STRANGE COINCIDENCE

(Canadian Press)
WINDSOR, N. S., Oct. 24.—Ten years ago William Brown walked from Falmouth to Windsor, drew some money from a local bank, started for home and disappeared. Down through the years no word of his fate came to relatives here. Yesterday Edmund Barkhouse was loosening material for road construction when he uncovered the skull and bones of a human being in a gravel pit dug at Centre Burlington.

Nova Scotia police, who have taken charge of the bones have expressed the belief that there may be a connection between the two incidents. They recall also that a half grown youth had disappeared a few years ago but had nothing definite to announce.

VALUABLE RUM FIND

GLACE BAY, N. S. Oct. 24.—A commonplace cellar in an upper main street yard yielded 350, 3-gallon jars of rum last night after a search of several hours by five Nova Scotia police officers and a customs preventive officer.

Unemployment Is Serious

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 24.—"Something must be done," or unemployment may drive famished masses to precipitate this winter in Montreal a situation that would be "highly unpleasant," Mayor Camillien Houde stated today.

He was talking to bankers, manufacturers and commercial leaders who, together with representatives of charitable organizations and labor officials, had accepted the City's invitation to meet a committee of aldermen, authors of a proposal that the 6-hour day and 50 cents an hour pay, instead of the current 10-hour day and 40 cents an hour, be authorized for labourers working for the city and on city contracts, commencing January 1, 1932.

Something must be found for the jobless or the situation might become serious. "Get together" was his advice to capital and labor.

Workers and donations arrived from all parts of the city and the products would be a credit to the proudest housewife. STEEL OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTER

(Canadian Press)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Belief in slow but sure revival of business throughout the United States was the keynote sounded today at the annual fall meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

While leaders of the industry, headed by Charles M. Schwab, President of the Institute, did not attempt to gloss over or evade the fact that the country has been in the throes of a "real depression" they were generally of the opinion that the worst had been seen and that there were now indications of a betterment all along the line.

Speakers believed President Hoover's credit corporation has generally strengthened the hand of business and although the steel industry was admittedly "in the dumps" just at present, the outlook was not viewed as discouraging.

Sentiment was "a little better", Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel, told the meeting, with some consumers already taking more interest in their steel.

MORE BANDITS PLEAD GUILTY IN HALIFAX OF SABOTAGE

(Canadian Press)
HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 24.—Their caps drawn down over their eyes, and the collars of their topcoats thrown up to shield their faces, two would-be bandits entered the grocery store operated by Max Jakin on Blower Street and attempted to make off with the contents of the cash register. But they did not get very far. Jakin chased one man on the jaw, and clouted the other three blocks on Grafton St.

Twenty minutes later, detectives had Willie "Kid" Ferguson, a local boxer, locked up on a charge of attempted robbery.

Ferguson was identified by Jakin as the man he had struck; the other man is still at large.

"I thought they were only fooling at first," Mr. Jakin told the police. They asked for money, and threatened me as if they had a gun so I knew they meant business."

KING CHARGED WITH TREASON

MADRID, Oct. 24 (A.P.)—The responsibilities committee of the National Assembly decided today to accuse former King Alfonso of "high treason" against the Spanish state on the ground that he fostered the dictatorship of the late General Primo De Rivera. Other high officials of the dictatorship will be similarly accused.

The committee expects to confer with President Besteiro of the Assembly in a few days to elect a date on which to read the accusations before the deputies. The charges include recommendations that the assembly act as a trial tribunal and render a vote.

Big Canning Boom Hits Alberta

(The Canadian Press)
EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 24.—The Journal says editorially:—The old quip "sell all you can and what you can't" has been adopted anew by housewives all over Alberta. Local wholesale houses confirm this by their records of increased sales of glass jars and rubber rings. The former show an increase of 10 per cent; the latter 100 per cent.

One wholesale man on a recent visit north, was taken into the basement of a home in Fairview. The proud housewife displayed 700 jars of venison, wild fruit and vegetables, canned and stored against the long winter months.

Alberta is not alone in its revival of an old home industry. Glass factories and wholesale houses in Eastern Canada and in the United States report a largely increased demand for fruit jars. The distributor of a glass company in one Ohio city reports that the call for such jars is ten times greater than at any time since 1920. In that and adjoining states there has been an incentive even greater than in Alberta. Fruit has been sold at absurdly low prices. In Northern Carolina housewives have been able to buy peaches for as little as 10 cents a bushel.

POWNAL

The Young People of the Alexandra Baptist Church have re-organized their Society for the winter's work, Miss Mary MacLennan, who so capably filled the office of President last year has again been elected. Miss Evelyn Wood is the efficient Secretary, while Mr. Frank Wood handles the cash. On Monday evening, October 19th, the members of this Society were royally entertained at the Parsonage, Hazelbrook, by the Young People of that place. Needless to say everyone enjoyed themselves.

On Friday evening, the 16th, a number from Pownal attended a jolly masquerade at the parsonage. Many interesting and humorous costumes were worn.

