

At zero Centigrade, crude rubber loses its elasticity and softness and becomes rigid and inelastic. When heated to 100 or 120 Centigrade, it gets soft, viscid and inelastic.

We had a secret chemical process fifty years ago—it's a better one now, of course—as near perfect as can be—actual experience proves that.

It gives a toughness and pliability to the rubber that makes it outwear any other brand.

Rev. Edwin Smith delivered his lecture on From Ocean to Ocean in Market Hall last evening, and despite the disagreeable weather there was a good attendance. This lecture has been previously delivered in other parts of the Province and already reported in these columns. Those in Summerside who were present last evening and witnessed the magnificent views of the great west and other parts of Canada, particularly the wonderful scenes in the Rockies, and listened to the graphic and entertaining description of our enormous and illimitable country, must have been highly pleased and will add to the encomiums expressed elsewhere by those privileged to have heard, though this well informed and pleasing speaker, such a vivid and edifying discourse on some of the chief points of interest in the grandest country on earth. A vote of thanks moved by W. S. Bearisto and seconded by Sheriff Wright was tendered Mr. Smith.

No Man or Woman Can Have Dyspepsia

And Still Be Agreeable, Attractive and Popular—A Certain Cure in Reach of All.

There is nothing that will put you to the front so rapidly in the business or social world as a cheerful disposition and a pleasant appearance. Other things being equal people will go out of their way to give the fellow a lift who always wears a cheerful countenance. The man or woman with a cranky disposition and a sour face will always meet with an indifferent if not a chilly reception. The commercial traveler, who is the recognized business barometer, appreciates better than any one the value of this rule and governs his actions accordingly.

Dyspepsia destroys all the agreeable qualities that enter into a man or woman's make-up. It is almost a human impossibility for anyone with a severe case of dyspepsia to look pleasant. The continuous, miserable, cast-down feeling is bound to make itself shown in the appearance and conversation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the sufferer's certain cure. They are so recognized all over the world. The cures they have brought about and the happiness they have caused and the suffering they have relieved has made their name a household word in all the English-speaking world. The reason that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure is that they are a natural cure. There is nothing to prevent them curing. They contain the essential ingredients of the digestive fluids of the stomach and simply do the identical work of the stomach, relieving that weakened organ and permitting it to rest and recuperate. Could anything be more simple or natural? They are bound to cure. They cannot help themselves. It is just like putting a new stomach into a man—if that were possible—and letting the old one go off on a vacation. Rest is what it needs. Nature will do her own work of restoration, never fear.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cts. a box. All druggists means all druggists. They have become so necessary to the people that the druggist simply has to keep them anyway. There are other remedies that he can make much more money on if he could sell them, but he can't. He will not take chances on losing his customers by not always having on hand a supply of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

INSURANCE LOSSES BALTIMORE FIRE

The Montreal office of the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company has just received advice that the company's loss will be $1,000,000 by the Baltimore conflagration.

The head office in London cables to draw for losses and pay all claims without delay.—Montreal Star Feb. 11.

It must be satisfactory to the policy holders in North British and Mercantile to know that they have a company capable of responding to its greatest losses promptly. Messrs. Hyndman & Co. are the Agents in this Province of above.

SCRAWNY PEOPLE.
People grow thin, scrawny, pale and weak when the blood is thin and watery. What is needed to round off the angles and fill out the form, is not fat but healthy muscular tissue. By enriching the blood and increasing its nourishing qualities Dr. Chase's Nerve Food adds new flesh and tissue to the body as well as new vigor and energy. You can prove this by noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure.

There is a SOMETHING about VIM TEA that is to be found in no other tea," said a Saint John lady to a grocer the other day. She did not know exactly what or how to describe the difference, only there was a "something" VIM TEA had that other teas lacked. That something was a little more QUALITY.
