REPEATER AT MONCTON.—Long distant telephone service in this province and Nova Scotia will be improved shortly when a new repeater is installed at Moncton. The installation of the repeater will obviate the necessity of relaying messages at great distances. For the United States service a repeater has been installed at Bangor and conversations are carried on now with ease from St. John, Moncton and points south as far as the southern states. This week Moncton talked with Pittsburg without difficulty. Half fax will be able to do the same when the Moncton apparatus is in position. The repeater will be the first of the kind installed in the maritime provinces says a St. John Exchange.

THE SHORT COURSE.—The Truro Citizen says: The attendance at the short course this year, as might be expected, was somewhat smaller than in previous years, numbering 157 students. In this enrollment all but three counties in N. S. were represented, these being Shelburne, Lunenburg and Yarmouth. The latter two were represented in one or more of the other organizations. There were six students from N. B. and four from P. E. I. The attendance from Colchester was large. When we add those who attend the other meetings, the total runs up to about 400, nearly all of whom took one or more classes at the college in addition to the business of the organization they were attending. No other institution in Canada has had so continuous a record of large attendance at short courses as the N. S. A. C., and while this year's attendance as anticipated, was somewhat below the average.

MEMORIAL WINDOW.—His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught will shortly place a beautiful window in St. Bartholomew's church, Ottawa, in memory of the officers of his staff who made the supreme sacrifice in the war: Colonel Rivers Buckley, Colonel Farquhar, Colonel Buller, Major Long Captain Newton and Lord John Hamilton.

RECOGNITION FOR LOCAL FIRM.—The March, Number of the Canadian Fisherman contains two excellent half-tone portraits showing the interior of the Charlottetown Fish Supply Co and says "that for the sanitary handling of fish and the general attractiveness of display this company has been awarded the Canada Food Board's certificate of commendation".

LANTERN LECTURE APPRECIATED.—The people of Craupaud and Springfield listened with much interest and pleasure to the Rev. Mr. Colclough a night or two ago as he gave his lecture on the Diocese of Athabaska and other parts of the great North West territory. As a speaker Mr. Colclough is very ready and on both nights, in these districts, he had a large and appreciative audience. In describing conditions he has an advantage over others, in that he knows, and has seen the thing of which he speaks, having spent some years amongst the people, and seeing the change that took place, during that period, his lecture becomes full of interest. In both places quite a few expressed their appreciation privately while others did so publicly.

HOLMAN'S SPRING CATALOG.—This paper acknowledges with thanks a copy of the Spring issue of Holman's Catalog. The cover of this catalog represents the return of Canada's soldiers from overseas and artistically pictures the patriotic sentiments of Canadians. The artwork, engraving, typography and general appearance of this book truly establishes it as a masterpiece of publicity and is a credit to R. T. Holman Limited, as well as any who had anything to do with its production. To say that this catalog will be heartily received and appreciated by Maritime people is stating a foregone conclusion. Perhaps the most important feature of its attractiveness is its low prices—a comparison of this catalog with any other catalog will be truly a revelation to the person making the comparison. To commence with there is no more staple line to compare than furniture, and in this Holman's prices out-ri-val any other catalog. The same thing applies to the majority of lines in the catalog including footwear, dry goods, groceries, hardware, etc., are offered by Holman's at lower prices than any Canadian catalog.
