

After all, a whole lot of rich men are saving human barnacles—their kinsmen—from professional bobolinks; the trick is to put them in a position for which they have about as much chance as a tabby cat has for a frasco with a Bengal tiger.

Be assured that if the ghosts of the present now will throw their phantom shadows on the gilt and tinsel of the coming years; the happy visions of this day are to be ruined, maybe, by the winding trail of ruthless and relentless memories.

RETURNING PASTOR IS WARMLY WELCOMED

Columbus Day Celebration, Coinciding With The Return Of Rev. Mgr. McDonald To City, Is Made The Occasion Of Memorable Event At St. Dunstan's Basilica.

An enthusiastic welcome awaited Rev. Monsignor Maurice McDonald, beloved rector of St. Dunstan's Basilica, on his return to Charlottetown last evening after undergoing several weeks' treatment in the Blessed Sacrament Hospital, Quebec, following serious injuries received in an automobile accident here on June 11th, last. Monsignor McDonald, who appeared in excellent health, having quite recovered from the effects of the accident, was met on arrival of the Borden train at 6.30 by a large and representative number of citizens, and was escorted to the Basilica by the League of the Cross Band and the Knights of Columbus, where an address of welcome was read and a presentation made, to which the recipient feelingly replied.

McDonald, Rector of Saint Dunstan's Basilica:
After an illness which occasioned our gravest alarm, you have returned to us again, restored to health, and on this happy occasion, the parishioners of the Parish of Charlottetown wish to extend to their devoted and much beloved Pastor their congratulations on his recovery and to give expression to those feelings of joy and thanksgiving by which they are universally animated.

The occasion last evening was in the nature of a double celebration, yesterday being Columbus Day.

When we recall the general and profound sorrow first excited by the news of the terrible accident which overtook you and your fellow sufferers, and the weeks of uneasiness, uncertainty and dread which followed, our joy in this your restoration to us is all the more intense.

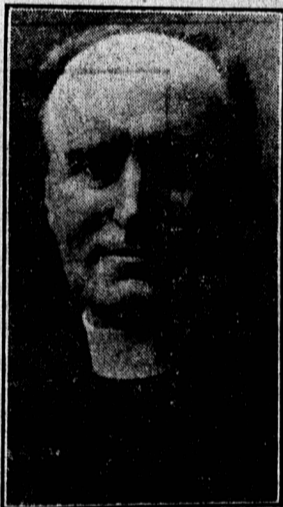

Always, during the long months which numbered your illness and your absence, our thoughts have been of you, our anxiety for you, and our prayers centered on your behalf; and now we like to think that your wonderful recovery is owing, in some

EAST WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 17.—The curfew bell was rung here at 9 o'clock tonight for the first time in the history of the community. SAID GOODBY TO TORONTO

(Special to The Guardian)
TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 17.—At five minutes after midnight, J. Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain, left Toronto for Ottawa on a special train over the Canadian National Railways, composed of ten all steel cars. Mr. MacDonald himself occupied the "Bonaventure," formerly used by Sir Henry Thornton, the other members of the party being scattered throughout the train. Less than one fifth the capacity of the train was required for the accommodation of those travelling with Mr. MacDonald. Locomotive 5285 furnished for the occasion, drew the train out of the Toronto yards with the smoothness of silk thread unwinding from a spool.

There was no formal leave taking. Mr. MacDonald left Government House about ten thirty, saying goodbye to the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Ross. He was escorted by the same cordon of police officers who had guarded his movements during the day.

At the Union Station the passageway to the train was lined by Can-

"We recommend that they use more precaution in the discharge of firearms in the future."

(Special to The Guardian)
TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 17.—Four Toronto brokers stand to lose approximately $20,000 in the sensational crash on the International Exchange yesterday of Minnesota Mine shares, which slid from a peak of 92 cents a share to five cents a share in less than ten hours trading.

As a result of the collapse of this stock, the four stock brokers concerned have sworn out a warrant for the arrest of J. Goetz of New York, charging him under the criminal code with obtaining credit under false pretences. Goetz left some time between Tuesday night and yesterday morning by automobile for New York, several hours before the warrant was issued, it was learned.

