EASTERN STAR CONCERT GOES OVER WITH A BANG

Capacity Audience Greet Local and Island Cast in Great Production - Stars And City League Officials Grateful for Wonderful Patronage.

One of the most successful concerts ever held in the city was staged last evening at the Strand Theatre. Somebody asked what it was all about—it was the Eastern Star Grand Variety Concert, or should we say grand benefit concert, and most nobly was the attendance, in fact the number of those turning out was not only a compliment to the artists performing, but a fitting tribute to the City League Baseball. Upwards of twelve hundred enthusiastic fans applauded and endorsed the different numbers offered and long before the final curtain dropped the consensus of opinion was "we had a real good time, and the money invested was well spent."

The stars are grateful to the following young ladies who generously and effectively conducted the sale of candy which practically covered the expenses of the house, all to Mr. C. J. Callagher for co-operation given during the preliminary arrangements also for services rendered. The Misses: Corilla Donovan, Alberta Gorman, Bertie Lawler, Ada Ward, Mary Dowling, Ethel McCabe, Alma Ward, Helen Walker.

ROTORSHIP SAILS INTO NEW YORK HARBOR

(Canadian Press) NEW YORK, N. Y., May 10.—A strange craft neither sailing vessel nor motorship but a combination of both came into New York Harbor Sunday and evoked as much curiosity from the latter day Manhattanites as did Henry Hudson's Half Moon from the Indians, 300 years ago. It was the world's first rotorship, the Baden-Baden of Hamburg. Flying the flag of the new German Republic, she came up the harbor on wind power alone at a nine knot clip while tug and shipping tooted and ferry boat passengers stared. The six hundred ton ship with its two huge rotor towers revolving at an average of 85 revolutions a minute was carrying a cargo of building stone. It completed an experimental trip of 6,200 miles in 38 days.

NO SIGNS OF PEACE AP- PARENT AS 2ND WEEK OF GREAT STRUGGLE BEGINS

Increased Use of Military Forces Weakening the Morale of the Strikers - Food Supplies Moved by Means of Military Convoys - Transport Situation Continues to Improve - Gov't Has Commandeered All Supplies of Newsprint Not in the Hands of Publishers.

(Canadian Press) LONDON, May 10.—Great Britain entered the second week of the general strike with peace apparently as far off as ever and with the Government making increased use of military forces to assure the food supply.

The strikers' newspaper denounced this use of troops as "ridiculous and unnecessary," and said it was done "to create the belief that the strike had reached violent revolutionary aims."

The Government in a statement at noon today said the introduction of the military convoys insured ample food supplies for London. The military demonstrations of the last few days, it was asserted, have disheartened the Trades Union Congress, and have created the deepest impression among the population of London's "dock land."

Permits to Handle Foodstuffs Withdrawn

The Trades Union Congress announced that permits issued to union members to assist in the distribution of foodstuffs have been withdrawn. This action was taken in view of the confusion caused by the union offer which was made to Premier Baldwin but which, it was stated "had not been answered."

Gov't Strengthens Its Position

LONDON, May 10.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill today in the House of Commons stated that it had become necessary, owing to the shortage of newsprint, to commandeer paper provisionally for the British Gazette. This embargo would affect Labor's organ, the British Worker as well as many other papers.

Strikers Not Enthusiastic

All reports from the north, according to the government, show that the bulk of the trade unionists except the miners, are "not enthusiastic" about the strike, while in London and South England there is a growing confidence among the population that the government has the situation well in hand.

Sensational Announcement

One of the sensations of the day was the announcement in Parliament by Winston Churchill that the Government had commandeered all supplies of newsprint in the hands of publishers to assure continued issuance of the Government's newspaper, the British Gazette.

No Shortage of Food

LONDON, May 10.—British can hardly have as long as cargoes continue to arrive in the great ports. The government has given assurances that the food supplies in Great Britain are adequate for many weeks and troops have re-opened the Victoria docks so that the food which arrives there is assured of distribution.
