the northernmost mission for Canadian Eskimos. Bishop Turquetil was born in France in 1876, came to Canada in 1900 and was stationed among the Chipewyan Indians for 12 years. In 1912 he went to Chesterfield and opened the first mission for the Eskimos on the west shore of Hudson's Bay. In 1924 he was sent to Rome to attend the Vatican Exposition for Foreign Missions and came back as Prefect Apostolic of Hudson's Bay. This meant that the church entrusted him with the duty of developing Eskimo missions. For the territory of 1,500,000 square miles he had only two men of the Oblates to start the work. Seven years later he had 12 men. Five new missions had been opened, a large hospital had been built at Chesterfield Inlet, and four Grey Nuns of Nicolet were attending sick Eskimos. During the winter of 1931-32, owing to a severe epidemic, up to 38 patients were admitted to the hospital at the same time, and many lives were spared. Rt. Rev. A. Turquetil was consecrated bishop at a ceremony in Montreal in February, 1932. This was official recognition from the church for his work. Since then two new missions have opened and a 40-ton schooner purchased for freighting coal and sundry supplies from Churchill to the mission ports. This craft was formerly registered at St. John's as the Bridget and Freeman and has been re-named Plus XI, registered in Canada. She sailed from Halifax last July, went to Churchill via Chesterfield Inlet, made two trips northward and is now again at Churchill, where she is being hauled up for the winter.

Smyth-Murphy Nuptials
The following from the Toronto Star of Oct. 4th will be of interest to many friends here made while Rev. T. W. Murphy was rector of St. Paul's Church in this city. An interesting marriage was solemnized this afternoon in All Saints Church, when Kathleen Ethel Murphy, R.N., elder daughter of the Rev. T. W. and Mrs. Murphy became the bride of Rev. Benjamin Pinkerton Smyth, L.Th. the recent appointee to the Parish of Innisfil, and son of Mr. Thomas Smyth and the late Mrs. Smyth. The bride's father officiated assisted by Bishop Owen, with Mr. Clements Garton at the organ. During the service the full choir sang "O, God of Bethel," and at the signing of the register, "Summer Suns Are Glowing." Autumn flowers decorated the church for the occasion. The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. J. G. Murphy of Hamilton, wore her wedding gown of ivory satin, made on princess lines, and trimmed with lace. She wore an heirloom veil of Honiton lace which had been worn by her grandmother, Mrs. N. W. Hoyles, and by her mother. The veil fell over her face as she entered the church, caught to the head with orange blossoms. She carried a white prayerbook, the gift of Archbishop Sweeney, and a shower bouquet of butterfly roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Marjorie Murphy attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing brown transparent velvet made in princess style with matching turban. Miss Alison Craigie was bridesmaid in a similar gown of wine-colored transparent velvet. Both carried arm bouquets of autumn

Seven Killed In Airplane Crash
New York To Chicago Air Liner Explodes And Crashes To Ground

(Associated Press)
CHESSTERFIELD, Ind., Oct. 11.—Seven persons were reported killed last night when a transport aeroplane crashed in flames onto the James Smiley farm, five miles southeast of here. Deputy sheriffs reported five bodies were removed from the plane and that at least two others were trapped in the smouldering wreckage. Witnesses on the Smiley Farm said the crash apparently was preceded by an explosion. They heard the drone of a transport plane, they said, and went to the window to watch it. A blinding flash occurred they said, and the ship crashed to the ground. The ship was destroyed by the flames and its identity could not be immediately established here. At Chicago offices of the United Airlines, however, it was announced the Company's regular transport plane enroute from New York to that city was missing. The United plane was due at 8.55 p. m., Oct. 8, and carried a pilot, co-pilot, stewardess, and four passengers. Witnesses said all in the plane were apparently trapped and that flames prevented rescue attempts. present unemployment situation," continued Beatty, "but I am satisfied that the kind of immigration now being discussed, involving settlement upon lands of men who would be adequately supported, is a problem which demands serious consideration. "It must not be forgotten that no intensive flow of immigrants is expected or desired, that even the most moderate of policies will require a year or more to become effective and that any plans made in 1934 will not be operative until at least a year later."

Beatty On Immigration
(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Canada has nothing to fear from the "steady immigration of a relatively small number of people per annum under conditions of land settlement which will be carefully worked out for their benefit and for the country's protection," said E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway commenting tonight on his recent trip through Western Canada. Plans now under study foresee "moderate, controlled and financially supported" immigration, continued Beatty. The problem of immigration, unfortunately, was "confused in the minds of many with unemployment and crop failures." The great importance of the problem was not being overlooked, however, "by those who realize that there is no real connection between unemployment and the establishment on the land of those who will from the beginning be self-sustaining and therefore not a charge to the community. "I think I would be one of the last in Canada to recommend anything which would accentuate our

INCREASED ACTIVITY IN COAL INDUSTRY

Sir Alfred Cope, British Coal Magnate, Favors Regulating Distribution of Coal.