On Sunday evening, Oct. 18th, the beautiful white church, which stands amid the rustling leaves in the happy little village of Pownal was thronged to the doors with a congregation of eager, attentive listeners, as the Rev. George Tilly expounded to them the Scriptures from the words "Take no thought for the morrow." Mrs. Beatrice Judson presided at the organ in her usual efficient manner. The Sunday School Orchestra rendered two beautiful selections. The solo of the evening was given by Mr. M. MacKinnon.

The many friends of Mr. Tilly were glad of an opportunity to see and hear him once again. Though not as robust in health, yet his old time vigor and vivacity manifested itself throughout the service. The echoes of his message and the affectionate warm hand-clasp still linger.

CLEAN FURNACE PIPES TO GET RID OF MOTHS

Moths are household insects general to most of Canada which cause serious losses to clothing. They are naturally hard to get rid of, but investigations carried out recently in British Columbia proved conclusively that one of the most important breeding places for the moth in the average Canadian home has been seriously overlooked.

In the home equipped with the hot air furnace in particular and also where pipes run horizontally it has been found that lint, fluff and dust gather, forming a breed place. The entomologist who conducted the specific investigation as to the cause of this accumulation attributes it to the "careless maids" and "lazy husbands" who when sweeping a room, particularly one heavily carpeted, he alleges, frequently sweep dust and lint into a cold air grate to save the trouble of picking it up.

Careful examination discloses the presence of moth larvae and other evidences of the presence of moth larvae of many generations of moths. Experiments also show that after being thoroughly cleaned and assembled fluff would accumulate in hot air furnace piping in from three to four months to an extent which will provide a new breeding place and a feeding place for moths. To get completely rid of moths in an infested house it is necessary not only thoroughly to sterilize and clean all possible material, but also to be equally careful in thoroughly cleaning out the furnace piping.—Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

The Bride Had Something Borrowed Something Old

(The Canadian Press)
LONDON, Oct. 24.—Possibly not many of the modern brides have the good fortune to possess that something old or something borrowed, as had Miss Lillian Mallett, who was married to Mr. Henry Draycott of this city. Miss Mallett wore a court dress lent by a friend, which had been worn by the wife of a German ambassador to England when she was presented at Queen Victoria's court, during the last century. The dress is of cream spotted net over taffeta, with high waistline and long full-skirted skirt, which forms a short train. The décolletage is in an off the shoulder effect, to which filled sleeves are attached in elbow length. The bride wore with the dress a Juliet cap of pearls, banded with orange blossoms, and to which the long tulle veil was fastened.

ONTARIO TOBACCO ON THE BRITISH MARKET

The Ontario Bulletin, published at the London office of the Ontario Government, states that Ontario tobacco has now made a very important advance in the British market. This is owing to the fact that the well known firm of Godfrey Phillips Ltd., of London, has recently introduced to the retail tobacco trade a distinct brand of Ontario tobacco, known as Canadian Club. This tobacco is now on sale and is put up in one ounce tins at 11d, and in two ounce tins costing 1s. 9d. There are five different kinds—namely, Navy Cut, Curley Cut, Dark Fine Cut, Mixture and Flake. The Bulletin adds that as regards quality, price and attractive packing, Canadian Club tobacco is expected to win wide popularity in competition with other brands.

In introducing it to British smokers, the manufacturers have sent out a label which says: "Canadian Club tobaccos are manufactured from pure Canadian leaf from the Province of Ontario, whence comes leaf tobacco identical in its quality and with flavor and texture equal to that of the finest Virginia Ontario is not far distant from this world famous state. These tobaccos offer the unique opportunity to support the Empire without any sacrifice of taste and quality, with a distinct advantage to the purse."

Redrafting Of Court Decisions Acts May Follow

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 24.—Redrafting of sections of the Insurance Act of Canada and the special War Revenue Act may meet the decision of the Privy Council handed down in London today on the Dominion Insurance Act. This is the opinion held tonight by law officers of the government.

The reasons for judgment of their Lordships holding as invalid present sections of the Dominion Legislation dealing with the licensing of companies, penalties for non licensing and taxing certain premiums will be carefully perused by legal officials when they are received within the next ten days. An official announcement of the action to be taken will follow. If, as expected, the existing sections in question are redrafted the legislation will be placed before Parliament early next session.

INCREASE IN CANADA'S POPULATION IS URGED

(Canadian Press)
HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 24.—An increase in population was advocated last night by Beaudry Leman, Montreal, President of the Canadian Bankers' Association, as a solution for Canada's present economic troubles. Addressing the Canadian Club here, he declared that new settlers would create a greater demand and would stimulate trade through increased orders.

He spoke optimistically of Canada's chance to emerge successfully from the depression.

"We in Canada must grid our joints, be sane and face our problems. We must pull together over this tough piece of road in the full knowledge that there is enjoyable scenery beyond," he declared.

GREAT WORK FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD

(The Canadian Press)
TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 24.—The Campaign committees who will put forth every effort and still fall short of their objectives will envy the Emergency Conservation Committee formed last month by the Local Council of Women. These women were organized and expressed the modest hope that they would fill 20,000 jars with fruits and vegetables which would otherwise have gone to waste. And on Thanksgiving Day the Committee, under Mrs. A. M. Huestis, was able
