THE COVERED WAGON.—Patrons coming out of the Prince Edward Hotel these evenings are greatly impressed with the large panoramic view which appears directly over the vestibule entrance. The view which is 15 ft. long and 6 ft. deep depicts with wonderful effect the "Covered Wagon" now being shown to crowded houses. The buffalo hunt by white men, the long wagon train winding its way across the prairies and the many striking effects appropriate to the setting, all make the impression a lasting one. The work was done by Mr. Milton Whitlock, Prince Edward Hotel artist.

Report of Conviction of committees on State of Order as received and adopted by G. D.

Report of Committee on State of Order

(1) We your committee on the State of the Order after having examined the several reports, feel that while the membership of our order has not increased to any great extent, that yet we have no reason to be discouraged.

We must not forget that we at present are passing through trying days for all temperance organizations, and yet, in the face of this fact we are at least, as our Grand Worthy has expressed it, "holding our own."

While some of our subordinate divisions have lost some members by suspension, others have made gains, so that we must keep up our courage and press on to still greater achievements in the future.

We are glad to note that our finances are in a good healthy condition and this too should help us keep up our courage and add to our zeal.

(2) We would like to reiterate the concise remarks of the last session of our Grand Division; and also referred to by our Grand Worthy Patriarch in his report today—that we should have an organization in the field who could spend, if not all, at least part of his time, carrying on the work of organizing new divisions, reconstituting old divisions, Bands of Hope and other work of a similar kind.

(3) We would here pause to note, with a great deal of satisfaction and joy, the fact of the splendid victory achieved of late by the temperance forces of Ontario, and it gives us who are residents of country districts especial satisfaction and joy to note that the victory was largely due to the stand taken by the people in the smaller towns, villages and country districts.

(4) In reading the report of the Grand Worthy we cannot fail to notice that he is surely affected with what we might call over-modesty in other words his extreme modesty regarding his ability to carry on the work of his office.

We would like the G. W. P. to realize that we have appreciated the splendid work that he has done during the past year. Three divisions have been re-organized during his term in office. While others no doubt have contributed to it, we must not forget that years has any other Grand Worthy Patriarch had such good results to show during his term of office.

We hope that in the days to come we will be able to do even better work than we have done in the past.

(5) As members of one of the leading Temperance organizations in our province we feel at the present time we must be especially active lest, by the lowering of the

The candidates have been nominated for the by-election in West Hastings, Ont. E. G. Gus Porter, who has held the seat for 22 years in the Conservative, and Charles Hanna the Liberal standard bearer.

Polling will take place on Tuesday, November 25. Both parties as usual profess confidence of victory. The contest is a spirited and exciting one the result of which will be awaited with more than ordinary interest among the politicians.

EMBARRASSING MOMENT Miss V, a charming young miss of eighteen, living in a nearby city, relates the following experience embarrassing but no doubt not entirely devoid of pleasure.

"Last winter I had the pleasure of attending a box supper at a little schoolhouse in the country, and since there would be no fun at a box supper without a box, a friend and I took a double box. There happened to be a young man there who reminded me very much of a friend of mine, but who was a stranger to me. I had noticed him several times and was secretly wishing he might get my lunch. Nearly all of the boxes were sold before ours but at last it was sold.

"I was so anxious to know whom our partners were to be and the woman sitting by us pointed them out to us. As it happened this young man that I had noticed was one of them. 'How nice,' I exclaimed. 'I have had that man spotted all evening.'

"Oh, you have," she said emphatically. "Why, that's my husband."