(Canadian Press)
QUEBEC, Oct. 11.—Sir Alfred Cope, owner of extensive coal mines in Wales, is in favor of regulating distribution of coal. When his attention was drawn to reports of increased activity in the industry in Nova Scotia he said: "It is a jolly good thing because it indicates the whole industry and, with it, industry in general is picking up."
Sir Alfred, who is here to testify for the defence in the prosecution of 11 coal companies charged with forming a combine, did not think, however, the revival in Nova Scotia is likely to affect the market in Canada for coal from Great Britain.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "the chief trouble—having regard to world conditions—seems to be that we have all gone ahead producing as much as we could without taking markets into account."
The British coal magnate said the industry was in the same position as grain and favored the regulation of its distribution.

The 36-year-old English woman who married Harry D. Macintosh after the Great War is charged with stabbing her husband to death in a quarrel at their home in the early morning of May 31. INVESTIGATE OPERATIONS OF COAL ASS'N.

Six Companies Face Charge of Forming Combine to Raise Prices.

(Canadian Press)
QUEBEC, Oct. 10.—Operations of the Montreal Coal Association, the object of which was to "protect the trade and eliminate harmful practices," were described today by its Secretary, Charles Petry, when trial began in Superior Court of six coal companies charged with forming a combine to raise prices of Welsh anthracite.

Petry On Stand
Petry was on the stand all through today's session. The six companies against which indictments were read were Canadian Import Company, Canadian Import Company, Limited, St. Lawrence Stevedoring Company, British Coal Corporation and two F. P. Weaver companies. Five other companies, similarly charged, will face trial at conclusion of the present hearing. The Association Petry stated, had about 70 members. Information in regard to the industry collected by the Association was sent to all the dealers, members of the association. He had with him, the Secretary said, a rather complete list of people in Montreal who were in arrears in their coal bills.

Record of Meeting

A meeting of the association on May 1, 1929, was discussed. Louis St. Laurent, K.C., asked Petry about a record of the meeting at which it was agreed there would be a reduction of 50 cents per ton in the price of Welsh coal quoted to civic institutions, hospitals and government. The witness replied the record was correct. Discussion of "referees" followed. Witnesses stated the association appointed referees to inquire into actions of dealers who received coal on credit. It was desirable to know if they were turning the coal immediately into cash without paying the wholesaler. The referees were also to see dealers who did not sell coal too cheaply. The hearing continues tomorrow.

CAN CURE CRIPPLES SAYS SURGEON

Italian Surgeon Demonstrates Procedure in Restoring Cripples to Normalcy.

(Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—An Italian surgeon told the American College of Surgeons tonight that cripples could be stretched to normalcy easily by a new process. The new procedure, said Prof. Vittorio Putti of Bologna, makes it possible to lengthen deformed legs with much success. The instruments used are bone breaker weights and piano wire.

Reports Results
Prof. Putti has been able to lengthen legs as much as three inches, he said, and believed the work could be attempted safely on almost all children and many adults. Prof. Putti showed movies of five cases and reported the results of 11. One of the first surgeons to perform bone grafting, when he was in charge of rehabilitating Italy's war soldiers, the Italian first used his bone stretching methods to repair a common deformity of childhood, congenital deformity of the hip. He used it also, he explained, to lengthen legs which had shortened after fractures.

His procedure differed from that generally used, in that it relied on the growth of new bone. Surgeons frequently add length by mechanical devices, the most common being the insertion of metal pins. Putti breaks the leg obliquely, inserts piano wire in the bone, to hold the two ends in line, and pulls the lower end out with weights at the thin fracture openings and gives the leg its normal length. The job takes 20 days, or about the time necessary to heal an ordinary fracture.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. ALEXANDER CAMERON
On September 6th, calmly and peacefully, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert McWilliams, 171 Water Street, another veteran and worthy citizen, Mr. Alexander Cameron, formerly of Springfield, Lot 61, passed out of the shadow land into the rest of the life everlasting.

He had been in failing health for two years but at times under skillful medical treatment and tender nursing manifested improvement and continued vitality. At length, however, his physical powers of resistance gave out and finally the end came to a useful and energetic life at the age of eighty-six. It is true we are ever reminded by the facts of experience and also from the events that are happening around us from day to day that this fleeting world is not intended for our permanent abode. A man of sterling character and splendid qualities, a kind and loving husband and father very much devoted to his family, has come to the end of his toil and labour here and has gone to engage in the duties that await the faithful in the courts above and to receive the "Well done" from his Lord whom he served so faithfully while here. His wife, Mrs. Flora Salmond, predeceased him nearly two years ago and he leaves to mourn two daughters and five sons, namely, Mrs. Robert McWilliams, Mrs. Percy Down, John E., Angus and William of this city, Donald of Moncton and Alexander of Sackville, N. B.; also thirty-six grandchildren and three great grand children. A large assemblage gathered for the funeral services which were conducted by Rev. Dr. Ramsay. The hymns sung were "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The pall bearers were six of his grandsons, Lester, Robert, Edison and Ralph Cameron and Edward and Robert Down. Many tributes were received:—Pillow—The family. Wreaths—Mr. and Mrs. E. McWilliams; Mechanical Department, Canadian National Railways; Local Moulders Union, No. 140, Sackville, N. B. Sprays—Donald and Susie Cameron and family; Mr. and Mrs. John Leightizer, Angus McKenzie, Dorothy Nickerson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Trainor, Misses Taylor. Cards of Sympathy—Mrs. James Cullen and family; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCausland. 1759.