RED CROSS CLINIC FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Concluded This Week, And Was The Most Successful Yet Held In This City.

Wednesday afternoon brought to a conclusion the most successful Red Cross Clinic for Crippled Children that has yet been held in this city. Dr. T. B. Acker of Halifax, the brilliant orthopedic surgeon, arrived by the Hochelaga on Thursday, Oct. 10, and within an hour after arrival was in the Operating Room at the City Hospital, where he performed two difficult operations and afterwards saw several cases.

Friday was the big day of the Clinic. From 9 a. m. till 11.30 at night, case after case was examined by Dr. Acker at the Red Cross rooms, until nearly 50 cases were dealt with, all getting the best advice after careful and exhaustive examination.

On Saturday Dr. Acker was in the operating room of the City Hospital from 9.30 to 3 o'clock and then he operated at the P. E. I. Hospital, and on Monday he spent the same time in the operating room of the Prince Edward Island Hospital. He performed several delicate operations besides the various manipulations and treatment for different deformities before the application of plaster casts.

Thanks to the wonderful plans of Miss Mona Wilson, Superintendent of Red Cross Nurses, everything went like clock work and about 100 patients were benefited by this splendid clinic. Dr. Acker was greatly pleased with the splendid co-operation given him by both Hospitals, the great assistance of the medical profession and the willingness of the parents to do their part in carrying Closing Session Maritime B. Of T.

Conference Of Senators And Business Men To Be Held In Charlottetown—Haste Urged In Construction Of Docks And Steamer For Improved Ferry Service From Borden To Tormentine.

(Canadian Press)

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Oct. 17.—C. H. Read, of Amherst, was elected President of the Maritime Board of Trade for the ensuing year at the closing session of the Board's annual meeting today. Vice Presidents are: C. H. Wright, of Halifax; C. H. Blakeney of Moncton, and C. R. Rogers, of Summerside. The executive includes D. R. Turnbull, J. A. Young and J. S. Smiley, for Nova Scotia; R. E. Murch and S. R. Burke for Prince Edward Island and Fred Magee and A. D. Ganong, for New Brunswick.

Safeguarding of the Maritime steel and coal industries and the question of Maritime equity in land concessions, occupied the Maritime Board of Trade annual meeting at its closing session today. The coal and steel industry was not a sectional, but a national question, and Mayor M. F. Dwyer, of Sydney Mines, supporting four resolutions, reaffirming the Board's stand for Federal action on public aid for coking plants using Canadian coal. A two dollar a year round rate for coal, from Nova Scotia to central Canada, upward revision of customs' tariff on primary steel products and a fifty cent per ton bonus on coal mined in Canada for metallurgical purposes, fifteen million shells had been turned out in Nova Scotia in wartime said Mayor Dwyer. The Nova Scotia plants were the only producers of steel in Canada that were completely British, in that all the materials used in processing were products of the Empire. If the United States ever went to war with any nation, the products on which Canadian plants were coming to depend, would be shut off within twenty-four hours. He urged the building up of an entirely Canadian steel industry.

We want the opportunity to grow up with the rest of Canada, said D. R. Cameron of Glace Bay. He quoted figures showing the growth of central Canadian towns and cities during the war.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 17.—"Just as the Maritimes are willing to give to the West its land, the West is willing to give to the Maritimes their money."—Col. J. H. Woods, President of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

It will take more than a polite request with a choral accompaniment of "Canada west and on guard for thee," before the contract of Confederation, with respect to transportation will be fully implemented.—A. P. Patterson, Chairman of the Maritime Transportation Commission.

"Why not extend to the Maritime coal industry the principle of national co-operative assistance that has already been extended to the grain growers of the west?"—F. M. Scanders, Honorary Secretary, Maritimes Board of Trade.

"We would do well not to emphasize our legal rights under the Confederation contract, so much as our rights of equity as members of a federation."—Dr. S. F. Munroe, Superintendent of Education for Nova Scotia.

"We ourselves are to blame for the neglect of our rights under Confederation. It is not a question of grievance, it is a question of right."—Col. Thomas Cantley, M. P. New Glasgow.
